from the shippers and traveling public at first, but when the seriousness of the situation finally becomes impressed on the minds of all it is expected that things will settle down to a basis of putting up with the situation and doing the best possible under the circumstances.

"SOWERS AND REAPERS."

"Sowers and Reapers" at the Symphony, harks back to the dark ages of the screen, when melodrama reaped with unabated fury. Emmy Wehlen, as the "rooned" factory girl is the storm center, of course. She has a child, a boy, and later when she has become a great screen star she brings him into the presence of his father, who, however, does not register the faintest curiosity in his offspring! (Nice child, too; no excuse for his neglect.)

There is a factory fire, in which Emmy's bosom friend, carrying the incriminating letters, is caught. The apparently were written on scented paper, as they were not burned, though the young woman herself is expressly described as being entirely consumed. Then the story is made twice as bad by the heroine writing a story recounting her own sorrows—which we have just seen—and showing the tale on the screen at a Red Cross benefit.

Poor stuff, not worthy the Mack mark.

Dandelion Wine Had "Kick."

[Fargo Courier-News:] Armed with a can of benzine, matches and an internal supply of dandelion wine, Sidney Seagrave threatened to cause no little excitement the other day, when he attempted to set fire to his home. Mrs. Seagrave prevented her husband from carrying out his rash plan, until the arrival of police officials. After spending several hours in jail he regained his normal powers and credited his rampage to an over-supply of the dandelion wine.

TERRIFIC LOSSES.

Masses of Germans Mowed Down.

Maintain Positions Against All Attacks of the Invaders.

Many Driven from Strongest Trenches in the Region of Moronvilliers.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE FRENCH FRONT, May 21.—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press.) While the Germans were throwing masses of men against the French lines along the Chemin-des-Dames only to suffer defeat with heavy losses, the French last night delivered an attack in the Moronvilliers section and drove the Germans from some of their strongest positions. The French plans were carefully conceived and executed without a hitch. Their objective was not difficult; a hilly range covered with deep caverns afforded shelter for hundreds of men and machine guns, but the French infantry scaled the heights of Casque and Cornillet, respectively, 758 and 754 feet high, and carried them with a rush, while other columns captured the trenches lining the northern slope of Mt. Carrailliet.

As a result of these operations the French are commanding ground to their left. The value placed upon the possession of these hills is shown by the violence of the German counter-attacks, in the course of which morning, which everywhere broke down. They left more than 800 prisoners in the hands of the French, while hundreds of bodies of Germans strew the ground and lie in the cavernous shelters.

THE FRENCH REPORT.

PARIS, May 21, 10:31 p.m.—The War Office statement tonight reads:

"The day was comparatively calm. The artillery actions were intermittent over the greater part of the front except in Champagne, where the enemy violently bombarded the positions we occupied yesterday in the region south of Monorvilliers. There was no infantry action.

"On the night of May 19-20, our airplanes dropped 2200 kilos of explosives on railroad station and bivouacs in the region of Epoye and Bethenivillle. On May 20 the aviation ground at Habsheim and bivouacs at Pont-Faverger and Bethenivillle were likewise bombarded with numerous projectiles.

"The same day two German airplanes were brought down by our pilots and a third by the fire of our special guns. Three other enemy machines were compelled to make a landing, having been seriously damaged."

BELGIAN COMMUNICATION.

"Yesterday at the end of the afternoon violent bomb fighting took place in the region of Dixmude. Today the artillery activity was comparatively slight."

Eastern theater: "May 20. An intermittent artillery action occurred along the whole front. The enemy attempted in vain five times on the night of May 19-20 to capture a post occupied by the Serbians in their latest attacks."

GERMAN REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, May 21 (via London) 10:25 p.m.—The evening official communication issued by the War Office says:

"In the morning English attacks at Bullecourt and French local attacks southwest of Nauroy, in Champagne, failed.

"Throughout the day there were artillery duels of varying intensity on several sectors of the Arras, Aisne and Champagne fronts, and also on the eastern bank of the Meuse."

LABORITES VS. DRAFT.

Objection is Raised in Canada.

"Conscription Only if the Dominion is Menaced," Their Slogan.

Many Ramifications to the Plot in Texas Against the Enforced Service.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—J. C. Walters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, who returned from Washington today, asserted that organized labor in Canada will continue to oppose conscription unless Premier Borden can convince its leaders that the Dominion faces destruction. James Simpson of Toronto, its vice-president, held the same view. Both men asserted they will hold Sir Robert to his statement of a year ago that he was opposed to conscription, and that if only Canada was in danger would such a measure be enforced. The labor delegates, it is understood, will be asked to record its opinion on conscription before the bill is passed.

THE PLOT IN TEXAS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) May 21.—A conspiracy against the government of gigantic magnitude, exceeding anything that has ever come to light in the Southwest is alleged by Federal officials to be behind the arrest of eight men in Snyder Friday, upon indictments returned by the Federal grand jury at San Angelo, charging conspiracy to oppose the forces of the United States by forcing resistance to conscription. Twelve men were arrested Saturday at Rotan, not yet indicted, and about fifteen others are said to be in jail at Snyder.

The men are all alleged to be leaders in an organization going under the name of the Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association of America, the ostensible purposes of which were to bring about co-operation among the farmers and laborers to reduce the cost of living, to establish plans for co-operative marketing, etc.

RITUAL.

The very first item in the ritual of the organization, according to information given the officers, is the obligation by which the members bound themselves under penalty of death not to reveal the secrets of the organization. The symbols of the order were a whip, a dirk and a pistol. The significance of these symbols was given different ways by different witnesses, it is said, some of them claiming they referred, in the order named, to the penalties that would be inflicted on those members failing to keep the obligations. Others held the whip referred to the "slavery" which has been the lot of the man who works with his hands, "throughout the ages," and the dirk and pistol represented the means by which he was to obtain his "freedom."

Under the public representations for the purposes of the order many men in and around Snyder were induced to join. Too many, in fact, for the good of the alleged conspirators, for it was through patriotic men who refused to regard the obligation after they had become members that the first reports of the organization came to the officials. Just how much of a foothold the organization had obtained is problematical. It is known attempts to organize a number of lodges in the vicinity of Snyder were made, and it was reported also that attempts had been made in another section of the State.

MEMBERSHIP.

Furthermore, the members in Snyder are reported to have made statements to prospective members that the organization had 200,000 members in Texas and Oklahoma, while still others are said to have claimed only 15,000 in the same territory.

Officers incline to the opinion that both figures represented the real membership multiplied many times over.

After a prospective member had been induced to take the obligation and many are reported to have balked on the severe penalty contained in that for such a peaceable-seeming organization, they would be told the real purpose of the organization was to resist conscription. How they planned to do that, as the officers gathered the evidence, is best told by the charges in the indictments. They are:

"(1.) To oppose by force the raising of an army by the United States by conscription or otherwise.

"(2.) To forcibly take from duly authorized peace officers or military officers of the United States any of the said conspirators who might be conscripted or otherwise be enlisted or called in any branch of the United States service.

"(3.) To destroy property of the United States for the purpose of preventing enrollment or enlistment of men in the army or other branches of the national service.

"(4.) To assault and kill duly authorized officers and agents of the United States.

"(5.) Obligated themselves to vote as jurors to acquit any of the said conspirators charged with violating the laws of the United States, regardless of the guilt or innocence of the man accused.

"(6.) Threatening to kill or do

Political Miracle.

GAELIC CONSTITUTION IS BRITAIN'S PROMISE.

Convention of the People to be Called to Frame the Organic Law.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 21, 11:55 pm.—For the first time in modern history the destinies of Ireland are to be placed in the hands of Irishmen alone. The British Prime Minister, David Lloyd George, anounced to the House of Commons today that the government will call a convention of Irishmen to frame a constitution for Ireland and if Irishmen are able to agree upon any scheme for the administration of their country, will attempt to enact it into legislation without delay. All sections, parties, creeds and factions, with clergymen and laymen, as well as politicians, and even revolutionists of the Sinn Fein Society, will be invited to get together.

MIRACLE.

If this final attempt succeeds a political miracle will have been achieved. There is no great optimism apparent respecting the success of the plan, for Ulster stands where she has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Nationalists, predicted the same old deadlock, declaring that Ulster would not be driven into a home rule parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Ulster counties.

But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greater island isn't "the oppressor" of much of its force, and it is pointed out that Ireland can hardly be haled before the European peace conference as another Poland, while America and the colonies can no longer reproach Great Britain with having neglected to set her own house in order.

Both houses of Parliament discussed Ireland today, with hardly a ripple of the old animosities and feuds disturbing their harmony.

PRESCRIPTION.

"The patient must administer to himself," said Mr. Lloyd George, and a noteworthy feature of the discussion was an agreement that politicians must play a secondary part to the men from other walks of life. The Premier specified the Nationalist factions, of which John Redmond and William O'Brien are the leaders, the Ulster Unionists, the Southern Unionists and the Sinn Feiners as the political bodies which should be represented in the convention, but said that the government considered it most important that representatives of local governing boards, the churches, trades unions and commercial educational interests should participate.

Mr. Redmond agreed in this policy, and the veteran homeruler even offered to remove himself in the interests of harmony.

But the house refused to accept this offer. Even Lord Lansdowne, who has been charged by some with the wreckage of Mr. Lloyd George's previous work of reconciliation, told the lords that the road to home rule had traveled too far for turning back, and referred to the importance of facilitating the task of "those who are our friends in America."

The conception of the convention for all Ireland finds its inspiration in the making of the Union of South Africa after the Boer war, when the British and the Africanders, whose enmity then certainly equalled that of the Irish factions, were able to thresh out a constitution.

CHAIRMAN.

For the position of chairman of the convention, a colonial might wield strong influence for harmony, and Baron Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company, who was born in the United States of Irish parents, is mentioned as also are ex-Premier Asquith and Lord Donoughmore, who have special talents for a position requiring large parliamentary experience and much diplomacy.

It is expected that the selections for the membership of the convention will be made within a week.

The session will be behind closed doors, for which the Premier cited as precedents the framing of the constitutions of the United States, Canada and the union of South Africa. But the exclusion of reporters, when John Redmond, Sir Edward Carson and William O'Brien, with their followers and possibly some of the leaders of last year's revolution and Catholic priests with Presbyterian and Church of Ireland clergymen, are assembled as a deliberative body under the same roof, will draw the curtain before the most remarkable political drama in Irish annals.

GENESIS.

Premier Lloyd George stated today that the chairman of the proposed Irish convention will be nominated by the crown.

"If a substantial agreement is reached regarding the character and scope of the constitution framed by the convention," said the Premier, "the government will take the necessary steps to enable the imperial Parliament to give legislative effect therein. The convention will be held with closed doors."

The convention, said the Premier, would be representative of the local governing bodies, the churches, the trade unions and commercial and educational interests, and would include Sinn Feiners. The delegates would be chosen by the respective bodies. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, speaking after the Premier had made his announcement, said that for the first time in her history Ireland has been asked virtually to settle a problem for herself.

"I take it for granted," he added, "that all sections of Irishmen feel it their duty to come in."

Mr. Lloyd George said there was one thing, that, owing to the failure of all attempts to arrive at a settlement that the proposals had emanated from a British government. The present government therefore had decided to invite Irishmen themselves to put forward their proposals. Hitherto Great Britian had undertaken all the criticism. Once Irishmen were confronted with the problem they would give due weight to the obstacles and difficulties. The government proposed Ireland should try her own hand at framing a plan. This method, he said, had succeeded in Canada, Australia, and South Africa, and he could not help thinking that what had been accomplished there could be achieved in Ireland.

The government therefore proposed to summon immediately on behalf of the crown a convention of Irishmen in Ireland to submit to the British government and Parliament a constitution for the government of Ireland within the empire. The convention must be representative of all classes and interests in Ireland, including the Sinn Feiners. It had been suggested that the chairman should be nominated by the crown.

The parties which entered the convention, Mr. Lloyd George said further, would be pledged to go conciliation, but every man who entered would be pledged to do his best to settle the controversy. No proposal would be committed to any scheme. If a substantial agreement should be reached as to the character and scope of the constitution to be framed for the future government of Ireland within the empire the government should accept the responsibility for taking the necessary steps to make it possible to give legislative effort to the conclusions of the convention.

With respect to finances, the Premier thought perhaps he ought to safeguard the treasury. Irishmen might become unanimous and go to the Chancellor of the Exchequer when it was a case of making a demand on the Imperial Exchequer. He could not imagine Great Britain acting niggardly, but the British treasury must have a word to say on the subject. He could only promise on behalf of the government that, should the convention come to an agreement, the government would not forget that restitution and reparation began at home.

Mr. Lloyd George hoped sincerely, and believed, the convention was going to have a reasonable chance of success.

There would be a good deal of discussion as to the basis of representation with respect to the bodies who should be nominated, but on this there would be no undue delay. The government had been considering that point and hoped to come to a definite decision in a very short time.

He was sure that the feeling of the House would be general in the desire that the convention should solve the problem which had baffled the ingenuity and, he might say, the good will of so many ministeries for generations. He entreated the House to believe that nothing but special war considerations would have induced the government to take up the settlement of so thorny a problem in the midst of a great war.

"But," he added, "when engaged in a life-and-death struggle we do not want a festering sore on our hands.

"Evidence has accumulated from many questions as to the importance from the war point of view of getting the controversy settled in order to win the good will and co-operation of the Irish race throughout the world. Irishmen have a passionate love of liberty; we want it ranged on the side of the Allies in this world struggle for freedom, instead of having it torn by conflicting appeals.

"As the fight proceeded, we realized more and more that we should need all our strength to win a triumph worthy of the sacrifices we were making. The support of Ireland as a whole is essential to victory. For that reason I appeal to Irishmen of all sections, and especially the patriotic spirit of Ulster, to help that feeling."

Discussing the Irish proposal in the House of Lords, Lord Lansdowne said:

"We have traveled too far on the road to home rule to turn

DYNAMITE SAVES CITY

Fire in Atlanta is Checked.

Hundreds of Homes Destroyed in the Metropolis of Georgia.

Flames Controlled After Loss of Three Millions had been Incurred.

ATLANTA (Ga.) May 21.—Hundreds of houses were destroyed, thousands made homeless and property damaged to an estimated extent of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 by fire that started here this afternoon in an obscure negro section. So far as could be learned, the only life lost was that of a woman who died from the shock.

The flames are under control tonight. They were checked halfway through the exclusive Ponce de Leon avenue residence section after a wide path had been dynamited by the firemen.

The fire was confined to the northeastern part of the city and the only business houses burned were several warehouses.

A high wind carried the flames northeastward with a speed which soon outran the efforts of the fire department. Within an hour after the first alarm the blaze began to assume the proportions of a conflagration and fire officials called in several hundred men from the Fort McPherson officers training camp to aid in the fight. Appeals for help also brought fire equipment from a half-dozen neighboring cities.

DRAMATIC STRUGGLE.

The dramatic struggle with the flames reached a climax at nightfall, when the fire fighters made a stand at Boulevard place, and began dynamiting a wide area to protect the Ponce de Leon section. The effort was only partially successful, and an hour later the dynamiters began their work over again two blocks beyond the avenue. A lull in the wind favored their work and tonight they were about holding their own, though many still feared that before morning the flames again would gain headway and burn their way through to the edge of the city.

The thousands of homeless were being cared for tonight by a citizen's committee and by the Atlanta Red Cross chapter. Most of them were quartered in public buildings. Many minor injuries were reported, but officials said there had been few persons badly hurt.

The fire started in a storage-house on Decatur street and swept unobstructed into the better residence sections. A large part of the devastation, however, was in neighborhoods composed largely of homes ranging in value from $2500 to $6000.

THE START.

The blaze started in the Skinner Storage Company's plant, which is almost surrounded by small frame houses.

Tonight for blocks on all sides of the area of destruction household goods were piled in every open place. These were guarded in most cases by National Guardsmen.

The presence of the soldiers directing traffic, guarding household goods and keeping people from the danger zone gave the appearance of martial law. As far as had been reported tonight good order was maintained.

The fire had swept only a few blocks before relief measures were undertaken by the Red Cross and the Associated Charities, who joined forces.

Food was provided at the Armory for 5000 people. Army trucks, express wagons, and private automobiles were pressed into service to handle the foodstuffs, the relief workers announcing they were "going to feed everybody who is hungry."

Some of the most serious losses were in the section where dynamite was used in scores of pretty homes in a comparatively new district of the city being blown up.

Aided by wide Ponce de Leon avenue and the slowly dying wind, soldiers, firemen and private citizens blew up whole blocks of houses. Now and then a home on the north side of the avenue would catch fire, but for almost two hours these outbreaks were stopped. Then the flames gained a foothold across the street, swept on a block to Vedo Way and late tonight were moving slowly on in a northeasterly direction.

Mayor Candler issued a statement tonight saying outside offers of help would be unnecessary.

MEAT IN PARIS DOLLAR A POUND.

PARIS, May 21, 2:30 p.m.—With the inauguration of the regime of two meatless days a week, beef went to $1 a pound today and vegetables and fish followed the upward tendency.

The rush for meat supplies to carry over until Wednesday swamped the butchers, although they had laid in extra amounts. There was a good deal of crowding and some sharp talk was heard against rich buyers who paid any price the dealers asked, sending quotations too high for modest purses.

SWEDISH RESENTMENT AT GERMAN SINKINGS RISING TO WAR RAGE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

STOCKHOLM (via London) May 22.—Even those persons in Sweden who heretofore have regarded the submarine campaign with indiffrence or even apologetic eyes are beginning now to see the consequences have been brought sharply home to Sweden and to realize the true nature of Germany's defiance of civilization.

The comments of the press of the whole kingdom, with unimportant exceptions, are couched in a similar vein to comments already quoted from the Stockholm papers, and indignation is not lessened by the German Minister's expression of regret to the Foreign Office or by the apparently semiofficial explanation published in the Aftonbladet, in which the German apologist terms torpedoing of the Swedish vessels "purely accidental."

This view of the case is emphatically repudiated by the director of the Transatlantic company of Gothenburg, owner of the Viken and Aspen.

A bitter attack on the German government is made by Hjalmar Branting, the Socialist leader, in the Social Demokraten. He terms Germany's ruling clique "the common enemies of all mankind."

Changing Conditions.

RUSSIA AND HER ALLIES MAY REVISE WAR AIMS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

LONDON, May 22.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Express says a series of important negotiations is impending between Russia and her allies on the question of revision of war aims, as outlined in the replies of the Allies to President Wilson. Foreign Minister Terestchenko discussed the matter with the Allied Ambassadors Saturday.

The correspondent says that Russia in her negotiations will try to define precisely its desire for peace without annexations or contributions, and will make clear that the Russian workers, while not desiring a separate peace, cannot support the Allies in their present war programme.

A revision of the treaties between the Allies and Russia will be requested and it is believed that the Allies will call a conference to consider the whole question of Russia's future in the war.

Political circles in sympathy with Foreign Minister Miliukoff and Minister of War Guchkoff view the negotiations with considerable alarm.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily News writes in the same vein and believes that the coalition government will stand or fall according to the position which the Allies take in the pending negotiations. He says that Minister of War Kerensky is making a great effort to restore discipline in the army and that his task will be lightened if a clearly-expressed agreement is reached between Russia and the other members of the Entente.

RUSSIAN PROBLEMS CONFERENCE CALLED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

PETROGRAD (via London) May 22.—The Executive Committee of the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates has issued a call for a general congress June 14 of representatives of all branches of the council throughout Russia and of the various military organizations. The congress will discuss the nation's defense, peace conditions, land and labor problems, the projected constituent assembly, the country's financial policy and conditions of military life.

When Albert Israel, a fruit dealer, told two men the time of day early this morning they thanked him by pouncing upon him with knives, telling him his watch was slow and robbing him of $15. Israel, who is 23 years old and lives at No. 538 Wall street, was going to his place of business when the two men accosted him at Eighth and Santee streets. When the fruit dealer exposed his watch to give them the time the strangers drew long knives and attacked him. Israel fought the bandits, but soon he lay bleeding and unconscious on the ground, where he was found an hour later by a passing policeman. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, suffering severe stab wounds in his throat, chest and arms.

JEROME (Ariz.) May 22.—Employees of the United Verde mine and smelter here awaited today the official announcement of the calling of a strike, which was voted by the local Miners' Union last night following the rejection by the company of the demands of the men for a closed shop, a checking system and the appointment of a grievance committee.

The demand for an increase in wages of 50 cents a day was granted. The vote was 543 to 25 in favor of the strike, members of the union said. It was said that the strike would become effective immediately after the official announcement of the vote.

President of Traction Company Gives in to Laborites to Keep Peace.

ALLIANCE (O.) May 21.—Following riots in which six men at work were badly beaten, two cars wrecked and one of them burned, President Morley of the Starke Electric Railway yielded to the demands of the striking traction employees, and the car strike, which has been in progress nineteen days, was ended.

The men won recognition of the union, a wage increase of 5 cents an hour and five men who had been discharged were reinstated. After a mob of 5000 had stoned the crew of a car which had tried to resume operations of the line late this afternoon and had injured six strikemen, the car was dragged to the outskirts of the city and the torch applied. The car, a new one, was destroyed.

It was announced tonight that car service on the Starke electric and on the Cleveland, Alliance and Mahoning Valley Railroad, which also is affected by the strike, will be resumed tomorrow morning.

The city's police force was powerless against the mob of 5000 which gathered when the attempt to resume car service was made late this afternoon. The few policemen and firemen who joined them in attempts to preserve order were overwhelmed.

After the car had been burned tonight and the mobs started toward the power house of the company, President Morley asked for a conference with the union men and a peace pact was arranged.

The car which started the trouble contained six men besides the crew when it reached Arch avenue and Main street in the heart of the shopping district. Some one pulled the trolley off and a crowd collected and sticks and stones began to fly. The crowd increased to a mob which filled the streets and missiles were rained so heavily on the car that the strike-breakers finally made a dash for the door and fled. They were pursued and Kelley and Minnahan, two of the men in the car, were badly beaten and trampled upon.

The others, after being cut and bruised, managed to escape. A wrecking car sent out to rescue the stalled car was also stoned and the crew was driven away. A team was hitched to the stalled car and it was hauled to the outskirts of the city where tonight it was set on fire and destroyed. As the mob was hunting for more damage to do the strike was ended by the capitulation of the company.

HINDENBURG'S LINE IS MISSING IN SPOTS.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS (British headquarters in France, via London, May 21, 6:40 p.m.)—So completely did the British artillery do its work before the attack between Croisilles and Bullecourt that 3000 yards of the Hindenburg line are totally missing. This segment of the German defenses was completely wiped out.

Airplane photographs taken on May 1 show beautifully symmetrical zigzags, but the latest pictures taken contain no trace of the trenches. The support line also was badly "strafed," some 6000 yards of it now being in British hands, leaving the Germans holding the remaining 2000 yards. The Hindenburg front line between the south end of the captured trenches and Bullecourt is in dire danger, as it is flanked on both sides by the British.

The engagement was really made up of two attacks, one in the early morning, when seventy prisoners were taken, and the second late in the afternoon, the two netting some 150 prisoners for the day's work in this sector. The German artillery's response was very feeble and the counter-barrage during the attack was particularly weak.

The prisoners taken came mostly from the Forty-ninth Reserve Division, which was recruited in the region of Posen and Breslau. It came to the west front from Rumania in February. Three officers are among the prisoners. The men showed by word and action that they were thoroughly tired of war. They had been in the line twenty-one days and constantly under the British shell fire. All of them said they never had seen anything like the artillery fire, nor did they desire to experience it again.

All that remains of the captured portions of the Hindenburg line are cement and concrete machine gun emplacements. An underground corridor parallels the support trench thirty-five feet below the surface.

Several isolated posts are still standing between the scene of the latest smash and the Queant-Drocourt line. These include the villages of Reincourt and Hendecourt and other strong points in which the Germans are capable of putting up strong resistance.

Procedure.

HOW SICK PERSONS MUST REGISTER FOR WAR DRAFT

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—Draft instructions No. 3—Registration of sick persons. By the State Bureau of Registration:

Sick persons who are physically unable to present themselves June 5 at the registration place in the precinct where they reside may register through another, in advance of registration day, in the following-described manner:

WHEN TO REGISTER:

A sick person should proceed at once, beginning Monday, May 21, to have himself registered.

HOW TO REGISTER:

He must authorize a competent person as his agent to apply to the chief registration official in the county in which he happens to be (or to the city registration official, if in a city whose population exceeds 30,000) for a copy of the registration card and for authority to fill it out.

If the case is one of bona-fide sickness the chief registration official may deputize the agent to fill out the card in the presence of the sick person, who must sign it, if he is able.

The registration card must then be mailed by the sick person, or delivered by his agent, to the registrar of the sick person's voting precinct, where he has his permanent home, in care of the Sheriff (or in care of the Mayor if the sick person resides in a city whose population exceeds 30,000.)

A self-addressed stamped envelope must accompany the card.

On registration day the Sheriff (or Mayor) will deliver the card to the registrar of the sick person's home precinct, who will at that time make out and mail to him a registration certificate, constituting his proof of registration.

Sick persons should not postpone having their registration cards made out, but should immediately name their agents to act for them.

Unfortunate Affair.

SENTRY'S CALL UNHEEDED; BALTIMORE GIRL SHOT.

BALTIMORE, May 21.—Strolling through Gwynns Falls Park tonight with a soldier friend, Marian Riley, a pretty eighteen-year-old girl, was shot through the breast by a Fourth Regiment sentry when she and her escort failed to immediately obey the sentry's order to "Halt." The bullet passed through the girl's body and she died an hour later at Franklin Square Hospital.

Ernest M. Fulk, a private of Co. D, Fourth Maryland Infantry, was the soldier who did the shooting. A policeman was about to place Fulk under arrest, but other members of the militia unit stationed at the locality, guarding the Western Maryland Railroad track, intervened.

Funk was taken in charge by them and placed in the guardhouse to await court-martial.

Capt. Stanton, commander of Co. D, in charge of the detachment guarding the railroad tracks in that section, immediately began an investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A group of Washington citizens today formally "adopted" the French town of Noyon and pledged themselves to raise $60,000 to restore the devastated town through the French restoration fund.

PYTHIAN CONVENTION IS BEGUN AT REDDING.

REDDING, May 21.—Hundreds of delegates gathered here today for the opening of the five-day sessions of the forty-eighth annual convention of the Knights of Pythias and the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Pythian Sisters.

A delegation on a special train from Southern California included the Los Angeles policemen's band.

Ireland.

back abruptly, and, having regard for the views of the United States on the subject, our duty is to facilitate the task of those who are our friends in America."

Lord Lansdowne proceeded to criticise the government's main proposal as falling short of success because it proposed a partition which at this time, he said, was profoundly discredited in Ireland. The convention, he added, might do immense good, and if no solution was obtained the difficulty would be not with the government, but with the Irish people.

REDMOND.

Mr. Redmond said that if there were any feeling that he had said things which had left bitter memories he would be willing to step down in order to promote the harmony of the proceedings of the convention. This was received with cries of "no" from all parts of the House.

Mr. Redmond said the convention should not only be free, but shall be representative of all classes and sections. County councils, corporations, trades unions, the various churches, the teaching profession, Irish peers and the different political parties should be represented. He was willing to agree to a limited representation of the party, an equally large representation of the Ulster party and a representation of Sinn Feiners.

He approved the proposal to have a small nominated element and also the suggestion that the chairman should be nominated by the crown. He hoped the chairman would be a man of distinguished judgment, proved experience and undoubted impartiality.

CARSON.

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists, said he did not hesitate to assert he found no reason to modify the opinion he had always held, that the best solution of the Irish problem lay in maintenance of the union. He did not know whether the Ulster Unionists would accept the government's invitation, but he did know that no threats would have the slightest effect.

Sir Edward explained that as a member of the government he naturally was a party to the Premier's proposals, and he considered that by allowing six counties to remain out, while creating a general council and bringing all Irishmen together they would be making the best advance toward the ultimate reunion of all Ireland. That proposal had been rejected but not by Ulster men, who, he said, had been wrongly accused of rejecting all advances. As a matter of fact, all the advances heretofore had been made by the Ulster men.

The Ulster leader declared that it was advisable that the convention should be approached with no misapprehension. As to the suggestion that the exclusion of the six counties should be ruled out of consideration by the convention, he said:

"I understand that that is not the case, but that every possible solution which may be put forward should be considered by the convention."

He understood and it was his wish, that they should enter the convention perfectly free, without stipulated conditions; otherwise he would not be a party to it. If every one entered the convention with freedom and an honest desire to do his best for the country and the empire, it might be successful, while on any other terms it would certainly fail.

ASQUITH.

Former Premier Asquith indorsed the government's proposals heartily.

"If the convention fails, then heaven help us," he said. They would have to admit that though problems similar in character and not less difficult have been seen elsewhere in the world, "we are so wanting in resources of statesmanship that we cannot settle here at our own doors what is most vital, both to our own interests and to our honor."

Summarizing his impressions of the discussion, Mr. Asquith said he hoped and believed there was no party in Ireland that would be willing to assume the responsibility of repudiating the proposed convention which Mr. Redmond explicitly and whole-heartedly had accepted. He specially hoped the Ulster council would do nothing to discourage the proposal. Altogether he considered that they had traveled a long way towards settlement and, although there were many difficulties remaining to be settled in connection with the convention, it was important to realize that, so far as it was possible to discover the Irish nation was not hostile to the proposal, while a large section of that nation heartily embraced it.

CURZON.

Earl Curzon made a statement in the House of Lords similar to the Premier's in the Commons. He said the subject was one which called for restraint, moderation and forebearance.

"It would be well," he added, "if on the present occasion no attempt were made to revive memories, which are charged with painful and sometimes remorseful associations."

Earl Curzon said it was the war which had led the government to try to solve the difficulty. In the war Ireland had been a source of weakness and not of strength. Never a month or even a week pass that the specter of Ireland did not cross the government's path. A settlement of this question would make it easier for America to throw her full weight into the struggle.

Speaking in a serious tone, he continued:

"It will be a national misfortune if any one of the Irish parties stands aloof and grave responsibility will rest on those leaders who should elect to abstain."

SINK RUSSIAN BARK.

BOSTON, May 21.—The sinking of the Russian bark August by a German submarine 300 miles off the coast of Ireland three weeks ago, was reported at an American port today by officers of a British steamer which rescued the crew.

SUBMARINES WORRY FOR THE BAPTISTS.

CLEVELAND, May 21.—The Northern Baptist Convention officially recognizing present war conditions today rescinded the action whereby Atlantic City was selected for the 1918 meeting.

A resolution offered by Rev. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles was adopted leaving the selection of the convention place to the Executive Committee.

It was explained that the submarine menace might make convening at Atlantic City inexpedient.

A Change.

GOOD-BY, MORGAN; OTHERS WILL BUY.

TO REPLACE AGREEMENT WITH ENGLAND AND FRANCE.

Purchases for the Allies will be Made in Future Through Commission Under Governmental Supervision, According to New International Business Deal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The long-standing business agreement between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the governments of Great Britain and France, under which the Morgan firm handled the bulk of the hundreds of millions of dollars of purchases made for the Allies in this country, soon is to be replaced in part, if not wholly, by the new international agreement, now in process of formulation, under which all purchases for the Allies will be made through a commission under governmental supervision.

The machinery through which the Morgan firm transacted its huge volume of American purchases will stand, in part, however, and probably will be utilized by the American government. Valuable information obtained by the Morgan firm, as purchasing agents for Great Britain and France, already has been placed at the disposal of the government, and will be used by the new commission.

J. P. Morgan spent several hours today discussing the situation with Foreign Minister Balfour of the British delegation, and afterward with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Crosby.

As the result of these discussions it developed that the Morgan firm has not only purchased supplies running into many hundreds of millions for Great Britain and France, but has also purchased many millions worth for the governments of Italy and Russia. The amount of these purchases, the commissions and other details of the agreement have never been disclosed. Whatever commissions have been paid by the Allies in the past will be saved to them in the future, as the government's plan is to charge no commission for the services of the purchasing agency, but to place the commission at the Allies' disposal without further cost than its operating expenses. The amount of the shipments to be made through this single agency probably will reach $500,000,000 a month or $6,000,000,000 annually.

WILL POOL COAL FOR SHIPMENT.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway Company, and chairman of the railroad war board, issued a statement here tonight to the effect that arrangements have been made by shippers and railroads whereby all coal for shipment on the Great Lakes through Lake Erie points will be "pooled." It is expected, he said, that this will result in a saving in time of freight cars equivalent to adding 52,000 cars to the freight equipment.

"It is estimated that 26,000,000 tons of coal will be shipped over the Great Lakes to the Northwest during the 180 days of the navigation season, and that 36,000,000 tons of ore will be moved over the railroads from Lake Erie ports to the furnaces," said Mr. Harrison.

"It is believed that the pooling arrangement will effect a saving in time of each car that carries coal to Lake Erie ports of one and one-half days, as it will not be necessary for each shipper to hold cars loaded with coal at those points."

POTATO FAMINE REACHES BERLIN.

COPENHAGEN, May 21 (via London, 8:30 p.m.)—Berlin now is feeling the potato shortage. The residents of the capital have been warned that it may be impossible to supply five pounds to everybody this week, but that those who are unable to obtain the full ration will be given cakes.

The supply of pork is short, and it will be sold only on boards.

Another announcement said that reduction in the present ration after August 15 is being considered. In view of the food shortage, Prof. Weldner, an agricultural expert at Passau, Bavaria, advises the people to follow the example of Nebuchadnezzar and eat grass. He informs them that both the red clover and lucerne (alfalfa) may be used for the making of tasty dishes for human consumption.

FARMERS ARE BLAMED FOR LABOR SHORTAGE.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Refusal of farmers to pay better wages, despite the high prices they receive for their products, is held partly responsible in a statement today by Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of the Labor Department, for the present lack of farm help.

The demand for farm labor, Mr. Post says, must be met largely by the employment of boys this summer and by the release for short periods of factory workers for harvesting crops.

COAST MAN URGED FOR POST.

MAY REGULATE COAL INDUSTRY.

Trade Commission Proposes Government Control.

Report Declares Fixing of Prices is Necessary.

Inadequate Transportation is Cause of Shortage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Government regulation of the coal industry, including the fixing of prices, was proposed by the Federal Trade Commission today in a report to Congress, charging producers and brokers with exacting exorbitant profits and blaming the present coal shortage at consumption points on inadequate transportation facilities.

"The price of bituminous coal, which is a necessity, should be fixed," said the report, "according to the same general principle which has been established in the conduct of public utilities."

In line with the Trade Commission's statement concerning transportation, the Supreme Court handed down a decision today upholding the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to compel railroads to furnish a reasonable adequate supply of coal cars to handle normal and seasonable demands for interstate commerce originating at mines along their lines and to award reparation to shippers for failure to supply cars.

Lack of transportation for coal, the Trade Commission report says, probably will be remedied by measures being taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission and by the Council of National Defense.

The commission's report said that an unprecedented demand during the last six months not only absorbed coal as fast as it could be shipped, but exhausted the small stocks in storage. "The country now faces a serious situation, the commission declared, in obtaining a commodity basic to virtually every form of military and industrial activity.

The increase in demand has been great. In 1916 shipments of coal from the mines amounted to about 500,000,000 tons, about 66,000,000 greater than in 1915. This was due, the commission found, to industrial expansion and to increased railroad traffic.

The commission recommended that coal miners be exempted in the army draft and urged to remain at their normal tasks.

Speculating brokers, as well as producers, were charged with responsibility for increased prices. The producers, the report said, admit frankly they are taking advantage of the situation to make up for low profits of the last few years.

STANFORD PRESIDENT WILL ASSIST HOOVER.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford University announced tonight he will leave for Washington tomorrow in response to a telegraphic summons from Herbert C. Hoover, there to assist the latter in the work of food administration recently delegated to him by President Wilson.

COLLEGIANS RUSH FOR MARINE COMMISSIONS.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Three hundred men, representing almost every higher educational institution in the Middle West, were examined here today for commissions in the United States Marine Corps. About 40 per cent. were rejected for physical reasons, it was announced.

BOND SALESMEN WORK FOR LOAN.

NEW YORK, May 21.—With a military band at their head and patriotic badges as their insignia, 500 bond salesmen, their services proffered to the government by their employers, went into action today as the first division campaigning on behalf of the liberty loan bonds. Their particular object was the capture of small investors.

It was announced that the Liberty Loan Committee had adopted its new slogan, "If you cannot enlist, subscribe." Meanwhile large subscriptions continued to be received. The International Mercantile Marine purchased $2,000,000 worth of bonds, the Greenwich Savings Bank $2,000,000, and the American Smelting and Refining Company $2,500,000.

"In the morning the enemy twice brought his masses forward to deliver attacks against Monte Santo. The first attack collapsed under our destructive fire.

"During the second attack the enemy troops in the neighborhood of Monte Santo Convent forced their way into our trenches, which had been destroyed by drum fire. Our troops drove the enemy back in a counter-attack.

"In the evening the Italians advanced to a powerful attack on a wide front, which, on this line, was directed against the whole sector near Vodice and Monte Santo. At Vodice the storming columns, suffering heavily, mounted the ridge, but were repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting. The Italian divisions directed against Monte Santo were driven back into their own positions by our artillery fire.

"During yesterday's battle 200 prisoners and a number of machine guns were captured.

THE RUSSIAN FRONT.

PETROGRAD (via London) May 21, 3:35 p.m.—The following official statement was issued here today:

"On the western and Rumanian fronts rifle firing and scouting operations occurred.

"On the Caucasian front, west of Ardasi a company of Turks made repeated efforts to attack our trenches, but was repelled. Half a squadron of Turkish cavalry endeavored to approach one of the heights about ten miles south of Baneh, but was forced to retire."

Robbed of Terror.

U-BOAT'S INVENTOR INVENTS ANTIDOTE.

LAKE EVOLVES STANDARDIZED MERCHANT SUBMARINE.

Undersea Vessels Ten Times Larger than the Deutschland to be Turned Out at Rate of Three or Four a Week by Company Capitalized for Ten Millions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—America has found the perfect answer to the German submarine terror. It is an invention by the same man whose brain devised the German menace. That man is Simon Lake. The answer is a merchant submarine standardized and simplified so that the first one may be turned out within four months and others sent out after that at the rate of three or four a week.

This momentous news, termed by naval and military experts the turning point of the war, becomes public property tonight, when it was learned here that the Merchant Submarine Company, capitalized at $10,000,000, was chartered under the laws of Maine in the Capitol at Augusta, Me., May 19.

The vessels to be built and operated by the Merchant Submarine Company are to be standardized at about 7500 or 8000 tons dead weight. They will be more than ten times larger than the Deutschland, the only German merchant submarine to make the voyage across the Atlantic. The Deutschland more than paid for its cost of construction and operation in the first half of its first round trip.

Simon Lake and his associates in the Merchant Submarine Company, that is to operate under the Stars and Stripes, say that the profits of these huge cargo carriers to be constructed by them will be enormous, whether these boats are to be operated privately or by the United States government.

The news of the incorporation was kept secret until it became certain that through some sources it had leaked to England and thence to Germany. All reason for concealment therefore vanished.

It is not permitted at this time to print any of the details of the merchant submarine's construction. It may be said that it is a non-sinkable craft and that it can submerge within one-half a minute. Its features are such that it will operate upon the surface and submerge at such a rate of speed as to make its voyages frequent and highly profitable. When submerged its speed will be such that it can easily elude any surface pursuer.

BORDERS ON TREASON.

DALLAS (Tex.) May 21.—The United States grand jury today was ordered by Judge George Whitfield Jack to investigate the alleged conspiracy to make armed resistance to conscription, which agents of the Department of Justice claim to have uncovered in Northwest Texas.

Judge Jack spoke of the activities of the Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association of America, which he said had first been brought to his attention while he was holding court in San Angelo last week. He said the charges bordered on treason.

Six arrests have been made here and two or three in Western Texas.

SWISS MOB FREES MAN FROM JAIL.

CHAUX DE FONDS (Switzerland) via Paris, May 21, 4:55 a.m.—Paul Grabe, a Socialist national councillor, was freed from jail yesterday by a mob of sympathizers after he had been sentenced to eight days imprisonment by a court-martial. Grabe was convicted of libel in connection with an article which appeared in his newspaper, La Sentinelle.

At the request of the council of the canton of Neuchatel, the general commanding the district has occupied Chaux de Fonds with a regiment of infantry and a squadron of cavalry. A mass meeting was called by the Socialists Sunday evening, and some rioting occurred, but calm was eventually restored.

Chaux de Fonds is nine miles from Neuchatel and is one of the principal centers of the watch-making industry in Europe. Its population in 1901 was 36,386.

NOT TO CONSIDER ORIENTAL LABOR.

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—Proposals to furnish oriental labor to California farmers in order to increase food production will not be seriously considered by the State Council of Defense until it is proved that there is a labor shortage in the State, according to Vice-President A. H. Naftzger of the council. In connection with the suggestion that 500,000 Chinese be imported to work on western farms, Naftzger said today:

"Our Farm Labor Committee now is surveying the labor conditions of California. Until that committee reports, it would be ill advised for us to take up any proposition. The council has reason to believe there is a fair available supply of farm labor in the State."

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Anti-trust suits against the United States Steel Corporation, the International Harvester Company and three other big corporations were ordered reargued today by the Supreme Court. As the court will adjourn for the term on June 11, court officials said it probably would be a year before decisions were rendered.

The announcement made by Chief Justice White apparently bears out reports current recently that opinion in the big anti-trust suits would be handed down at least until the country could readjust itself to wartime conditions.

The other cases to be reargued are those against the United Shoe Machinery Company and the Lehigh Valley and the Reading railroads and affiliated coal companies, the so-called "anthracite coal trust."

SIX YEARS OLD.

The steel corporation suit was instituted in 1911 in New Jersey and was dismissed by the District Court four years later. In it the government charges the corporation with controlling approximately one-half of the general iron and steel industry of the country. Dissolution of the corporation, as well as of the four combinations, is asked. The corporation in its brief admitted controlling about 40 per cent. of the domestic and about 90 per cent. of the American export trade, but defended itself as a "good" combination.

The suit against the Harvester Company was filed in the United States District Court in Minnesota in 1912. Its dissolution was asked only on the ground of its size and interest power.

The suit against the United Shoe Machinery Company was filed in 1911, and the lower court dismissed the government's petition.

The two cases against the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the Reading Railroad charge them with monopolies in anthracite coal along their lines.

STATES' RIGHTS.

The right of States to enact laws regulating the general and Federal corporation laws as passed by Congress was denied by the Supreme Court in an opinion holding that the New York workmen's compensation law, recently declared constitutional, did not apply to workmen injured while employed in New York navigable waters.

The court also declared unconstitutional the New Jersey workmen's compensation law of 1911, which is a non-compulsory statute.

The court adjourned until June 4, when decisions will be again rendered and final adjustment for the year be taken one week later.

OVETT TAKES UP RED CROSS DUTIES.

BECOMES CHAIRMAN OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Will Co-ordinate All War Relief Measures to Prevent Duplication and Waste—Other Prominent Men Form Official Board with Union Pacific Chairman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Robert Lovett, chairman of the board of the Union Pacific Railroad, having consented to give virtually his entire time during the war to Red Cross work, became chairman of the committee today which will endeavor to co-ordinate all war relief measures as a means of preventing duplication and waste.

The committee held its first meeting here today in response to a call issued by Chairman Davidson of the Red Cross War Council.

In addition to Judge Lovett, it is composed of George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia, A. D. Hodenpyl of Grand Rapids, Bishop Brent of the Philippine Islands, who recently returned from Europe; John F. Moors of Boston, and Edward B. Butler of Cleveland.

The committee plans to co-operate with representatives of other war relief organizations. At today's meeting the committee organized and discussed ways and means of co-ordinating, extending and co-operating war relief efforts by individuals and organizations, some of which now overlap. By Friday, the date of the next meeting will be held in New York, the members of the committee expect to be in a position to launch the work undertaken.

RETAIN FEDERAL DECREES ON RATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Federal decrees holding the Arkansas maximum freight and 2 cent passenger rates confiscatory as applied to the Memphis and San Francisco Railroads were sustained by the Supreme Court today.

The court also sustained the decrees of the lower court which declared valid the formula adopted for western and southwestern railroads as a basis for determining passenger rates are confiscatory, after the Supreme Court had upheld the decrees in 1913.

GRANGERS' PASS LAW PART OF RATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Federal decrees prohibiting railroads from giving free passes, the Supreme Court decided today, do not exempt them from liability to live stock attendants injured while traveling on a free pass issued under the usual live-stock contract. It was successfully contended that the drover's pass was not gratuitous, but a part of the five-stock transportation and that the liability exemption clause was void.

IOWA WAR LOAN PLAN INDORSED

State Promises to Set an Example to Nation.

Subscriptions on County Basis Liked by McAdoo.

Des Moines Banks to Pledge Two Millions Also.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES, May 21.—Iowa promises to set an example in liberty loan organization for her sister States of the Union, following indorsement here today by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo of a plan for subscriptions by county units as submitted by the State Bankers' Association. Before leaving this city tonight for Denver the Secretary announced that he would recommend the plan to the Treasury Department for adoption throughout the nation.

It is contemplated through this organization to float bonds to the extent of $100,000 in each of the ninety-nine counties of the State. Should the average be maintained it was said Iowa capital will assume $11,900,000 of the loan. The amount will include $2,000,000 which, it was announced today, would be subscribed by Des Moines banks in place of $750,000 previously assured.

Presentation of the organization and the announcement that the banks of this city would increase their subscriptions by $1,250,000 provided an impressive climax to a dinner at which Secretary McAdoo addressed some 600 business men, including bankers from virtually every section of the State.

The address formed part of a day's visit in this city by the treasury official—the first time, he told his audience, that he had ever stepped in Iowa.

The Iowa bankers' plan for organizing this State for a full share in the war bonds was presented to the Secretary in resolutions of committee, as adopted by the association today. Mr. McAdoo approved the resolutions and announced that he would forward them to Washington at once by telegraph.

UNIVERSITY WAR COMMITTEE NAMED

URBANA, May 21.—Co-operation among State universities in the methods adopted to assist the Federal government in the conduct of the war is to be furthered by a committee appointed today by Guy Potter Benton of the University of Vermont, president of the Association of State Universities.

The committee consists of President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois, chairman; Chancellor Frank Strong of the University of Kansas, President W. A. Jessup of the University of Iowa, President Albert Ross Hill of the University of Missouri, and President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin.

The committee will hold state meetings to work out plans of operation.

SHOOTS SELF AS POSSE CLOSES IN

STOCKTON, May 21.—When he saw that officers were closing in on his hiding place at the top of Gobel's Gate Peak, near Paloma, Jack Treaner, Fosteria miner who the morning killed his mother-in-law and baby and probably fatally wounded his wife, killed himself by firing the load of a shotgun into his side of his head. Sheriff Cogswell of Calaveras county and Constable Nuner of San Andreas were within 100 yards of the man when he fired the shot.

The end of the hunt for the murderer, in which all of the officers of Calaveras county had joined, came late this afternoon and all through the day Treanor had watched the pursuers from his elevated hiding place, which overlooked the house where the murders had been done. Officers trailed Treanor, who left his home bare-footed, for five miles to a house where he stole a shotgun and a pair of boots. It was with the stolen shotgun that he killed himself.

Prime Conditions Halt Corporation Fight.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Anti-trust suits against the United States Steel Corporation, the International Harvester Company and three other large corporations were ordered reargued today by the Supreme Court. The court will adjourn for the summer on June 11, court officials said today, but it would be a year before decisions were rendered.

The announcement made by Chief Justice White apparently bears out reports current recently that opinions in the big anti-trust suits would be handed down at least until industry could readjust itself to war conditions.

The other cases to be reargued are those against the United Shoe Machinery Company and the Lehigh Valley and the Reading railroads and alleged coal companies, the so-called "anthracite coal trust."

SIX YEARS OLD.

The coal corporation suit was instituted in 1911 in New Jersey and dismissed by the District Court three years later. In it the government charges the corporation with having acquired approximately one-half of the general iron and steel industry of the country. Dissolution of the corporation, as well as of the subsidiary combinations, is asked. The corporation in its brief admitted that during about 40 per cent. of the time and about 90 per cent. of the American export trade, but denied that as a "good" combination.

The suit against the Harvester Company was filed in the United States District Court in Minnesota to enjoin its dissolution was asked largely on the ground of its size and power.

The suit against the United Shoe Machinery Company was filed in 1911 and the lower court dismissed the government's petition.

The cases against the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the Reading railroad charge them with monopolizing anthracite coal along their lines.

STATES' RIGHTS.

The right of States to enact laws supplementing the general and Federal employers' liability laws as passed by Congress, but denied by the Supreme Court, is also involved in the opinion holding that the New York workmen's compensation law is properly declared constitutional. The decision will apply to workmen injured while employed in New York navigable waters.

The court also declared unconstitutional the New Jersey workmen's compensation law of 1911, which is a non-compulsory statute.

The court adjourned until June 4, when decisions will be again rendered and final adjustment for the session will be made one week later.

To Co-ordinate All War Relief Activities to Prevent Duplication of Work—Other Prominent Men Form Official Board with Admiral Peoples Pacific Chairman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Robert Scott, chairman of the board of the Atlantic Pacific Railroad, having resigned to give virtually his entire time during the war to Red Cross work, became chairman of the executive committee today which will endeavor to co-ordinate all war relief activities as a means of preventing duplication and waste.

The committee held its first meeting today in response to a call from Chairman Davidson of the Red Cross Council.

Besides Judge Lovett, it is said, will be members of George Wharton Pepper, Philadelphia, A. D. Hodenpyl and Ralph Bishop Brent of the Philippine Islands, who recently returned from Europe; John F. Moors of Boston, and Edward B. Butler of Buffalo. The committee plans to confer with representatives of the various relief organizations.

Today's meeting the committee spent discussing ways of co-ordinating, extending and better relief efforts by individuals and organizations, some of which now overlap. By Friday, the next meeting will be held in New York, the members of the committee expect to be in a position to outline the work undertaken.

CHAIN FEDERAL DECREES ON RATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Federal decrees holding the Arkansas maximum freight and 2 cent passenger rate statutory as applied to the Missouri Pacific and San Francisco Railroads were sustained by the Supreme Court today.

The court also sustained the decree of the lower court which declared that the formula adopted by the Missouri and southwestern railroads as a basis for determining what rates are confiscatory, after the Supreme Court had upheld the Shreveport rates in 1911.

RAILWAYS' PASS PART OF RATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Federal regulation of railroads from giving passes, the Supreme Court decided today, do not exempt them from the duty to live stock attendants required while traveling on a pass issued under the uniform contract. It was successfully contended that the drovers' pass was not gratuitous, but a part of the live-stock transportation for which the liability exemption was void.

HEINZE LOSES A COPPER SUIT.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Arthur P. Heinze, representing the Heinze copper interests, by a Supreme Court decision today lost proceedings for $15,000,000 treble damages under the Sherman antitrust law against the Amalgamated Copper Company, the Lewisohn interests, William Rockefeller and others charged with attempted monopoly of the Montana copper industry. The court sustained dismissal of the Heinze suit.

The court, in an opinion by Justice Brandeis, affirmed dismissal of the suit by New York courts which held that as mere stockholders of the United Copper Securities Company, controlled by the alleged "copper trust" the Heinze interests could not sue for alleged injury to the securities company.

The Heinzes allege that in 1902 the Amalgamated Company, the Anaconda Copper Company, Adolph Leonard, Walter and Albert Lewisohn, William Rockefeller, the late H. H. Rogers, John D. Ryan and James Stillman, with Marcus Daly, entered a conspiracy to attack the United company and secure a monopoly of Montana copper interests.

As stockholders of the United company, a majority of whose stock was controlled by the defendants, the New York Federal courts, in dismissing the Heinze suit, held that they had no capacity to sue for injury to the corporation.

ITALIAN MISSION ARRIVES SAFELY.

NOTED VISITORS WILL REACH WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY.

War Commission, Headed by Prince, Cousin of King, will Discuss Food and Shipping Problems and the Adjustment of Rates of Exchange.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Italian War Commission, headed by Prince Udine, first cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, will arrive in Washington Wednesday.

The fact that the commission had landed safely on this continent became known officially today through the State Department. One of its members, Enrico Arlotta, Minister of Transportation in the Italian Cabinet, already is here, and has had preliminary conferences with government officials.

Arrangements for receiving and entertaining the visitors have been made by a departmental committee.

The mission is coming on a visit of courtesy and to discuss with American officials particularly co-operation dealing with shipping and food problems, and the adjustment of rates of exchange.

Its personnel follows:

Prince Ferdinando Di Savoia of Udine; Enrico Arlotta, Minister of Transportation; Marquis Luigi Borsarelli di Rifreddo, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; Guglielmo Marconi, Senator; Ahgusto Ciuffelli, Deputy, former Minister of Public Works; Francexco Saverio Nitti, Deputy, former Minister of Agriculture.

DEFEAT SUIT TO PROHIBIT LIQUOR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Suit to prohibit liquor sales in Nebraska was dismissed today by the Supreme Court.

Prohibitionists contended a law passed in 1855 made the State dry but State Courts held that subsequent legislation had repealed the measure and permitted liquor sales until a new dry constitutional amendment became effective May 1, 1917.

THREE DREADNAUGHTS STILL ON PROGRAMME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—All naval vessels authorized by Congress have been contracted for, Secretary Daniels announced today, except three dreadnaughts and a few minor auxiliary craft. Besides the war craft specifically provided for, the department has ordered many additional destroyers, submarine chasers by the hundred, and added today twenty-four seaging tugs, of 1000 tons displacement, to be used both as towboats and mine sweepers.

Recent awards made include thirty-eight submarines of the 800-ton type. Six additional destroyers have been ordered.

The tugs will be complete in six months, the destroyers in from a year to fifteen months, and the submarines in the shortest possible time.

COMPENSATION LAW MEETS OBJECTION.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The New York workmen's compensation law, recently upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court, was construed today by the court as not applicable to workmen injured on ships while in New York navigable waters. The general and Federal maritime laws, the court decided, are exclusive and paramount.

The New York law by today's decision was construed as not applicable to railroad workmen injured while actually in interstate commerce. As to such the Federal Employers' Liability Act was held paramount and exclusive.

The New Jersey workmen's compensation law of 1911, a non-compulsory statute, was decided by the court to be unconstitutional and inoperative to railroad employees injured while engaged in interstate commerce. Justices Brandeis and Clarke dissented.

The Ohio workmen's compensation and employers' liability laws, the court decided, are applicable to workmen injured on ships while in Ohio navigable waters, while engaged in interstate commerce.

Sixty-fifth Congress.

FOOD MEASURE IS LAID ASIDE.

Senate Sends Bill Back for New Amendments.

Quicker Action to Stimulate Food Production.

Will Divide Legislation into Two Main Sections.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Food legislation was temporarily laid aside late today by the Senate. After several hours' debate the first bill, providing for a food survey, the licensing of dealers and steps to prevent hoarding was sent back to the Agriculture Committee for redrafting to include several of various amendments offered.

Quicker action on legislation to stimulate foodstuff production is expected to result, and Senator Gore, chairman of the committee, did not object to re-commitment. Many Senators, both Democrats and Republicans, objected to further consideration of the measure in its present form because of amendments offered and others held in waiting.

FOR REGULATION.

Division of food legislation into two main sections—production and regulation—probably will be agreed upon by the committee. The administration bill introduced in the House by Representative Lever, dealing with stimulation of production, was, with a slight change, introduced in the Senate just before adjournment tonight by Senator Gore. It will be considered tomorrow by the Senate committee and probably reported within forty-eight hours.

Regulation of food supplies and the appointment of a food administrator will be subjects of a separate bill. This new measure will be introduced in the House tomorrow and the Senate probably will not take up regulation legislation until the House acts.

The bill dealing solely with steps to augment production of foodstuffs, it is believed, will be promptly enacted. That covering the question of regulation promises long and vigorous discussion. In lengthy speeches today Senators Reed and Underwood, both Democrats, indicated opposition to vesting comprehensive regulatory powers in an administrator or other government agency.

ON PROHIBITION.

Whether prohibition legislation will be considered as a part of the food programme or the war tax legislation was another question raised and not determined today. Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, considering the public revenue bill, served notice that he would insist upon reference to his committee of any amendments affecting revenues by proposing curtailment of manufacture into liquors or grain or other foodstuffs. A half-dozen such amendments to the food bill were introduced during the day and Senator Gore said he would endeavor to have the prohibition question considered in connection with the food legislation.

A vote in the Senate will be had to settle the jurisdictional dispute. Senator Reed, in his speech, opposed intertering with the laws of supply and demand, and said high food prices were not due so much to speculation and shortage as to reports of the situation given out by the Department of Agriculture and interviews by Herbert C. Hoover and scores of persons and agencies crying "woe, woe, woe," through the land.

ESPIONAGE BILL STILL IN DISPUTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A day of vigorous argument on the espionage bill by Senate and House conferees was fruitless today and the conference adjourned until Wednesday. Provisions still in dispute include the newspaper censorship, export embargo and search-warrant legislation, and the section authorizing use of the army and navy to prevent interference with foreign commerce.

MAY INVESTIGATE REVENUE SOURCES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Investigation by the tariff commission into possible additional revenue sources, especially by corporate withholding of natural resources for speculative purposes, was proposed in a resolution today by Senator Kenyon of Iowa. The commission also would be authorized to report whether corporations are escaping taxation by keeping natural resources from use and to inquire into the British and French income and excess profits taxation systems.

NAVY PROHIBITION URGED BY DANIELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary Daniels addressed a letter to Speaker Clark today urging that legislation prohibiting the sale of intoxicating beverages to soldiers, incorporated in the army bill, be extended to cover the navy. With 40,000 young recruits under training in the navy, and more to be secured, Mr. Daniels said, the same safeguards are urgently necessary for them that Congress has provided for young soldiers.

MISSOURI STOPS HIGHER RATES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Provisions of Missouri statutes of 1909 prohibiting railroads from fixing higher freight rates for a short than a long haul, whether such rate discrimination is reasonable or unjust, were today sustained as constitutional by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Capt. Andre Tardieu, head of the French commercial mission, was presented to President Wilson today by Ambassador Jusserand.

LET THE CONTRACTS FOR NEW VESSELS.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Contracts for thirty-eight vessels, twenty-six wooden and twelve steel, have been let by the Emergency Fleet Corporation in the shipping board's shipbuilding programme. Twelve of the wooden ships and four of the steel vessels will be built by the Merrill-Stevens Company at Jacksonville.

The G. M. Standifer Construction Company of Portland, Or., will construct ten wooden ships, and the Peninsular Shipbuilding Company of Portland, Or., four.

Announcement was made some days ago that the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Company would build eight steel cargo ships. These are included in the total.

In France.

RECONSTRUCTION MEETS DIFFICULTY.

PROPERTY BOUNDARY LINES HAVE DISAPPEARED.

In Devastated Regions Landmarks are Obliterated, Papers Have been Burned, so that Restoring Land will be a Long and Laborious Task.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 6.—Such preliminary measures as have been taken for the reconstruction of devastated regions in France have developed many difficulties, the greatest of which, particularly in the region of the Somme and the Oise recently evacuated by the Germans, is to establish the boundary lines of property from which not only the buildings have disappeared but from which every landmark has been torn.

Deeds of record and all other papers that would aid in reconstituting titles to property, with plans of towns and public buildings, have been burned with departmental archives in a great many towns and villages. Brooks and rivers from which bearings might have been taken have been diverted from their courses. Where partition walls stood between two properties there are in many places the gaping craters of mines that blew away all traces of property lines.

The small French landholder is much attached to the soil and jealous of the slightest parcel of land upon which his labor has been expended. He will fight to the last ditch for what he considers his landed rights. Consequently it is feared that there are innumerable lawsuits in prospect.

Property boundaries also have been modified since the war began by public works executed for the purposes of the army. Many new railroad lines constructed for strategical purposes will be found so useful that they will become permanent.

"The geographic restitution of the entire region of the battle of Arras, the battle of the Somme, the battle of St. Quentin and the battle of Lens," said M. Accambray, deputy for the department of the Aisne, to a correspondent of the Associated Press, "as well as of other regions along the front in the zone that has been battered for nearly three years by heavy artillery, will be a long, minute, laborious task, developing countless contests and, it is feared, interminable litigation."

PALESTINE JEWS ARE MASSACRED.

STOCKHOLM, May 20 (via London, May 21, 11:58 a.m.)—Telegrams from the Jewish societies in Palestine received by the secretarial department of the Socialist conference here say a fresh massacre of Palestine Jews, resembling the Armenian massacres, is threatened, and appeals are made to the Socialists of all countries.

The messages say the Turkish government has given orders for the evacuation of Palestine by the Jewish population and that the execution of these measures is being carried out with increasing severity. The orders, it is said, are aimed at the Jews in Judea and Jerusalem, and later in Galilee.

ORDERS RESERVISTS TO JOIN THE COLORS.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 21.—Orders were issued today by Col. Omar Bundy, Adjutant-General of the Southern Department, for every reservist in the department to report immediately at Fort Sam Houston.

Col. Ralph Harrison, assistant to Col. Bundy, stated that 600 men in the department have not yet reported for duty, and will be considered as deserters unless they report immediately.

LABORITE RECEPTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Labor leaders of this city are preparing a reception to the members of the British labor commission, who are expected to come here from Washington on Friday. The programme, announced here tonight, includes a luncheon, dinner and mass meeting, followed by a reception. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will be among the speakers at the dinner.

ADD MINE SWEEPERS.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A considerable number of mine sweepers are to be added at once to the naval establishment. Secretary Daniels today conferred with private builders on plans for getting the craft turned out without delay.

MUST INCREASE SUGAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—With the world's stock of sugar being rapidly depleted, the Department of Agriculture today appealed to manufacturers and farmers to increase the production of sugar. Prospects are, according to the department's experts, that in many portions of the area devoted to sugar beets in this country the acreage this year will exceed that of any previous year.

AERO CADETS BEGIN.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The first 150 aviation cadets for the army began preliminary theoretical training today at the Universities of California, Texas, Illinois and Ohio.

WILSON CALLS ON BALFOUR.

Negotiations About the War Their Main Theme.

J. P. Morgan Also Visits the British Missionist.

Trip of the Foreigners to Chicago Abandoned.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Wilson called on Foreign Secretary Balfour at the British mission headquarters this afternoon and spent nearly three-quarters of an hour with him. The call was not merely one of courtesy, but was for a further discussion of the negotiations between the two governments.

Members of the mission were greatly disappointed today to find it necessary to abandon their arrangements for a trip to Chicago and other points in the Middle West. The State Department expressed the desire that the commission spend all its remaining time in this country in Washington in order to complete pending negotiations. The mission twice has postponed the date of its meeting with the Governor-General of Canada to extend its time here.

The shipping situation, which underlies all the other war problems, was discussed by Mr. Balfour today with Chairman Denman and Gen. Goethals of the shipping board. The American officials spoke most optimistically of their plans for increasing ship production by means of wooden ships and standardized steel ships.

Mr. Balfour also talked over with J. P. Morgan the future relations of the British government with the Morgan firm in case a central official purchasing commission takes over the work. He discussed the question of munitions with E. R. Stettinius of the same firm at luncheon.

The question of munitions is the least settled of all those under negotiation. As yet there is no official in the American government authorized to speak with full authority on that subject and the British visitors have had trouble therefore in making final arrangements for all the complicated questions of purchase, railroad transportation and ocean shipment.

FRENCH DEAF AND DUMB FIND LABOR.

PARIS, May 5.—The intensive production of munitions in France, with its enormous requirements in hand labor, has opened up a new future for the deaf and dumb, who before the war were excluded from factory work. Now hundreds of them are making shells and parts of automobiles and aeroplanes for the army. Some of them are earning the equivalent of $4 a day.

Manufacturers refused deaf and dumb help previously because of the laws that made the employer responsible for all accidents to his employees and because the accident insurance companies would not insure the deaf and dumb.

In practice it has been found that the deaf and dumb men meet with no more accidents than their comrades who can hear and talk, and they learn even quicker by sight than do many workmen by ear.

AVIATION SCHOOL AT CALIFORNIA.

BERKELEY, May 21.—An aviation school opened today at the University of California under the direction of Lieut. Arnold N. Krogstad of the United States aviation school at San Diego. Two hundred pupils were expected. At the end of each course of eight weeks twenty-five students will be graduated and transferred to the San Diego headquarters.

Special courses of five weeks in relief work, Red Cross work, telegraphy, food canning, automobile construction and other subjects of interest during war time also began today. The courses are conducted with the co-operation of the American Red Cross and the State Council of Defense. Credits will be given.

SAN FRANCISCO SHARE FORTY-TWO MILLIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—About $2,000,000 a day must be raised in San Francisco for the next twenty-four days to care for this city's allotment of the liberty loan, Frank R. Devlin, member of the State Railroad Commission, told the Commercial Club at a luncheon here today. San Francisco's allotment is $42,000,000.

It was announced here today that the Vallejo (Cal.) lodge of Elks had subscribed $500 stored up in the treasury for the payment of a mortgage.

SENTENCE RINTELEN, OTHERS CONVICTED.

NEW YORK, May 21.—One year in jail was the sentence imposed today upon Capt. Frans Rintelen of the German navy, David Lamar and H. B. Martin, convicted yesterday in the Federal Court of conspiracy to interfere with shipment of munitions to the Entente Allies in 1915.

Judge Cushman directed that the convicted men be confined in the Mercer county (New Jersey) penitentiary. Pending a possible appeal, the court set bail for Rintelen at $25,000, for Lamar at $10,000 and for Martin at $5000.

In the case of Frank Buchana and H. Robert Fowler, former representatives in Congress, and Herman Schultels and Jacob L. Taylor, who also were tried, but upon whom the jury disagreed, bail was fixed at $5000 each.

Patriotism spells Economy

For you, Madam, patriotism may well mean the practice of a wise economy: A wise economy because it would be easily possible to economize in a harmful way.

Be thrifty! But see to it that your thrift does not make for unemployment.

Deny yourself luxuries! But provide your family with plenty of nutritious food.

Let the actual value of staple foods decide your purchases.

Experts determine the value of food by its energy-producing Qualities—its heat units.

They call these heat units Calories. Foods containing most Calories (heat units), are the most nutritious.

Now, consider the authoritative table of food values printed above. Observe the high food value of crackers or biscuits.

You practice a wise economy—get big (food) value for your money when you buy Swastika Biscuits.

By increasing your consumption of Swastika Biscuits you provide work for an army of employees and do "your bit" for the country.

NO EXPORT WHEAT HELD IN ARGENTINE.

BUENOS AIRES, May 21.—Reports that Argentina had a large quantity of wheat available for export were categorically denied today by Senor Pueyrre, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Agriculture.

In spite of the decree last Month forbidding the export of wheat and flour with the object of avoiding famine in Argentine and difficulty in securing supplies for seeding purposes, said the Cabinet Minister, he authorized recently the shipment to England and other countries of all the excess of exportable wheat and flour. He even authorized a further 200,000 tons for England on the condition that it be replaced after July.

"Unfortunately," said the Minister, "it is actually impossible to export more wheat before the new crop. This crop, I estimate, will be early and abundant. In some regions it has already begun to grow."

The area sown, added the Minister, was greater this year than last.

KILL WAR TAX UPON COTTON.

Southern Congressmen Spare the Home Industry.

Small Auto Manufacturers are Also Let Off.

Final Vote on Revenue Bill Today Promised.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Two sharp contests during consideration of the war revenue bill in the House today resulted in southern members killing a proposed tax of $2.50 a bale on raw cotton and representatives of automobile manufacturing districts limiting the 5 per cent. levy on automobiles, motorcycles and their tires, to plants paying annual profits above $5000 and 8 per cent. on capital invested.

House leaders said tonight they were determined to bring the bill to a final vote some time tomorrow night.

Victory of the cotton forces was greeted joyously by those interested in the domestic sugar industry. Had the cotton proposal been held germane, the bill would have been open to amendment carrying a tax on sugar.

The automobile tax amendment offered by Representative Doremus of Michigan was written into the bill after a futile attempt had been made to strike out the entire paragraph relating to a 5 per cent. tax on automobiles, motorcycles and tires. Mr. Doremus insisted that many automobile manufacturers were barely making expenses. Democratic Leader Kitchin quoted statistics to show that the industry was enjoying unprecedented prosperity.

Many small automobile manufacturers, according to supporters of the amendment, now are making much less than 8 per cent., and this provision, if it is enacted into the law, will save their businesses.

A proposal by Representative Gillett of Massachusetts to exempt motorcycles from the tax was defeated, 89 to 45.

Unsuccessful efforts were made by various members to attach the Doremus amendment to other paragraphs of the section designed to provide a ½ per cent. manufacturers' tax on musical instruments selling for more than $1 each, jewelry, yachts, pleasure boats, sporting goods, perfumes and other toilet articles, certain drugs, proprietary medicines and chewing gum. These taxes, as well as one of half a cent per linear foot, on unexposed motion-picture films, and another of 1 cent per foot on exposed films, were adopted as drawn by the committee.

A committee amendment also adopted would levy this tax on all goods affected by the section purchased after April 6, 1917, and in the hands of retailers when the bill goes into effect.

Consideration of the amusement tax section was under way when the House adjourned. A $10 annual tax on theater boxes, designed particularly to reach grand opera boxholders, was adopted.

The Ways and Means Committee failed today to agree on a second-class mail rate plan.

PRESBYTERIANS TO BUILD SEMINARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Ill.) May 21.—One hundred thousand dollars were voted today for the erection of a new theological seminary by the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church following a report of the Committee on Theological Seminaries. Bids from various cities will be invited for erection of the seminary and will be submitted to the general assembly at Dallas next May.

The $100,000 educational endowment fund, half of which the committee announced as raised, was made a permanent fund, with the interest only to be used for educational purposes.

A new plan for aiding students for the ministry was adopted. Under its provisions, a theological student can borrow money from the educational department of the church to finish his education.

RAISE AGE LIMIT FOR ENLISTMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—The age limits of applicants for enlistment in the regular army has been raised from 17 to 35 years to 18 to 40 years, according to an order made public at the office of Maj. John H. Hughes, in charge of recruiting offices here.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MINNEAPOLIS, May 21.—Joseph L. Redenbaugh, confessed slayer of Mrs. Alice McQuillan Dunn of St. Paul, and Patrolman George Connery of Minneapolis, was brought here today in connection with the Connery case and later will be turned over to the St. Paul police. He was arrested in San Francisco.

MEXICAN FIRES ACROSS BORDER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Reports of renewed activity on the Mexican border have their foundation on two incidents reported to the War Department as having occurred Saturday. At Nogales an unidentified Mexican fired one shot across the line, and an American sentry returned the fire. At a place not given, a party of men, including some Americans, were arrested while crossing the line into the United States. They bore arms and were suspected of neutrality violations.

GUN EXPLOSION KILLS TWO NURSES.

ACCIDENT OCCURS ON SHIP BOUND FOR FRANCE.

During Practice Boomerang Shell Strikes Three American Red Cross Women, One Escaping with Slight Injury—Merchantman Returns to New York.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Victims of an explosion during the practice firing of a gun on an American armed merchantman at sea Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Edith Ayres and Miss Helen Burnett Wood of Chicago, American Red Cross nurses, bound for war duty in France, were killed, and Miss Emma Matsen, another nurse, of Columbus, Neb., was injured, although not dangerously. The steamship, only one day out from New York, returned hereday and a naval investigation is under way to determine the cause of the accident.

Unofficial reports were that a defective shell was responsible. One account had it that the shell exploded prematurely after leaving the gun, another that a breech explosion occurred.

It was learned, however, that the opinion of those aboard the ship best competent to judge was that the shell was not defective, but that in some unexplainable manner, a portion of the structure of the cartridge had been diverted from its course, boomerang fashion. The shell itself hit the mark, it was said, but fragments of brass, apparently from the metal disc that separates the powder charge from the shell, were picked out of the flesh of the three women. The gun itself, 4.7-inch, was not damaged, according to the accounts.

One of the women killed was struck in the heart and the other on the head. They were members of Base Hospital No. 12, with a personnel of more than 250.

According to Maj. Frederick Besley, professor of surgery at Northwestern University, and commander of the unit, the gun crew was not aware that anybody had been killed until so informed, which seems to dispose of the theory that it was a breech explosion.

"There is no accurate evidence," said Maj. Besley, "to warrant making a positive statement as to the exact cause of the accident. That will be determined in an inquiry to be made by a naval board."

The ship will be detained, it is understood, until the evidence necessary for the naval inquiry has been obtained.

DANIELS EXPLAINS.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A brass attachment of the powder charge, striking the water and boomeranging back nearly 200 feet after the firing of a naval gun in target practice, killed Mrs. Edith Ayres and Miss Helen Burnett Wood, Red Cross nurses, of Chicago, who lost their lives yesterday aboard the American steamship Mongolia.

Secretary Daniels explained in a statement tonight that such an accident had never occurred before and that ordnance experts are puzzled.

"This morning," said the Secretary, "I gave out the distressing statement that two nurses who were going to Europe had been accidentally killed on the steamship Mongolia Sunday afternoon. Today the Mongolia returned to New York to bring the bodies of Mrs. Edith Ayres and Miss Helen Burnett Wood, the two nurses who were killed, and full particulars were learned from the officers at the navy yard. The particulars of the fatal accident, which is deeply deplored, are thus furnished by the ordnance officers from New York:

"When about 100 miles to sea, in accordance with the usual procedure, guns were fired to test mounts and ammunition and to practice the navy crew in their use. The guns were of the six-inch caliber, for which the shell and powder are loaded separately into the gun. The powder charge is contained in brass cases and there held by a pasteboard wad, distance pieces and a brass mount cup that fits closely, thus making a moisture-tight joint in order that the powder may also give the velocity and pressure intended. When the gun is fired this brass cup is propelled some distance, sometimes whole and sometimes in pieces, but always in front of the gun.

"Several nurses who were watching the firing were sitting on the promenade deck some 175 feet abaft and ten feet above the gun. On the third shot the brass mount cup struck the water peculiarly, boomeranged directly back to the ship, struck the stanchion near where the nurses were sitting and broke. Its pieces instantly killed Mrs. Ayres and Miss Wood. The firing was stopped at once and the vessel returned to port to land the bodies.

"This method of sealing the cartridge cases has been used in the navy for many years, certainly for fifteen years or more, and that such an accident as this sad one could occur had not been even considered by ordnance experts.

"An investigation has been ordered, and its finding will enable the department to fully ascertain the cause and provide the remedies to prevent a possible recurrence of the accident."

MUNITION SHIP IS LOST ON COAST OF ENGLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, May 21.—The Leyland liner Colonian, 6440 tons, was wrecked last night on the south coast of England, according to a cablegram received by the agent of the lines here today. The message said the steamer, which was carrying a cargo of munitions, grain, lumber and cotton from this port, probably would be a total loss.

The cause of the accident and the fate of the crew were not mentioned. The steamer, with her cargo, was valued at $3,000,000.

MISSING YOUTH MAY BE VICTIM.

Scent Foul Play in His Odd Disappearance.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 21.—There is fear that foul play has been practiced on Cole Collings of this city, who left a week ago for Kansas City, in charge of nine carloads of cattle, the property of his uncle, E. T. Collings, a local business man. The cattle were to have been diverted to the Santa Fe system at Deming or El Paso. But, according to telegrams received, the shipment now in the hands of a commission firm at Fort Worth, Tex., to which point had been a strange routing around by San Antonio. This news came in the way of a report that the commission firm had advanced some one, alleged to have been the younger Collings, the sum of $4500. But Collings cannot be heard from at all though it is learned that involved in the transaction was H. C. Pollock, who has been book-keeper for the shipper. Young Collings has made the trip to Kanasas City several times before in charge of cattle and is considered throughly dependable, as well as notably efficient in such work. That he would change the routing in such circuitous way and then pledge the shipment is considered unbelievable. There is suspicion that he never got beyond El Paso. The advance seems to have been participated in by J. D. McCraney of Houston, Tex., a point still farther east. E. T. Collings has started from Phoenix and another nephew from Chicago, both bound for Fort Worth to delve into the mystery. Pollock came to Phoenix about a month ago, bearing letters from Gen. Pershing, whom he claims to have accompanied, as secretary, on the expedition into Mexico.

FOR LIQUOR SALE.

Walter L. Hill, a wealthy produce merchant, a leader in prohibition work, found guilty last fall in the Superior Court on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor, must stand sentence, as the Supreme Court has affirmed judgment. Hill's store manager, P. W. Duncan, also found guilty in the lower court, has been released, the Supreme Court deciding he had been only a delivery agent in Hill's absence, the sale having been made theretofore by his principal. In the same chain were involved three other Phoenix men, who received sentence last year for retailing the same beverage, a cider that contained 7½ per cent. of alcohol.

Chairman D. B. Heard has called a meeting of the State Council of Defense to plan for a general holiday to be declared by the Governor for June 5, the date of the selective conscription in Arizona. It is proposed to have patriotic demonstrations and exercises in every community.

FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE.

Thoroughly - organized efforts against the spread of consumption are to be started at once by the reorganized Arizona Anti-tuberculosis League. With Gov. Campbell as honorary president, the league has elected Dr. C. A. Thomas of Tucson as president and Dr. A. H. Williams of Phoenix, secretary, with physicians and other prominent members of many Arizona communities as vice-presidents and members of the Executive Committee. The Governor pledged personal and State aid along the lines of organization, education and legislation. Dr. James stated that only the safeguarding of children would serve to stamp out the plague. J. P. Hodgson told of effective means to the end sought that had been taken by the Phelps-Dodge company within its mines.

The new State Fair Commission has organized, with W. B. Twitchell of Phoenix as president and S. P. Meguire of Douglas as secretary-treasurer. An assistant secretary and active executive officer was chosen B. W. Zachau of Grand Canyon, former secretary to Congressman Ralph Cameron and latterly a Republican worker in the Governorship contest. He succeeds Thomas D. Shaughnessy, who has served for three years past. The commission is preparing to erect a $30,000 mining building, for which appropriation was made by the last Legislature. Provision has been made for fourteen purses for harness events for the fair, aggregating $12,000.

LABORITES DISAGREE.

Disagreement has been reported within the labor committee of the State Council of Defense. Chairman Donnelly, a union leader, has been insistent upon a plan for calling a council of mine operators and employees, to consult concerning means for keeping the mines free from strikes or other disturbances during the period of the war. It was understood that the plan rather involved recognition by the larger mines of the existence and powers of the labor unions, something that never has been done in Bisbee and other large camps. Whatever the preponderance of union labor in the larger mines, the open-shop idea generally is in force. So the chairman's suggestion was tabled.

ACCUSED WOMAN FREE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Mrs. Geraldine Marhoff, arrested on charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was dismissed in a Police Court hearing here today. An official naval statement was presented in court, saying that her husband, Lieut. William C. Marhoff, United States Naval Reserves, had been shot accidentally in the foot and would be able to resume his duties.

NAB TRAFFIC MAN FOR FALSE CLAIMS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Harry W. Adams, traffic manager of the California Fruit Distributors' Association, was arrested here today by United States Marshal James B. Holohan on an indictment charging him with having filed false claims against several of the leading railroads of the country. The indictment contained two counts, charging frauds of approximately $2000. Harry B. Duncan of the Interstate Commerce commission said the amount fraudulently secured from the railroads would run into the thousands of dollars, and that indictments of others would follow.

The California Fruit Distributors' Association is one of the largest concerns of its kind on the Pacific Coast. Its president and general manager, Charles E. Virdin, was a witness before the grand jury. The roads alleged to have been victimized, as contained in the indictment, are the Southern Pacific, the Western Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grande, the Chicago and Burlington, the Illinois Central and the Chicago and Northwestern.

Shortly after his arrest Adams was liberated on bail.

The indictment alleges Adams's actions were known to officers of the association, and that his methods were to enter against the railroads false claims for fruit damaged in transit.

WAR RESPONSIBILITY IS STANFORD THEME

GRADUATING CLASS IS TOLD OF MOMENTOUS ISSUES.

Dr. Wilbur Urges Students to Face International Crisis Actuated by Issues Lincoln Fought for, and to Give the Country Their Services Unsparingly.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PALO ALTO, May 21.—The twenty-sixth annual commencement exercises at Leland Stanford University were held today, with 429 students receiving degrees from Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president.

Dr. Wilbur, addressing the graduating class, said, in part:

"Civilization stands at the crossways. Unless the unrestricted use of the submarine in warfare fails and falls utterly, no one of us here can hope to see the day when man can rest secure in his institutions, built up so laboriously by all of the best in the years that lie behind. Not only must the submarine be met in a material way and defeated, but the spirit back of such use of a tool devised by the human mind must not only be checked and destroyed, but superseded by new conceptions of man's relationship to man. Should the submarine succeed, not only would it mean our defeat now in the greatest task we have ever assumed, but it would mean that any nation could suddenly make civilization its prey. To a world torn by such terrors, aghast at the possibilities, ready to fight to the death, do we send forth this band of young people with the stamp of our approval and of our authority upon them. We pray that we have helped them here, that the Stanford brand upon them will lead them to the full consecration of their enhanced powers to usefulness and to country.

"No group of Stanford men and women ever faced on their graduation day the responsibilities that are before you—a world in arms, a great new democracy just stirring with the newly-kindled impulses that once gave it birth, the youth of our country called in to solve with their lives if need be problems we thought settled, but which need a new baptizement in blood in order to make them permanent and universal.

"Abraham Lincoln saw through the whole of our great internal struggle the fundamental issue of popular government. Greater than the abolition of slavery was the need of holding intact the first great effort of man to govern himself. How the world faced our problem of the sixties as Abraham Lincoln saw it nationally, we must see it internationally, and not rest content until the speech at Gettysburg and the great war speech of President Wilson are made presentative of the practice of all nations. How great the opportunity, how great the nobility of soul required so that no element of life that has been added by your university years may fail your country's service, your country's needs."

SENATOR LANE'S DEATH IMMINENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—United States Senator Lane of Portland, Or., who is seriously ill at a local hospital, was said tonight to be slowly sinking.

Senator Lane's physician arrived from Portland to join the several local consultants, and, according to the physician in charge, all agreed that Senator Lane cannot recover and that his death is a matter of only a few hours.

FLAYS POLICE FOR HOUNDING WOMAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—"Do you want me to shoot this woman?" demanded Judge J. J. Sullivan in Police Court here today when Florence Ward was arraigned on a charge of being an inmate of a disorderly house.

"You've closed up the place where she used to be," he continued, addressing the arresting officers; "you arrest her if she's on the street, and you arrest her if she isn't. Case dismissed."

A series of raids on downtown hotels have been made by the police since the acknowledged disorderly houses were closed.

DALLAS (Tex.) May 21.—National prohibition of the liquor traffic and reunion of the two branches of the Presbyterian church—the North and the South—were favored by the one hundred and twenty-fifth general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America in resolutions adopted by the assembly today.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States is in session at Birmingham, Ala., and sent a copy of the resolution providing for the church union. Prominent delegates attending the assembly here say it is not improbable the resolutions favoring the church union will be received within the next day or two from the southern assembly at Birmingham. Such action would result in committees being appointed by both assemblies to work out final details of the amalgamation, which, owing to legal technicalities, it is said, would require from one to three years for completion.

The report of the Committee on Boards and Sustentation asked for $2,000,000 for carrying on the work during the next fiscal year. The request was granted. The committee spent $6,500,000 last year, the report said.

First Day.

FOUR TALESMEN ARE ACCEPTED.

Murder Trial of Mrs. Mooney to be Bitter One.

Santa Rosa Judge on Bench in Dunne's Place.

Some Prospective Jurors Shy at Punishment.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Four talesmen had been accepted as jurors, subject to peremptory challenge, at the close of the first day's proceedings in the murder trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney, which began here today.

The case is the third of five growing from a bomb explosion on July 22, 1916, during a preparedness parade. Ten persons were killed, and forty injured by the explosion. Warren K. Billings, the first defendant, was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. The death penalty was not asked. Thomas J. Mooney, the second, was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged. His case is now on appeal. He is Mrs. Mooney's husband. Israel Weinberg and Edward Nolan are the remaining defendants. Nolan is at liberty on bail, following police representations that the evidence against him was not complete. It is conceded that he was in Baltimore at the time of the explosion.

Much interest attached to Mrs. Mooney's trial because of charges that Frank C. Oxman, principal witness against her husband, perverted F. E. Rigall of Grayville, Ill., to come here to back up his testimony when he knew Rigall was not in town on the day of the explosion. On a showing of letters to Rigall which Oxman admitted having written, Oxman was held to the Superior Court on charge of attempted subornation of perjury.

Rigall, after coming here, went back home without testifying. A habeas corpus proceeding designed to release Oxman from the jurisdiction of the Superior Court also is pending.

Judge Emmet Seawell of San Ross took the bench at the opening of court today, it having been decided to get a judge from the outside of San Francisco county because of the publicity and animosity stirred up by the cases. Judge Frank H. Dunne, to whom the case was assigned, denied a petition from counsel for the defense that he disqualify himself as prejudiced, and then withdrew voluntarily.

Through the day the prosecution challenged every talesman who said he would not inflict the death penalty. The defense generally asked if the talesmen would be influenced if a possible witness against the defendant appeared in court under a cloud. It is possible that Oxman may be called to testify while proceedings against him are pending. Questions by the defense also indicated that Mrs. Mooney may testify in her own defense.

Stewart F. Smith, a bank manager, asked to be excused because of pressing duties incident to the present financial situation. The court refused.

"A banker would add class to the jury," he said smiling.

Smith later was released on challenge by the defense.

Frank P. King, bank cashier, the first talesman, was excused because of his duties in connection with the liberty loan.

Sigmund F. Hoffman, the first man actually to enter the jury box, proved to have served on the grand jury which indicted Mrs. Mooney and was excused.

Mrs. Mooney is being tried specifically for the murder of Miss Irene M. Van Loo, who lost her life in the bomb explosion.

At the close of the morning session of court, Abraham Eerb, a salesman, had been accepted, subject to peremptory challenge. Seven men were excused, three because of objection to inflicting the death penalty.

After the jury box had been filled with talesmen Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ferrari made a statement in which he said that the State would attempt to prove that Mrs. Van Loo was killed by the explosion of a bomb which had been placed on the sidewalk at Steuart and Market streets. He said the State contended that a conspiracy existed between bomb defendants to stop the preparedness parade and that the motive for the murder was the result of this conspiracy.

Stanley Dorn, a machinist, was excused when he insisted he would not vote to hang a woman, on circumstantial evidence.

"We are losing too many prospective jurors because of their ideas of circumstantial evidence," said Judge Seawell and proceeded to expound to the talesmen what circumstantial evidence is.

WIFE MEETS HUSBAND.

Mrs. Mooney, wearing a black hat with white plumes, and her husband, Thomas J. Mooney, under death sentence, met for the first time since she entered court. They shook hands and he whispered to her. Mooney was pale and seemed to show the effects of confinement. Five counties were announced for Mrs. Mooney. They are Maxwell McNutt, Fresno; M. O'Connor, Edward V. Jennings, Nathan Coghlan and Charles Brennan. Frederick L. Burrell, assistant District Attorney, was named to assist Mr. Ferrari in conducting the State's case.

Examination of a jury panel bearing 150 names, was started. This was part of a regular panel, left over from another case.

Computations.

BIG CITIES' SUBSCRIPTIONS TO WAR LOAN ALLOTTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Definite allotments of liberty bonds have been placed tentatively, it was revealed today, by the Treasury Department opposite the names of the chief cities of the country, varying from a few million dollars to approximately $750,000,000 in the case of New York. These allotments represent the sums which, in the opinion of treasury officials, should be subscribed by the population of the various cities. They were obtained by computations involving the total resources of all banks of the cities, and make liberal allowances for the failure of any one community to take its full quota of the bonds.

Included in the allotment to the various cities are allowances for suburban towns and cities and the territory which is financially tributary thereto.

Allotments have been computed by Federal reserve districts, as the central purposes of each section of the country will be the Federal reserve bank of the district. Inasmuch as the total resources of all financial institutions in the country are placed at approximately $35,000,000,000, it was estimated the first offering in bonds would result in the contribution by the public of a sum equal to about 6 per cent. of the total banking resources of the country. This big subscription, it was pointed out, however, will not result in a diminution of bank resources to this extent, as the proceeds will be redeposited, to large extent, in the financial institutions through which subscriptions will find their way to the Federal reserve banks and to the treasury.

A way was found today at a conference among representatives of the chief savings banks of the country and officials of the Federal Reserve Board and Treasury Department by which a portion of the proceeds may be redeposited in savings banks which are ineligible to membership in the Federal reserve system.

Some of the savings banks had been apprehensive lest heavy withdrawal of deposits to purchase bonds would tend to disarrange their affairs temporarily. Officials of the Federal Reserve Board pointed out that by qualifying as government depositaries they would be eligible for a portion of the redeposits.

Announcement was made today on behalf of Secretary McAdoo, now in the West, that a programme had been evolved under which depositors in savings banks would not lose their semi-annual interest on deposits by withdrawing them June 25, three days before the savings banks compute their interest payments, to pay for installments on liberty bond purchases.

Many savings banks, acting in the interest of the liberty loan, it was announced, already have provided that depositors shall not lose their interest under these circumstances.

"If, however, any purchasers of bonds find that the savings banks in which their deposits are kept have not adopted the above-mentioned practice," reads the statement, "the Secretary will permit such depositors to make payment June 28 by giving an accepted order drawn to the credit of the Federal reserve bank of his district, payable not later than July 5, such order to be taken subject to collection.

"This exceptional ruling applies to payments on individual allotments not exceeding $500 of bonds."

FREE TEXT-BOOKS FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—Twenty-four Senate and Assembly bills, mostly school measures, were signed today by Gov. Stephens. Chief in importance was one by Assemblyman Harris, providing for free text-books for high school students. The law does not stipulate State printing, but permits high school districts to purchase books with State funds, from a list supplied by the State Board of Education. The books will be bought from private publishing companies. Among other measures made laws is one granting to the town of Arcata, submerged lands now owned by the State, one making the official school day not more than six hours and restricting to four hours per day the time a child under 8 years of age may be kept in school, and another establishing the official school year from July 1 to June 30 of the following year, and making a school month of twenty days' duration. A bill giving members of the State Board of Education $10 per day for days spent in committee work also was signed.

ENGLISH ARE HOLDING THE HINDENBURG LINE.

LONDON, May 21, 10:55 p.m.—The British troops are now holding the entire Hindenburg line from the east of Bullecourt to Arras, with the exception of trench elements on a front of about 2000 yards west of Bullecourt, according to the official communication issued tonight. The recent gains northwest of Bullecourt have been consolidated. The statement says:

"Our new positions in the Hindenburg line northwest of Bullecourt have been secured during the day with little interference from the enemy. All information received confirms the severity of the German losses in the recent fighting in this area.

"With the exception of a sector about 2000 yards long immediately west of Bullecourt, we now hold the whole of the Hindenburg line from a point one mile east of Bullecourt to Arras.

"The hostile artillery has again shown considerable activity on the north bank of the Scarpe.

"There was great aerial activity yesterday. A number of successful bombing raids were carried out and our airplanes co-operated excellently with our infantry in the attacks, engaging the enemy troops in the enemy's front-line trenches with machine-gun fire.

"In the air fighting seven German airplanes were downed, of which one fell inside our lines. Eight others were driven down out of control. Another hostile machine was shot down out of control by our anti-aircraft guns. Four of our airplanes are missing."

BOY SCOUTS TO HELP SELL LIBERTY BONDS.

NEW YORK, May 21.—In answer to a request by President Wilson, more than 300,000 men and boys, members of the Boy Scouts of America, will make a house-to-house canvass of millions of American homes, seeking popular subscriptions to the liberty loan, it was announced here tonight by Colin N. Livingstone, president of the organization.

The announcement was made after a meeting of the Boy Scouts executive board called especially to consider the letter in which the President made his request. It was unanimously agreed to carry out the President's suggestion.

The executive board adopted a plan which involves the organizations of all Boy Scouts and officials for an intensive campaign of four days from June 11 to 14. Ten million appeals with subscription blanks attached will be distributed.

It was reported at the meeting that there now are 232,000 boys and 70,000 men definitely enrolled as members of the Boy Scouts. The records show that for the last six weeks membership has been increased at the rate of 1500 a day.

The executive board also voted to continue as active members with full ranks and all privileges, Boy Scouts and officials who enlist in any branch of the government service.

NO DOCTORS' CAMP FOR LEON SPRINGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 21.—Preparation for a camp to accommodate 600 medical reserve officers at Leon Springs, Tex., were stopped today on receipt or orders from the War Department. The reason assigned was that a majority of the physicians expected to enlist will be from the North and East and that Leon Springs is too far south.

GREAT PLANT SOLD TO SALVAGE FIRM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 21.—That the great plant of the Oilport Refining Company near Pizmo has been sold to salvaging contractors was reported here today. The plant was built in 1906 at a cost of approximately $1,500,000, subscribed principally by French capitalists. The refining and producing company, with L. A. Phillips as manager, had previously brought in several wells on the Graciosa lease in the Santa Maria fields, but by the time the refinery could be erected and equipped the wells had gone to water, and not enough oil could be obtained to make the refinery pay. The plant was abandoned after a run of eight days. The Pacific Coast Railway Company recently bought rails and ties belonging to the company, and will use them in laying its new spur to the Bell lease in Cat Canyon, operated by the Pan-American Investment Company.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN IS FOUND BY POSSE.

EL CENTRO, May 21.—Miss Anna L. Walsh, 30 years old, the Los Angeles woman who was lost near the Mexican line Saturday night, was found at 11 o'clock tonight by Sheriff Applestill and posse in a hovel fourteen miles southwest of this city, near Mt. Signal. Miss Walsh, who said she had been plied with liquor by an aged man and woman in the hut, since she wandered there, was in a critical condition. She said she walked all Saturday night in the dense canebrakes of New River, coming upon the hut at daybreak. She was brought to the Barbara Worth Hotel.

Baker Escapes.

MASKED NEGROES "COVER" THREE MEN, ROB STORE.

A BAND of masked negro automobile bandits late last night held up three men at the point of a gun in a wholesale liquor establishment and attempted likewise to rob a baker.

The outlaw trio first appeared at the bakery of H. E. Epzler, No. 3702 Maple avenue. Mr. Epzler was just retiring for the night when he saw the negroes step from an automobile to adjust white masks over their faces. He ran to the door and closed it before the three bandits could enter. The masked men sprang into their car without making further efforts to enter the bakery.

As Mr. Epzler was reporting the attempted hold-up to the University police, a call for help reached the Sheriff's office. N. G. Walter, proprietor of the Vernon Wine and Liquor Company, at Vernon avenue and Alameda street, reported that he had just been held up and robbed in his store by three masked negroes who escaped in an automobile.

Mr. Walters told Deputy Sheriffs Broadwell and Blaylock he was closing the store when the three entered and "covered" himself and two other men with their weapons. While two of the negroes held the victims at bay, the third rifled the cash register. Only $10 was taken.

Several automobiles filled with deputy sheriffs and police officers patrolled the southwestern section of the city, but could find no trace of the bandits.

Robinson Crusoe never had been introduced to Samuel Hall, who aspired to become a soldier of fortune despite his 78 years, but early yesterday morning Mr. Hall entered the primitive life. He disappeared from his home at No. 1562 Fairmont way. Late last night he was found building a fire in the rear of a yard near Elysian Park.

Mr. Hall's disappearance was first reported to the Sheriff's office. Deputies were sent into the hills north and west of the city to find him but late last night were unable to locate him.

Mr. Hall was discovered by Officer Gigrich, who saw a blaze in the yard at No. 1281½ Elysian Park avenue. In the flare of the fire the old man was preparing to retire on a bed of leaves.

BEGINS DRIVE ON UNION PLOTTERS

Blackmailing Movie Operators on Chicago Grid.

Sixty Witnesses are on Hand for Graft Inquiry.

Damaging Evidence Said to be Ready for Jury.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 21.—State's Attorney Hoyne's drive against members of Local No. 157, Moving-picture Operators' Union, accused of blackmailing, was begun today before the grand jury. Sixty or more witnesses, most of them owners or managers of moving-picture theaters, who have been threatened with the destruction of their playhouses if graft money was not forthcoming, they say, were on hand to testify.

Michael J. ("Umbrella Mike") Boyle, already singled out by the State's Attorney as the instigator of a gigantic extortion scheme, with theater owners the principal victims, and twenty or more men alleged to be working under his instructions, was expected to be hit hard by the grand jury investigation. Boyle was recently convicted in the Federal courts and sentenced to one year in prison and to pay a fine of $1000.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

Damaging evidence against the alleged blackmailers was said to be in the hands of Adolph Proskaur, architect of the Castle Theater, State and Madison streets, who got an ante-mortem statement from Dr. Bothar Schwartz, the owner, and who was among the witnesses waiting to testify today before the grand jury. Dr. Schwartz, just before he died last December, is said to have told the architect of having been driven to pay tribute to the alleged grafters. His statement will be read to the grand jury by Assistant State's Attorney Nicholas Michels, in charge of the investigation.

Joseph Hopp, president of the Exhibitors' League, which was organized to fight the extortion methods of the local, was on hand ready to testify that his life had been threatened in letters if he did not desist in his intention to expose the members of the grafting clique.

THREATENING LETTERS.

Mrs. Myrtle McFadden, owner of a moving-picture house at West Madison and Paulina streets, was waiting to tell of having received threatening letters regarding the safety of her property if she refused to "come through" with protection money. She allowed the threats to go unheeded, with the result that an explosion occurred in the theater, destroying property valued at several hundred dollars.

Alfred Hamburger, Henry Liebling, Joseph Trena, Henry Schoenstadt and Nathan, Max and Harry Ascher, all with big moving-picture interests in Chicago, were on hand to testify.

State's Attorney Hoyne announced that he would spend as much time as he could with the grand jury to assist in bringing out as many facts relating to the case as possible. He said he considered "Local No. 157" as purely and simply a blackmail organization and that its members were not good union labor men at heart.

FRENCH AND GERMAN ENGAGEMENT AT SEA.

BERLIN (via London) May 21, 10:50 a.m.—An engagement between German and French torpedo boats off the coast of Flanders is reported in an official announcement from the Admiralty. The announcement says:

"On the morning of the 20th, off the coast of Flanders, a short outpost engagement took place between German and French torpedo boats. The enemy boats were repeatedly hit by our artillery and our vessels returned without losses or damage."

The French official statement issued yesterday reported that a flotilla of German destroyers had been driven back to its base by a patrol of four French torpedo boats. The statement said that one of the French vessels had suffered some damage.

Frank Troeh, merchant of Van couver, Wash., in his more luc moments, spattered fourteen cla birds to the four winds Monda morning in the opening ove of the great California-Nevada Stat tournament. Then Mr. Troeh held feetle high on a bird that went feetle low, and birdie sped, rejoic ing for the net, while the score gave a low mpan like a bull-cal that is very, very dry, meaning "Pfut," and put down a little roun dicots for that shot.

Whereupon the Vancouver man t the bright red jersey said some naughty words down his collar, grit ted his teeth, ran out the rest o that twenty without a miss, and got also nine more events o twenty, without a miss, which means 200 ex. 200 if you'll stop to figure.

That's shooting, no matter in what pack of the woods it happens, be cause the birdies in the California Nevada are hard birdies, both in composition and in speed. Not the perfect, brittle, easy-breaking tar gets with the perfect background of Bruner's Vernon Club. As flown from the four traps out at Fred Teeple's during this tourna ment the birds no more start than they're there, like the charge of shot from the cullud gentman's gun.

At 8, Mr. Troeh took high money and the first of the five diamond ones up for five high men, with out a dissenting voice.

By the width of two single birds back of Mr. Troeh, came Hugo Poss ley, the diminutive professional of the Hercules Company, having twenty-seven to his credit, and then Possley rambled along in the dust a steps and weary procession of gents in the 190 class, from 196 for H. Evenson, down to 190, which same by means 95 per cent. over the live birds.

In Sunday's shoot there appeared a gentleman by the name of H. Evenson, hailing from Newman, which is in the San Joaquin Valley, known to most of the southern shooters, and just appeared over the horizon of the few really formidable shots on the coast. His score for Sunday out of the 100 was just 99, his score for Monday was 196, third place, and the two added together gave the said brown-faced Mr. Evenson high for the two days by a large and juicy margin. Pease, also hail from the north, ran the Newman horse and horse until the last event, dropping a bird in that event, and going out one pew be-

The scores of Monday seem to prove that as also-rans, the southern bunch are a fine bunch of shotgun artists. Consider the dope sheet, where the southern men in the main, and used to the ground. First, Pease, third and fourth, northern men; fifth, man from San Diego, tied with local man; seventh and eighth, northern men. Vancouver, Wash., in the person of Mr. Troeh, was first; San Francisco, second, Mr. Preston, Newman, third, Mr. Evenson; Elko, Nev., fourth, Pease; San Diego, fifth, on shoot-off, Mr. Weiser. Somewhere down the rock there came along the Hon. Mr. Pfirrman with 192, and the unbeatable Mr. Mellus, with 189, in spite of his wonderful run down at Fresno last week.

Wherefore it is hoped the local shoot will loosen up the wraps and permit the Handicap Committee and Mr. Pfirrman themselves just a little bit to-morrow less these upstart trapshooting "furriners" pack up our traps and grounds and take the next works north with them as they are of no particular use down here.

I am requested to mention the fact that inasmuch as R. B. Witman donated the money for first place in the doubles event Sunday, it is fitting that he be also given credit for the place instead of F. H. Mellus, who didn't get first. Also for this that Teeple will furnish a drink to any applicant mentioning it.

A feature of the shoot Monday was the fine work of the hoodoo boy in the traphouse sprung by saying special attention to Mr. Evans of late. Tied for a handsome diamond pin with Mr. Evans of San Diego, Mr. Evans and Mr. W. got together privily and matched pennies for it, Mr. Evans winning. But, the rules of the game specified that ties be shot off, wherefore the unfortunate Mr. Evans and Mr. Weiser were bundled into their shooting togs and dragged out and set to shooting off the tie. Mr. Weiser remember that Mr. Evans had won in the matching of pennies? He did not. Instead he killed every bird on the nose that the boy in the traphouse sprung for him, while Mr. Evans dropped them in quick succession, and lost. Evans is the gentleman who made the 198 ex. 200 in ten twenty-bird events to shoot off a tie with Andy Flickinger last week, finally losing out to Mr. Flickinger's 199. Which goes to show that some folks simply will win, even if they have temporary success matching pennies. At the present writing divers persons, inspired by earlier hopes of winning the great shoot Wednesday for the State championship, are moving in circles around Frank Troeh, holder of the national amateur trapshooting championship of the country, and wondering whether he could be persuaded to look on the wine when it is red along about Monday night. Mr. Troeh is reported that conviviality with your kind at this stage of the game is, generally speaking, somewhat ill-ad-

AMERICAN-BOUND SHIP TORPEDOED

PARIS, May 21, 5 a.m.—The French steamer Colbert, which was torpedoed in the Mediterranean April 30, was on her way to Salonika when she was sunk.

The ship was struck by a torpedo below the water line and the engine room was immediately flooded. There was no sign of a submarine as the ship began to sink rapidly by the stern, and the lifeboats were launched.

The Colbert sank in five minutes and after she had disappeared the submarine emerged and, as is the custom, her commander asked the names, description and destination of her victim. Before he could get his information a French patrol boat appeared and opened fire. Altogether four shots had been fired the submarine submerged just as a seaplane appeared on the horizon.

Vanderbilt's Offer of Yacht to Patrol Only Safe Waters, with Adoo's Son as Commander, Arouses Ire of Illinois Representative.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 21.—The [illegible] has gone all over the country that the sons of the common people are to be drafted into the army, but that the sons of Cabinet officers "must be given fat jobs out of danger," was the charge made in the House today by Representative Mann of Illinois. Speaking on the section of the revenue bill which provides for the taxing of pleasure yachts, Representative Mann called the attention of the House to the fact that Alfred G. Vanderbilt's yacht Alva had been offered to the government only to patrol Maryland waters.

"That is a safe place, by the way," he observed. "This fine patriotism, to whom credit is due, offers the boat to the government to go where an enemy's fleet cannot possibly reach it and have it in use during the war."

Referring to the report that the yacht is to be commanded by a son of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Mr. Mann said:

"If that be the case, instead of being drafted into the service of the government of the United States he will be paid to keep out of danger because there is no danger for a yacht in Chesapeake Bay when it gets out in the water somewhere. Perhaps the danger will not be from the enemy, but lack of nautical skill."

WILSON FOOD PLAN WIN BRITISH PRAISE

KENNEDY JONES COMMENTS ON HOOVER'S APPOINTMENT.

Economic Director Says Prosecution will be Spared in Case of Waste of Grain Sent by the Allies from America—Asking for Us to Adopt a Policy.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 21, 6 p.m.—President Wilson has put the control and food economy in a nutshell; we are working on the line he so successfully pursued," declared Kennedy Jones, director of food economy, to the American Press when asked his opinion regarding President Wilson's announcement of his appointment of Herbert C. Hoover as food administrator of the United States.

"We are equally convinced in this country," continued Mr. Jones, "that there will be only a small, if any, minority which it will be necessary to discipline by the full exercise of such powers as the President is hesitating to make examples of, for instance, a fine of £100 or more, proposed Saturday upon a retired colonel, who also was a magistrate, for feeding wheat and grain to pigeons and poultry.

"No step or prosecution will be spared here to prevent the waste of grain, which we shall get from our allies in America. At the same time, we are profiting by Mr. Hoover's unequalled experience as far as possible, and are utilizing the ordinary distributing agencies to enable us to grapple with the problems of supply and distribution.

"As regards supply, and as regards prices, we find it necessary to move until some such food power as the President outlined is put in operative in the United States. Without adequate control there would be fruitless rise in food prices requiring regulations here upon the necessities of life.

"It is scarcely necessary to point out the satisfaction felt here at the appointment of Mr. Hoover by the Allies know by experience his intimate and unexcelled grasp of the food problem and his remarkable ability to disentangle the most intricate complications.

"There are doubtless many men coming from America who have won fame on the battlefields of Europe, but, in Mr. Hoover President Wilson already has a general who has more than two years' experience of the qualities of war and actual victories in its most complex form, namely, the rationing of nations."

GERMAN REPORT FROM ARRAS FRONT

BERLIN, May 21 (via London, 4:16 p.m.)—The German troops at Arras front yesterday maintained their positions except in the region of the battle-wrecked trench which was stormed by the British attack Sunday on an extended front of one-half mile front, according to the official statement by the German general staff.

The German announcement says that the French yesterday delivered a strong attack against the German foothold on Mont Carville and Mont Kell. Yesterday's fighting in the air brought down fourteen German planes on the western front.

Then Mr. Troeh held a match high on a bird that went a little low, and birdie sped, rejoicing, for the net, while the scorer uttered a low moan like a bull-calf that is very, very dry, meaning "Oh," and put down a little round zero for that shot.

Therefore the Vancouver man is the right red jersey said some caustic words down his collar, gritted his teeth, ran out the rest of the twenty without a miss, and got out also nine more events of fifty without a miss, which means a total of 200 if you'll stop to figure.

Sunday's shoot there appeared gentlemans by the name of H. His score for the first out of the 100 was just 99, which was for Monday was 196, third out and the two added together with the bird-faced Mr. Lorenzen for the two days by a large and lusty margin. Pease, also hailing from the north, ran the Newman horse and horse until the last event, dropping a bird in that and going out one pew behind.

The scores of Monday seem to indicate that as also-rans, the southern men put on a fine bunch of shooting. Consider the dope sheet, where southern men in the main had used to the ground. RECORD TROUT FOR SAN LUIS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 18.—Previous trout records were shattered here yesterday when A. L. Cunningham, a prominent cattleman of San Antonio, Tex., caught a "steelhead" measuring thirty-three inches in length and weighing eleven pounds, in one of the deep pools near the San Luis Hot Sulphur Springs.

This is the second time the trout record has been broken this season. The opening day of the season a thirty-two-inch steelhead was hooked at San Carpojo by Fred Blankenfield. He brought back eight of the largest trout of the kind ever seen here, the smallest being seventeen inches long. His thirty-two-inch trout surpassed the record of last season by two inches.

Cunningham's catch, however, surpasses all previous ones to date of which there is any local record. Besides the "big one," the Texas visitor landed the limit in a few hours. He is looked upon as a dangerous competitor in the trout tourney that Walter A. Fischer, proprietor of the San Luis Hot Sulphur Springs, is arranging among the guests of his popular resort.

CORONADO WILL REVIVE RACING.

SAN DIEGO, May 20.—A series of gentlemen's running horse races are to be held at the old Coronado race track this summer, the first matinee to be held on May 30. It is planned to hold once a week, racing throughout the summer. The track encircles the Coronado Country Club where in the past many fast races have been run. Maj. Colin G. Ross and Carl Lundquist of the Spreckles company, will be in charge of the races. It is probable that Claus Spreckels will be one of the judges.

The race strings of Walter Dupee, Ed Kauffman, George Billerman and Harry Morris and many others will be here, some of the horses of which are now at Tia Juana. The opening card will consist of five running races and one or two trotting races for gentleman riders and drivers only. A riding race for cavalry officers will be a feature of the day.

Cliffdwellers, Attention!

POLY ENJOYS ITSELF AT MANUAL ARTS' EXPENSE.

Mechanics Assure Themselves of a Place in the Top Row of the City Baseball Championship—Los Angeles High School will Have to Defeat Lincoln Today to be in the Running—Riggins Bats a Thousand.

BY KAY OWE.

IF THERE'S anything that gives real pleasure to the Polytechnic baseball team, it's kicking the tar out of Manual Arts. The Mechanics enjoyed themselves thoroughly yesterday afternoon. After nine ferocious innings the Poly team discovered itself on the long end of a 12 to 4 score and ceased firing.

This triumph puts Polytechnic in a very satisfactory position as far as the city championship is concerned. The worst that can happen to them is to wind up, tied for first place honors. If Los Angeles High loses to Lincoln today, Polytechnic is the champion. If the Cliffdwellers win they will be on the same plane with the Mechanics.

For the first three rounds the Manual Arts lads had a little the best of the argument. They bounced a run across in the initial frame and quickly followed it with three more in the third.

NO MORE.

Although they didn't know it at the time, this was all the damage they were destined to do.

Taking up the good work where the Manual Arts team left off, the Mechanics opened up a wild scoring session and managed to negotiate runs in solos, duets, and flocks, and with the single exception of the sixth inning, the Washington-street boys scored in every frame.

Besides being an excellent hit-and-run festival, the game was a pretty fair exhibition of baseball. The fielding was questionable in spots and the pitching had a tendency to wabble but the general average would have been along in the "good" column.

Buck was the first man to inspire a cheer. He stepped up to the plate for Polytechnic in the first frame and was beaned with a pitched ball. The Poly rooters immediately demanded a run. Morrison approached the plate and was likewise beaned. Buck then stole third and Morrison followed him to second. Riggins, the batting sensation of the day, manfully took the situation in at a glance and whaled out a neat single. Both Buck and Morrison came home.

COME BACK.

The Manual Arts outfit immediately came back and scored a run themselves. Alexander took a base on balls and advanced on a single by Benjamin. A couple of errors brought Alexander humming across the plate.

In the third the Tollers stacked up runs with recklessness that predicted victory. Hammerman singled and advanced on a single by Alexander. After stealing a base Hammerman came across on an error. Benjamin took a free base on balls and stole a base himself. Hathaway singled and scored his two associates.

This outburst was sufficient to place the Tollers well in the lead and they should have stopped right there. For the landslide started at once.

Riggins doubled in the fourth, stole third and came home on a hot grounder to the shortstop. The fifth was replete with hits and stolen bases. Buck took a base on balls and stole second. Morrison singled and scored Buck. After swiping a few bases Morrison came home on Riggins's single.

Both sides were content to rest during the sixth. Buck tripled in the seventh and came home on a single by Riggins.

In the eighth Lenke negotiated first on an error by the first baseman, stole second and was advanced across the plate when Zins popped a hot single to left. This young man took advantage of all opportunities and finally scored on a wild throw. Buck reached first on a fielder's choice, rambled around the bases and scored on a wild heave to the plate.

Johnson opened the ninth with a single, took second on a passed ball, third on a hot grounder and scored on Lenke's single. Buck then did some heavy stick work and scored Lenke, quickly following this gent across the plate himself.

Two More Events.

MOTOR RACING SEASON LIKELY TO BE CUT OFF.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 21.—Automobile racing probably will have a brief and not altogether glorious career in the United States this season. The American Automobile Association, controlling body in racing affairs, is considering putting a ban on the issuance of sanctions for races for the duration of the war and it is likely that this course of action will be adopted. This will limit the season's racing to the affair held two weeks ago at Uniontown, Pa., the May 30 race at Cincinnati and the June 16 affair at Speedway Park.

As sanctions for the latter two events have already been issued and the promoters allowed to incur considerable expense, it is not deemed probable that any steps will be taken to call off the events.

It is understood, that this action by the A.A.A., is in accordance with a suggestion made by the War Department. Virtually all the leading drivers and mechanicians of the speedway circuit are enrolled in one or the other branches of the army and so are liable to call to the colors at almost any time. Most of the leading drivers are enrolled in the aviation service and many others will be needed for their expert engineering ability in the various divisions of the army where the use of gasoline motors are required.

The two races which are scheduled for this season, however, promise to be as classy as any held in the past, unless the entrants are called to the colors. At Cincinnati, with a week more to hear from drivers, a field of thirty-one cars has been nominated and it is expected that before the elimination trials are started at least forty machines will be in line. The elimination trials at Cincinnati call for a minimum speed of ninety miles an hour, but it is probable all the machines entered will be able to make that requirement.

COAST LEAGUE IN FINE SHAPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 21.—Of all the minor baseball leagues in the United States, the Pacific Coast is the only one so far that has not found it necessary to issue a warning as to retrenchment.

President A. T. Raum, after a trip of investigation to Salt Lake, today declared that no salary cuts or reduction in the number of players is as yet contemplated.

"I've talked now with all the club owners save those in the south," he said, "and from what we can gather, our league is in the best condition of any of the minors."

DEER LIMIT IS TWO AS BEFORE.

Fish and Game Board Meets to Attack Fishery Work.

Southern California Leading State in Importance.

Reasonable Conservation Law Sought; Some Changes.

Hon. Frank M. Newbert, president of the Fish and Game Commission, who personally led the battle in behalf of safe and sane conservation legislation at Sacramento last winter, is in Los Angeles for the dual purposes of attending a meeting of the State board, and participating in the big California-Nevada State trapshooting tournament.

With Commissioner Newbert are Edward L. Bosqui, commissioner in charge of San Francisco office, Executive Secretary Carl Westerfeld, and Norman B. Scofield, head of the commercial fisheries department.

The board was in session all yesterday afternoon and resumed in the evening after dinner with Commissioner Connell at his residence.

As a result of the meetings, a definite and businesslike plan for the regulation of commercial fisheries and kelp-harvesting, founded upon exhaustive research, will be put into operation at once.

Laws were enacted last winter which delegate entire control of the kelp and fisheries industries to the Fish and Game Commission with license tax provisions to finance research and enforcement. Commercial Fisheries Expert Scofield stated yesterday that the fisheries of California south of Point Conception were worth over double the value of that of the rest of the State; that the tuna industry alone had come to represent about three times as much to the commonwealth as the salmon industry; that last year some 10,000 tons of sardines were canned in Southern California, more than double the output of Monterey. In other words, the fisheries of the south have assumed such magnitude that their proper conservation is become one of the most important public services offering in the State today, and in a proper realisation of the premium placed by war urgency upon every possible food supply, the Fish and Game Commission has entered upon its broadest field of duty to all the people.

President Newbert, in sketching briefly some of the relatively few changes in the fish and game laws made last year, points out that a great deal of effort was devoted to discouraging numerous bills which would have set back rational conservation several years had they prevailed. Very few alterations in seasons were made; none in bag limits, as this commissioner's life-long experience as a California sportsman taught him that reasonable laws meeting with popular favor went far toward enforcing themselves, while needlessly drastic laws fostered violation. Although Southern California deer conditions call for a one-buck limit, to discriminate would conflict with the legislation of bringing deer legally killed in one district back to another where they are forbidden to be shot at that time; and this law probably will become effective, as it has been an object of the State Board for several years. It permits the law-abiding sportsman to give his family at home a taste of venison without forcing him to sneak it in and violate a technicality of the law only necessary to head off subterfuges, and easily corrected by the new legislation without imperiling Southern California's sadly depleted deer. Commissioner Newbert reports deer are increasing in the north appreciably.

Commissioner Bosqui has followed field sports since boyhood and is known about San Francisco as an ardent and accomplished hunter and angler, unusually versed in lore of the wild. One of his hopes is to see the State board vested with discretionary authority to close down certain districts and seasons whenever natural or other emergency should arise making such action advisable; and in this the entire sportsmanship of the State concurs, feeling that any fish and game board worthy to exist is certain to make wise and useful exercise of such amplified power.

MOTORCYCLISTS HAVE NICE RIDE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, May 21.—Twenty motorcyclists who reside here and at Lordsburg made a pleasure run to Little Bear Lake on Sunday, leaving here early and returning late. They claim that the roads over which they passed are excellent, even those on the mountainsides. The trip was made without mishap. Half way up the mountain switchbacks the riders enjoyed the unique experience of seeing clouds below them and clouds above them, while there were clouds ahead for them to ride through.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jamieson, Bert and Pearl McCain, Harold Cox, Charles McCarty, Ray Mason, F

Bad Time to Ask Taxpayers To Vote More Power Bonds

Bent on committing the city to another big power bond issue, regardless of the great national crisis which is certain to lay a heavy burden on every taxpayer, the Council has put it up to the voters to decide "for" or "against" another $2,000,000 for the power project.

Aside from the fact that the public is in no mood to consider more power bonds until it is shown definite and profitable results from the $10,000,000 heretofore voted for power purposes, the present time will certainly not appeal to the common sense of voters as a good one for assuming further mortgages on their properties to benefit a proposition regarding which there is so much righteous criticism in its administration.

With the Federal government sending out for collection, the greatest war tax revenue bill ever passed and with full knowledge that its burden will weigh heavily on every individual, whether he owns property or not, there will be specially violent opposition to any bonds at this time. It may be admitted that there are certain municipal needs that are well-nigh imperative, like those needed for maintenance of proper sanitary policy; but the proposed $2,000,000 power bonds have no excuse for being offered at all, least of all at this time.

With $610,000 in the City Treasury in cash and with unsold bonds amounting to $3,054,000 to the credit of the power project, the appeal for another $2,000,000 will surely fall on deaf ears.

Use the proceeds from bonds already voted your project, gentlemen, before coming for more, and when you do so present your claim for further bond concessions from the taxpayers, have results to show for expenditures heretofore permitted you by an indulgent electorate!

Just bear in mind that this proposed $2,000,000 is only the first call for an installment series of power bond issues, running into nobody can guess how many millions.

EXAMINER, Oct. 21, 1916.

Scattergood, analyzing, in a report to the Mayor, the proposals made by ALL THREE of the PRIVATE POWER CORPORATIONS, said: "The value of the companies' distributing properties, viewed as going concerns with profitable business attached, does not exceed, under extreme liberal estimate, $8,650,000. A new system covering the entire city, including all annexed territory and making full allowance for present high prices of equipment, copper and other materials, will cost not to exceed $7,500,000. Compared with the cost of a new system, the present worth of the companies' distributing properties, on the basis of their physical value, is less than $6,000,000. Add to this, $3,000,000, or over 50%, for going concern and profitable business without competition, we have something less than $9,000,000 as the outside value of such properties. With the steam plant of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, which it claims it will not need apart from its distributing system, added to the other property to be purchased, we have a total value, including going concern and all other elements of value, of less than $10,000,000."

Note:—In spite of this positive declaration, behold interested officials "boosting" a bond issue of $2,000,000, the first toward $12,000,000, and urging a payment of $9,415,000 to but two of the private power companies for but two-thirds of the electric business and territory of the city.—[Advertisement.

Calomel Today! Sick Tomorrow!
I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Don't take nasty, dangerous calomel when bilious, constipated, headachy. Listen to me!

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are Bilious, feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

NEW CARMEL METHOD.

Why, my dear Mrs. Chadwick, how wonderfully well you are looking today.

Thank you, Mrs. Bryson, I am feeling fine—just had one of the finest shampoos I ever had in my life—can't really call it a shampoo—it was more like a general scientific treatment of the nerves of the head. So many of my friends are patrons of the New Carmel Method of Shampooing, who have their parlors in the Wright & Callender Building, 4th and Hill Sts. The effect of their method is truly marvelous—they use their tonics and ointments and they furnish the lemon rinse gratis, or when a dry shampoo is requested they use bran and brush the hair so thoroughly and scientifically massage the scalp. Really, one feels amply rewarded and refreshed. Their charge for either one is only 75c a treatment.

Oh, I am so glad I met you—I will make an appointement today—must treat myself to one of those wonderful shampoos.

Good-bye, dear. Their telephone number is F6117.

DEATH COMES UNEXPECTEDLY.

Standard Oil Man Stricken in Daughter's Home.

Pasadena Millionaire Leaves for French Front.

Resigns Government Position to Become Aviator.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, May 22.—William Cullen McBride, stockholder in the Standard Oil Company and a prominent business man of St. Louis, Mo., died yesterday afternoon from apoplexy at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lacy Love, No. 1333 Oakland avenue, Oak Knoll. He was 58 years old and a native of Pennsylvania. Recently he bought a handsome home across the street from his daughter, at No. 1330 Oakland avenue.

Mr. McBride leaves a widow and three other daughters beside Mrs. Love. They are Mrs. Birch Mahaffey, and Misses Ellen and Dorothy McBride of St. Louis.

Mr. McBride had been a winter visitor in Pasadena for a number of years, and lately concluded to buy a home and remain here. The body will be sent to St. Louis for burial, leaving Pasadena today in a private car, and accompanied by Mrs. McBride and daughters.

Lacy Marion Love, son-in-law of Mr. McBride, died two weeks ago at Palm Springs. Mr. McBride donated the $100,000 altar in the Catholic Cathedral at St. Louis.

SAILS FOR FRANCE.

Giving up office duties as assistant director of the National Research Council in Washington, Tod Ford has resigned his position and sailed for France to engage in military aviation. The unexpected change in Mr. Ford's plans became known in Pasadena yesterday afternoon through telegrams sent from New York to Freeman Ford, his brother, Lloyd Macy and other friends.

Mr. Ford took up his duties in Washington six weeks ago, largely through the influence of Prof. George E. Hale of Pasadena, director of the Council. At the time that Mr. Ford accepted the appointment he was preparing to take special training in aviation.

In one of the telegrams, Mr. Ford stated that he would take up "intensive training" with the Lafayette Squadron. He made the highest record in aviation last summer at the Monterey training camp and was awarded a silver trophy for excellence by the Overland Club of Pasadena. Mrs. Ford is in New York. Their young daughter is in Pasadena.

LOOKS FOR PROSPERITY.

A. E. Edwards, president of the First National Bank, returned from New York yesterday, convinced that immediately after the United States government begins making war purchases on a large scale, which will be in the immediate future, the country will enjoy the greatest prosperity in its history.

"Much has been said of the wonderful progress of the United States in the last two years, but this will doubtedly will be passed and by a big margin before the end of the year," Mr. Edwards declared. "I found this to be the opinion of bankers of the East and business men in general. It is now pretty generally understood that any interruption of business would be a serious handicap to America in carrying on the war."

BUYS AMERICAN CARS.

C. M. Pleyte of The Hague, Holland, who arrived at the Maryland yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Pleyte, says that India is buying American motor cars at the rate of 1000 a month. He says that America is now building up an extensive trade in the Orient. Formerly most of the motor cars used in India, came from England. Mr. Pleyte is a director of the Bataafsche Petroleum Company of The Hague, which has extensive oil interests in the Dutch East Indies.

NEW ROAD SAVES TIME AND TEMPERS.

CALEXICO, May 21.—President Borquis of Mexicali, with the indorsement of Gov. Cantu, is putting the road from Calexico to Yuma through Lower California in good shape for touring. The route cuts off about four hours in time between Los Angeles and Yuma by the old all-American road and has no sand or grades. It parallels the Inter-California Railroad through the wonderful farming section of Lower California with ranches all the way and no thought of trouble for water. One thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Mexicali authorities and the remainder raised by popular subscription.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby the necessary permits to travel through Mexico can be quickly obtained and without trouble, provision even being made for carrying arms. In the case of unidentified persons it may be necessary for such articles as guns and revolvers to go through sealed, but this will not prove much of an inconvenience.

BIG COMPANIES BUSY IN VENTURA.

EDISON AND SESPE ENGAGED ON LARGE WORKS.

Surveys Being Made for High Line Through Santa Clara Valley and Also for Two-million-dollar Project—Shell Company Gets Extra Pure Oil.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, May 20.—The Edison and the Sespe light and power companies shows much activity in this county at the present time. Surveys are being made for a high line for the Edison company through the Santa Clara Valley, touching at Saticoy and running back to Santa Barbara, with the primary purpose to supply the latter and the Ojai. The line will run from Castaic to Santa Barbara. The new line will be an addition in co-operation with the Pacific Light and Power Corporation.

The Sespe Light and Power Company has been given permission to appropriate eighty-eight cubic feet of water per second of the waters of the Sespe River, tributary to the Santa Clara River in Ventura county, for the generation of electric power.

The works consist of a diversion and storage dam 175 feet high, 2300 feet long on top and seventy-five feet at bottom, of loose rock, concrete masonry, rip-rap, etc., the reservoir formed, being capable of impounding 57,000 acre feet of water. The total fall to be utilized is 1000 feet, and it is proposed to generate 960 theoretical horse power.

The main canal and flume is to be nine miles in length and the total estimated cost is given as $2,000,000. The water is to be returned to the Sespe River after use.

OILS TESTS HIGH.

The Shell Oil Company, No. 1, on the Hartmann lease, has drilled through the cement at a depth of 2600 feet. Before the pump was put on, this fifty-barrel well flowed a water white oil, testing at 62 gravity, the highest tested crude petroleum in the United States on record. It is so near pure gasoline that it requires very little refining.

PRO-GERMANS WARNED BY ARTESIA CITIZENS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ARTESIA, May 20.—The first blood spilled over the war with Germany was shed yesterday, when L. C. McCann and H. J. Redmund fought. Redmund made slighting remarks about the American troops and McCann, who is a loyal American, objected. After each man had drawn blood other citizens stopped the fight. Another street broil also was stopped. There are other German sympathizers here and the business men have determined they must stop talking. If the disloyal speech continues the men will be reported to the Federal authorities.

FIRE BURNS OVER EXTENSIVE AREA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, May 21.—Extra precautions against losses by fire in oil fields and grain-growing districts are being taken, oil companies removing dry grass and other combustible material from the vicinity of rigs, tanks, stations and different buildings, and ranchers plowing fire guards around fields of grain and about dwelling houses and barns.

The breaking of a high-tension wire on the line of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation along the North McKittrick front and the Belridge field caused a fire in some grass into which the wire dropped. This was in the immediate vicinity of the ranch of James Ames, twelve miles northwest of Reward. When the flames were seen by Mr. Ames he gave the alarm and, assisted by the members of three drilling crews at work one mile distant, the fire was extinguished, but not until about 600 acres, unoccupied, had been burned over.

The country about the North McKittrick, Temblor and Belridge fields and in the Carissa Plains region has had some large grass fires within the past two or three years.

Long Beach Yard Ready for Ship Construction.

Craig not Notified of Award of Big Contracts.

San Francisco Capitalists in the New Company.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, May 21.—Declaring that his yards have the capacity for turning out such ships, John F. Craig, who has just returned to this city from a business trip to San Francisco, tonight refused to further discuss telegrams from Washington that the ship builder had been awarded contracts for the construction of two immense steel freighters for the United States government at a cost of $1,500,000 each.

Mr. Craig refused to either confirm or deny the report that he had placed a bid on such vessels with the government, but did go so far as to state that he had not been informed that he had been awarded any such contracts.

It was reported today that the two huge commerce carriers would follow on the ship berths now being used for the construction of two steel steamships at a cost of $450,000 apiece for Swayne & Hoyt of San Francisco.

The two new government steamships would be twice the size of any ship ever launched in Long Beach harbor before, but Mr. Craig stated he possessed adequate facilities to complete them.

Mr. Craig said tonight that he was not included personally in the recently incorporated Craig Shipbuilding Company, formerly of Maine, but now of Long Beach.

"The Craigs mentioned in the corporation papers are my two sons, John E. and James G. Craig," he asserted. "I am backing my boys in the proposition, but am not directly identified with it. Swayne & Hoyt of San Francisco are financially interested in the corporation. Lloyd Swayne will be one of the permanent directors. The company has not elected its officers as yet."

John and James Craig, the two sons of the shipbuilder, are youths just out of high school, both of whom have chosen to follow in the footsteps of their father in business.

EDUCATION BOARD MAY MAKE LEVY.

EXPECTS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE NEW LAW.

Alhambra District Having Denied Bond Issue It is Planned to Tax Property Owners in Order to Build Addition at Ynes and Improve Several Grounds.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, May 21.—This school district having failed by forty-two votes to authorize the $15,000 school bonds asked for by the Board of Education for building an addition to Ynez school and improving the grounds of the other four grammar schools, the board will probably take advantage of the law passed by the last Legislature allowing a tax levy, not to exceed 15 mills, for school improvement purposes. If the levy is made the board will add but one room now to Ynez school instead of four rooms, as planned under the bond issue. The entire outlay for the district would be between $7000 and $8000 and would meet present emergencies.

TOO REALISTIC.

The other day over at San Gabriel the Quiros children, living on San Marcos street, were playing in the yard when it was suggested that they play "Indian." This was agreeable, and one of the boys, assuming the role of chief, proceeded to exercise his authority. He had a formidable-looking knife in his possession, which he brandished viciously to demonstrate that he was a bad "Injun." He made a dash for his little 6-year-old sister and thrust the knife blade down her throat. The blood flowed freely and it was believed at the time that she was fatally injured. The child was rushed to Dr. Meradith's office and it was found that, on account of the dullness of the instrument, no serious results would follow.

LOSES A FINGER.

Marshal Manzer of San Gabriel who, on October 29, 1916, was shot by Ramona Pina, a Mexican, has just undergone an operation at Alhambra Hospital for the removal of the little finger. Following the shooting fifty shot were taken from Manzer's breast, and half as many from his hand. Pina was wanted for an infraction of the law and resisted arrest. He is now serving a term in the penitentiary.

ARRANGE PAGEANT AT ATASCADERO.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 21.—The pageant of the American flag will be staged by the Elks at Atascadero, July 4. Co-operation has been offered by every lodge of Elks in the county, other fraternal orders and numerous civic bodies.

The presentation of "Pinafore" will be one of the features. Rehearsals of the patriotic programme begin tomorrow. It is planned to have a living flag of 1000 school children march, dance folk dances and sing patriotic songs.

The Redmen have volunteered to present the Indian pageant, and the Knights of Columbus will take steps to have the pageant of the mission fathers reproduced.

SEVEN GOLDFISH COME OUT OF SNAKES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 21.—Seeking to discover the cause of the disappearance of gold fish from a pond which he maintains on the site of his craftsman home perched high on the northern shoulder of Little Rubidoux, County Superintendent Raymond Cree killed a water snake which fell under his suspicion, and found it had swallowed seven of the finny tribe. Three fish were rescued from the belly of another snake. They were returned to the pond and one still remains to contemplate his Jonah-like experience. Five of the fish-loving snakes have been killed in the pond during the past few weeks. Birds are vieing with the reptiles in their depredations, a kingfisher being apprehended in the act of gobbling up a golden tidbit.

WOMEN COMBAT BIG GRASS FIRE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ANNETTE, May 21.—Considerable damage was done in the Bitterwater section Saturday night as the result of a fire which started on the S. B. Sumner tract. For hours the fire, which originated in the dry grass, was combatted by three women, Mrs. W. M. Cook, Nora Cook and Mrs. Charles Norton. Help was summoned from the nearest towns and the women were finally reinforced by three carloads of volunteers.

DECIDING VOTES ARE THROWN OUT.

SAWTELLE BOARD DECLARES ANNEXATION LOST.

Trustees Reject All Ballots Cast in Third Precinct on the Ground that Three More Were Cast than the Number of Persons Who Signed the Poll-book.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAWTELLE, May 21.—The Trustees tonight canvassed the votes cast at the annexation election and declared that consolidation with Los Angeles was defeated by three votes instead of having been carried by that number. This change was due to the fact that the Trustees threw out all the votes cast in Precinct No. 3. It was found that 300 votes were cast in the precinct, but only 297 persons signed the poll book.

The original vote for annexation was 618—against, 516; majority for, 3. The vote as announced by the Trustees tonight is: For, 366; against, 369; majority against, 3. It is probable an appeal will be made to the courts.

City Clerk Wilde of Los Angeles attended the meeting, as he was waiting to place the annexation question on the Los Angeles ballot for the June election. Owing to the action of the Trustees in throwing out the 300 votes the Sawtelle annexation question may not be printed on the Los Angeles ballots, however.

City Attorney C. D. Ballard said that the inspector of the precinct should have blindly taken out three ballots when he found there were more than the number of voters who signed the poll book. It was because he failed to do so that the Trustees decided they must throw out all the votes.

EQUIP VALLEY GUARDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, May 21.—Now that the Pomona Home Defense League has decided to adopt uniforms there is a plan to uniform the home guards all over the valley in similar fashion so that in case of a call to duty the valley could turn out from 200 to 300 men armed and uniformed identically. Winchester carbines are being carried. Pomona has adopted soldier Stetsons, with olive drab shirts, and khaki pants and leggings as the uniform. San Dimas plans to equip fifty men similarly and Claremont talks of uniforming sixty-five men in that way.

BAN PUT UPON GERMAN SONGS

War Department Completes Their Being Taught.

Instructions are Issued to School-teachers.

No Diluted Devotion Wanted in United States.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 21.—Following a decided stand against the teaching of German patriotic songs in American schools, Horace M. Rebok, superintendent of the Santa Monica schools, today issued instructions to his teachers that songs of Teutonic extraction be abolished from the local institutions.

The superintendent recently received a communication from the State Board of Education calling attention to complaints made by the War Department that a number of teachers in public schools in California have been teaching the patriotic singing German songs since a state of war was declared to exist between the United States and Germany. The State Board, in consequence, has requested all city and county superintendents to refrain from the use of patriotic songs of German origin in public schools.

In a statement issued today to teachers, Supt. Rebok says:

"The public schools of this country are the bulwark of our democracy. The present state of war between the United States and the imperial German government should be made an occasion for talking into the souls of the children and singing into their souls the spirit and principles of American democracy. We want no diluted devotion to democracy. American institutions among us. There are or pupils of the public schools and teachers should omit no opportunity to impress the youths under their charge with fervent devotion to these ideals. Patriotic songs of Germany are the requiem of American democracy, and have no place in American public schools.

"Where German patriotic songs are sung on American soil in the midst of war and ruthlessness, there is no loyalty, no love of country, no real intended patriotism is a pretense and a thing scandalized by the public mark. If the blood of the Hessians must out of our high schools and colleges must pay the price of government by the people and for the people in this world, and must be the innocent blood to atone for the brutal crimes of Prussianism in the days that are gone and those that are to come, then we must have no 'slackers' in the school room, or in any place where the Stars and Stripes are lifted over the heads of our children as the emblem of liberty, loyalty and truth. Surely no one who does not appreciate these sentiments of patriotism should be associated with an institution devoted to the training of youths in right standards of citizenship."

PORTERVILLE, May 21.—The Canadian Investment Company, owner of large tracts of land in Deer Creek, south of here, has filed suit against the Terra Bella irrigation district asking that a permanent injunction be issued by the Superior Court to prevent the district from drilling a large number of deep wells to secure water for the irrigation of 15,000 acres of citrus lands.

It is alleged in the complaint which is made the basis of the petition to the court, that if the district is followed out the water table throughout the Deer Creek district will be materially lowered, with consequent damage to orchard and property whose land is outside the district.

BIG GANGS ARE AT WORK IN CALEXICO

CALEXICO, May 21.—Big gangs of men are working on two different kinds of paving jobs—the laying of the surfacings. A large force of men are rushing the work on the city's tiling basin and pumping plant, and a force of linesmen and helpers are preparing to rebuild and enlarge the entire power system in the city.

QUARRY BLAST BIGGEST EVER.

Sixty-one Tons of Dynamite Exploded in a Granite Field at Corona.

Sixty-one tons of dynamite were exploded yesterday afternoon at the Temescal Rock Company at its granite quarry near Corona, perhaps the largest charge of its kind in the history of blasting operations.

This dislodged 750,000 tons of rock, or sufficient to supply thirty carloads a day for six months. One thousand feet of tunnel work was required to place the blasts and two of seven pockets were drilled. The 122,000 pounds of powder. The dynamite was cut in cordeau, the preparation being used freely in the battle fields of France.

Three months' preparatory work was necessary and the cost was close to $10,000. The blasting was in charge of Mr. Cushing, field engineer, assisted by J. C. Costello, both of whom were employed in similar work at the Culebra Cut, Panama Canal.

SEEKS INJUNCTION TO STOP DRILLING

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, May 21.—The Canadian Investment Company, ... owner of large tracts of land ... Deer Creek, south of here, has ... suit against the Terra Bella irrigation district asking that a ... nent injunction be issued by the Superior Court to prevent that district from drilling a large number of deep wells to secure water for the irrigation of 15,000 acres of ... run lands.

It is alleged in the complaint which is made the basis of the petition to the court, that if this plan is followed out the water table throughout the Deer Creek district will be materially lowered, ... consequent damage to owners of property whose land is outside the district.

BIG GANGS ARE AT WORK IN CALEXICO

CALEXICO, May 21.—Big ... of men are working on two different kinds of paving jobs—the base and the surfacings. A large force is rushing the work on the city ... tling basin and pumping plant, ... a force of linemen and laborers ... preparing to rebuild and extend the entire power system in the city.

QUARRY BLAST BIGGEST EVER.

Sixty-one Tons of Dynamite Exploded in a Granite Field at Corona.

Sixty-one tons of dynamite were exploded yesterday by the Temescal Rock Company at its granite quarry near Corona, perhaps the largest charge of its kind in the history of blasting operations.

This dislodged 782,000 tons of rock, or sufficient to supply thirty carloads a day for nine months. One thousand feet of tunnel work was required to place the blasts and twenty-seven pockets were drilled for the 122,000 pounds of powder. The dynamite was set off by ... cordeau, the preparation now being used freely in the battle-fields of France.

Three months preparation for work was necessary and the cost was close to $48,000. The blasting was in charge of J. C. Cushing, field engineer, assisted by J. C. Costelle, both of whom were employed in similar work at the Culebra cut, Panama Canal.

"Women and Patriotism."

Miss Maria C. Brehm will speak at 3 o'clock this evening for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the First Methodist Church, Hill and Sixth streets. Her subject is "Women and Patriotism."

Postpone Meeting.

Notice that the meeting of the Southern California Chautauqua Alumni Association has been indefinitely postponed was issued yesterday by Cornelia Adele Teal, dean of the Chautauqua League of Southern California.

Draft Volunteers.

Several hundred persons sent their names to City Clerk Wilde yesterday, volunteering to serve on the election boards on the day the army draft is made. Clerks in his office were immediately put to work arranging the names according to the precincts in which the owners reside.

Bankers to Meet.

Former Senator L. H. Roseberry of the Security Trust and Savings Bank; W. H. Thomson, cashier of the Phoenix National Bank, and State Controller Chambers will be the speakers at the second annual banquet of the Los Angeles Chapter, American Institute of Banking, Thursday evening, in Hamburger's Cafe.

War Course for Women.

The educational department of the Y.W.C.A. will start tomorrow evening night work for young women who desire to prepare themselves to take the places of men who are to be called out for war service. The course will cover banking methods, statement-making, the routine of the bank clearing and filing department, rapid calculation, checking bank statements, etc. The instruction will continue six weeks, on three evenings a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

T. Atkins, psychologist, on "Choosing a Vocation and the Scientific Placing of Employees." Senor Seralin Pla, grand opera baritone, will sing. F. T. Maessen will be chairman.

Gets a Bit.

MONEY LENDER LOSES.

Former Employee of City Engineer Recovers Small Amount from a Concern that Drew all His Warrants and Charged Five Per Cent.

C. C. Jones, while employed by the City Engineer's office, borrowed money from the George L. Arnold Company, and in Judge Myers's court yesterday he went to the mat to recover $632.50 which he claimed was due him. The case was tried before a jury, which returned a verdict last night in favor of Mr. Jones for $91.

Mr. Jones claimed that since December, 1915, until he left the service of the City Engineer, the Arnold company drew his warrants and never paid him any of the money. The company asserted it did pay him a considerable sum, and produced the books, through E. E. Bostick, to show this.

It also developed that the corporation exacted 5 per cent. a month after August 1, 1911, at which time the amendment to the money-loaning law went into effect, fixing a penalty for charging above 2 per cent. a month on personal property loans. The corporation admitted the charge of 5 per cent. a month, but says it did not levy that sum after the Supreme Court had upheld the amendment.

The corporation also claimed that the power of attorneys they held were void and that, therefore, it was not doing a personal property loan business.

FOR SAN DIEGO.

San Diego detectives arrested D. H. Golden, a real estate dealer, at his home in this city, No. 920 West Eighty-second street, last night on telegraphic advices from the southern city. Mr. Golden is accused of obtaining property under false pretenses. The San Diego officers, Detectives Cooley and McCullum, followed him to this city. He will be taken south this morning.

BARRETT AGAIN TO FACE JURY.

This Time Alleged Slayer's Sanity will be the Subject of Case.

Benton L. Barrett, the eccentric Santa Monican, freed by a jury from the charge that he had slain his wife and incinerated her body, will again appear this morning in Superior Judge McCormick's court, this time to submit to a test of his sanity.

The jury in the original murder trial declared its belief that Barrett was insane. If the jurors in the insanity case should pronounce him sane, he will face trial for the alleged murder of his stepson, Raymond Wright.

MORAL—HANDS OFF POTATOES.

Man with a Habit of Stealing Them Draws Stiff Fine, Which He Pays.

The way of the transgressor is hard, also he who steals "Irish cherries" must pay well for them.

Witness the case of Floyd Kennedy, tried yesterday before Justice Crawford, in the University Police Court. Mr. Kennedy was caught early Saturday morning stealing potatoes from a twenty-acre patch on Seventy-first street.

He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $125, which he did. According to growers of the tubers, Kennedy has stolen more than 400 pounds of potatoes in the last two weeks.

Constructive Thought.

SALESMEN URGE "BUY AS USUAL."

"KEEP BUSINESS NORMAL," IS MOTTO OF ASSOCIATION.

All Southwest to be Flooded with Literature Showing the Importance of Guiding Trade Along Reasonable Lines and Giving "Patriotic Prosperity."

"Patriotic Prosperity—Keep Business Normal."

This is the slogan to be spread broadcast over the Southwest through the activities of the Los Angeles division of the International Sales Managers' Association. The decision to do this "bit" towards constructive thought in the present war conditions was reached at a special meeting of the officers and directors last night at the Sierra Madre Club. Other organizations will be asked to take up the movement.

The Los Angeles division has 140 members, in control of 2000 traveling salesmen. They and their sales agents come into direct touch with the business houses of the entire Southwest. It is proposed to spread the gospel of normal business conditions through every community and to urge the constant use of the above slogan in all printed matter and by word of mouth.

Slips also are to be printed for enclosure in all letters and in packages. An American flag, in colors, will adorn the side of the slip, and the wording will be: "Patriotic prosperity consists of keeping business normal. Do your part. Men must work; manufacturers must produce; merchants must sell; you must buy as usual to make this possible. Buy what you need—buy it today. Keep America prosperous. Sales Managers' Association of Los Angeles."

Summons.

TO HIGHER COURT.

Former Judge of Canadian Tribunal Dies at the Family Home here. Funeral will be Conducted this Afternoon—Body to be Sent to Toronto.

Funeral services for ex-Judge Thomas Cooke Johnstone, 66 years of age, who was formerly a justice of the Supreme Court of the Province of Saskatchewan, Can., and who died at his home here Sunday, will be conducted at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of the Moneta Undertaking Company. Rev. Harry Hillard, pastor of the Knox Presbyterian Church, will officiate. The body will be placed in a vault at Rosedale pending shipment to Toronto.

Ex-Judge Johnstone was widely known in Canada and took an active part in the affairs of the Los Angeles Canadian Society. He was born in Toronto and spent most of his life there. He came to Los Angeles three years ago to benefit his rapidly failing health. The family residence is at No. 1233 Elden avenue.

He leaves two daughters and four sons. His daughters, Miss Queenie and Miss Norma Johnstone, and two sons, Wilford and Ernest Johnstone, are residents of Los Angeles. Arthur Johnstone resides at Fort Williams, Ont., and George Johnstone at Regina, Saskatchewan.

A Unique Distinction

¶ In proportion to the population of its home city, the Los Angeles Times prints approximately twice as much display advertising, and three times as much classified advertising, as any other newspaper in the world.

¶ Every day in the year for more than a quarter of a century, The Times has not only led but has distanced every other Los Angeles newspaper in the volume of display and classified advertising printed, and in the number of separate advertising announcements.

¶ The following is the local advertising record for the week ending Saturday, May 19th, 1917.

	Total lines advertising.	Separate want ads.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many are leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of canthrox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, while its luster and softness is delightful.

THE WEATHER.

[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, May 21.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.01; at 5 p.m., 29.97. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 56 deg. and 94 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 82 per cent.; 5 p.m., 70 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 6 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 10 miles. Highest temperature, 60 deg.; lowest, 54 deg. Rainfall for season, 15.26 inches; last season, 19.92 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. — The storm which gave Southern California the rain of Friday and Saturday moved slowly eastward, and has now developed into a well-marked depression centering over Oklahoma. The effect of this low area is widespread, resulting in heavy rain in Iowa and South Dakota, showers very general over the greater part of the United States. This area of low pressure, in conjunction with the field of high pressure off the northwestern coast, will give Los Angeles and vicinity periods of cloudiness during the otherwise fair weather of the next thirty-six hours.

ORCHARD REPORTS. — Minimum temperatures as reported during the past twenty-four hours: Mt. Wilson, 37 deg.; Pasadena, 46; Pomona, 45; Redlands, 53; Riverside, 49; Santa Barbara, 48; San Bernardino, 51 deg.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Tuesday; southwesterly winds.

For Southern California: Fair Tuesday.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Weather forecast: San Francisco, Oakland and vicinity, Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Tuesday; light to moderate northwest wind.

Southern California: Fair Tuesday; light westerly wind.

ARIZONA FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Forecast for Arizona: Tuesday, fair and warmer; Wednesday, fair.

COLORADO RIVER.

YUMA (Ariz.) May 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch from the U. S. Reclamation Service.] Gauge height Colorado River, 20.00 feet; discharge, 42,500 second-feet.

District Forecaster Brandenburg of the U. S. Weather Bureau at Denver, in a telegram to Local Meteorologist Ford A. Carpenter, says: "Nineteen or twenty feet indicated for Tuesday May 27 and twenty-six feet at Yuma about June 1."

ANTI-FAT

Art thou stout and getting stouter?
Stop repining—cease to moan;
Hie thee to the nearest drug store—
Ask for "Tablets Arbolone."

II.

Arbolone will stop that craving,
Make thee normal—that's well-known.
Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling
After taking Arbolone.

III.

And the pounds away will dwindle—
Waist no longer like a zone;
Thou'lt be thankful to the maker
Of those Tablets Arbolone.

Nota.—This little poem was written by a literary woman of Los Angeles, Calif., as a testimonial to Tablets Arbolone. It so aptly and truthfully describes the virtues of this well-known anti-fat that the proprietors use it for advertising. Facts and gratitude are both expressed with admirable rhythm and metre.

Superfluous Hair, Roots And All, Quickly Go!
(Absolutely New Home Method)

For the first time in a hundred years a genuinely effective method of removing unsightly hairy growths has been discovered. The new painless process does not merely take off the hair-ends; it actually removes the roots! It does this instantly and harmlessly. It does not act anything like the depilatory, electrical or other methods. Phelactine is non-odorous, non-poisonous, non-irritating. Get a stick of it from your druggist, follow the simple instructions, and have the satisfaction of seeing the roots themselves removed at last. If not perfectly satisfied the purchase price will be returned to you.

ILLBOARD SHOWDOWN TO BE ATTEMPTED TODAY

...ncil Seeks to Placate Voters and Signboard Magnates, Too.

...se of billboards or no billboards in the residence districts will be put squarely up to the Council this morning, and a motion will be made to force a showdown. Councilman Conwell will renew his ordinance, which has been denounced a fair, legal and workable measure, but which has been defeated by the flip-flop method of the Council at the dictation of the $50,000,000 billboard combination. The alternative will be an ordinance drafted along the lines of that of Chicago, ordered yesterday by the Council in an effort to please both the voters and the billboard magnates.

Details of the Chicago ordinance are not known, although it did a great deal in proving the right of the police to regulate the nuisance, it has not adequately met the problem in Los Angeles, partly because of the great physical difference between the cities in what was held yesterday by the Council members.

Mrs. Lindsay started the ball rolling after the clerk had read the statement of City Attorney Stephens to the effect that the ordinance demanded by the Council majority is illegal. She moved the tabling of the ordinance, and was seconded with hearty acclaim by all of those who have stood with her in her championship of the billboard interests.

Councilman Collins asked to have the entire proposition forgotten until June 12, after the election. The suggestion was rejected.

Councilman Wheeler spoke for a quarter of an hour about the iniquities of the press. He said that he has been lied about, villified, misrepresented, misquoted and otherwise injured. He reiterated his statement, made from the public platform last Saturday, that the newspaper publishers may "go to hell."

He declared that the figures he had quoted on the number of billboards in use were given him by the City Engineer, and that he had not misstated facts concerning them. Further than that, he made some acrid comments on the Conwell proposition, and accused the latter of having dared to misquote him.

Councilwoman Lindsey, who has been supporting Mr. Wheeler in his

FIVE THOUSAND CLUB WOMEN IN FIGHT AGAINST BILLBOARDS

STANDING as firmly as ever in their history for the elimination of the unsightly and crime-protecting billboards from the residence districts, the prominent women's clubs of Los Angeles will be an important factor in the fight to secure an adequate ordinance from a reluctant Council. Several of them plan to demand that the City Council cease its attempt to carry water on both shoulders and give its support to an ordinance that will free the residence districts from the present eyesores. Among those active in the fight will be the Friday Morning, Ebell, Wednesday Morning, Travel, Cosmos, Rosecrans, Study and Ruskin Art clubs.

The Wednesday Morning Club began its campaign against the billboards more than two years ago. This movement was led by Mrs. M. E. Johnson, who has consistently worked on the subject from that time to the present, and who has devoted much time to the matter. Mrs. Johnson, who is president of the club, stated last night that the club is unqualifiedly opposed to billboards in residence districts and that its membership will watch the action of every Council member in this matter.

"There were nineteen civic organizations invited to participate in the survey undertaken under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce," said Mrs. Johnson last night. "When we gathered, the time was taken up by the billboard men, the representatives of the labor unions and others, and we did not have an opportunity to present our side of the case. The next day I was prepared to present the results of a survey that I had made, and I offered the plan of holding down the size of the boards to 3x9 feet. This was supported by Mrs. Chester Ashley of the Ebell Club, but it was tabled on motion of a member of the Realty Board. Many of the civic organizations then withdrew, and the Chamber of Commerce survey report was signed by only a few of the organizations that had been invited to participate in the survey. It did not contain the signatures of the City Planning Association, the Architects' Association, the Wednesday Morning Club, the Friday Morning Club, and various others.

"The proposed plan of permitting billboards in blocks where there are no business houses if 50 per cent. of the residents signify their willingness therefor in writing is even worse than the present conditions. It would open up territory to the billboard men that has not yet been defaced, and I am glad to say that the City Attorney has taken a strong stand against this plan.

AGAINST CHICAGO LAW.

"I believe that if an ordinance drafted on the Chicago ordinance goes before the Council, it, too, will be rejected. We want an ordinance that will rid the residence districts of the billboards. That is a plain demand that can be understood, and we are thoroughly in earnest in this matter.

"As to the Wednesday Morning Club, it will stand squarely where it has stood for the past two years. The club is not engaged in politics, and it has taken action on only two matters of this kind—one for the use of home products, and the other for the elimination of the billboard from the residence districts. There is no change, nor will there be any change, in our attitude on these things.

"Personally, there are several of the present members of the Council whom I want to see re-elected and I'm sincerely hoping they will realize that the home owners of Los Angeles are thoroughly in earnest in their demand for the elimination of billboards from their districts."

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB.

Mrs. Seward Simons, president of the Friday Morning Club, stated last night that the board of directors has gone on record as favoring billboard legislation as drastic as possible, and that it proposes to do everything possible to see that its wishes are realized.

"The City Council certainly ought to take a definite stand for the elimination of billboards wherever possible," said Mrs. Simons last night. "The Friday Morning Club will stand firmly through the present campaign for this much-desired change."

TRAVEL CLUB.

Mrs. Lambert S. Jenkins, president of the Travel Club, said last night:

"The Travel Club most certainly is against billboards in the residence districts. We have taken a decided stand on the subject. We mean it. We consider the billboards a detriment and a nuisance in the residence districts. We hope the City Council will take decisive action, without delay, so that these unsightly boards will have to be removed."

COSMOS CLUB.

Mrs. C. S. DeLano, president of the Cosmos Club, stated last night that the club will have its regular meeting tomorrow and at that time the subject will again be presented to it, so that it may even more emphatically reiterate its stand against the billboards in the residence district. "We want to do everything within our power to help in ridding the residence district of these distressing sign boards."

EBELL CLUB.

Mrs. Chester Ashley, president of the Ebell Club, said that this club is on record for the elimination of the billboards as far as possible, and for the best regulation that can be legally put into effect.

Other women's clubs of Los Angeles have made public declaration of their attitude against the defacement of the residence districts with the billboards, and not one of them will change its attitude. They are in the campaign to win. Their membership will watch the action of each individual Councilman on this whole subject.

MAKES TARGET OF BOY SCOUT.

Minister Assails Movement at Episcopal Convention.

Says it is Detrimental to Manners and Religion.

Storm of Criticism Follows; Work Warmly Defended.

"I've found that the Boy Scout movement is a detriment and not a benefit. Our boys have drifted into the hands of the Baptist and the Presbyterian ministers, and naturally they feel an obligation toward these men; and they have been far more ungentlemanly and uncouth, and have used coarser language than they did before the scout movement was begun."

This is the bombshell which Rev. Charles T. Murphy, rector of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Covina, threw into the camp of Sunday-school workers yesterday at the annual meeting the Board of Christian Education and Association of Sunday-school Workers, a part of the twenty-second annual Episcopal diocesan convention in the parish hall of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral.

A storm of criticism followed. One clergyman promptly declared that this sentiment was absolutely contrary to the experiences in all other parishes where the Boy Scout movement is in progress, and another jumped to his feet to declare: "It seems to me that God is just pulling the boys into our hands through the Boy Scout work," while another moved an adjournment. There was no second to the motion and the discussion proceeded.

The sensational phase of the meeting came as its very last feature. There had been papers and discussions, and addresses on the usual Sunday-school themes, and then, at the very last, Rev. Harry Gray, rector of St. Barnabas Mission, asked for five minutes to discuss the Boy Scout work and its connection with the Sunday-school.

DEFENDS WORK.

He told of the effectiveness of the movement in drawing the boys into closer touch with the rector and the teachers, and declared that each Boy Scout must be a regular attendant at some Sunday-school or church service. He advised that every rector take the time to be a leader in the Boy Scout work, declaring that it presented a field of influence that can scarcely be estimated. He told

IN AID OF SOLDIERS.

Young Men's Christian Association Workers, Hundred Strong, Open Campaign to Raise Thirty Thousand Dollars for Troops' Benefit.

With nearly 100 workers, the campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association to raise $30,000 for use among the soldiers opened yesterday morning. This sum is the city's share of a State budget of $125,000.

E. P. Clark assumed charge of the canvass with H. W. Elliott and O. T. Johnson as executive secretaries. The solicitors will meet at the Clark Hotel each day for luncheon, and to check the work. Almost $5000 is said to have been pledged at a recent meeting of business and professional men.

Gov. Stephens has set aside next Sunday as Y.M.C.A. War Work Day, asking the co-operation of the churches.

The smaller towns of California are reported giving freely to the fund.

DEATH CALLS SISTER.

Mrs. Nate Siegel of No. 980 Gramercy place received word yesterday of the sudden death of her sister, Mrs. Morris Kochmann, at her residence in San Francisco. Mrs. Siegel left immediately for the north. Mrs. Kochmann was well known in this city, as she had often visited her sister her.

Anti-injunction.

VICIOUSNESS OF UNION BOSSES' BILL EXPOSED.

Merchants and Manufacturers Protest; Governor Asked not to Sign.

THE Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Los Angeles, through E. G. Judah, its president, yesterday forwarded to Gov. Stephens a letter strongly protesting against the executive giving approval to Senate Bill No. 1035—the anti-injunction measure designed to give free reign to picketing during labor troubles. The bill has passed the Legislature and is now before the Governor.

The letter cites at length an opinion on the law, prepared by Oscar C. Mueller, counsel for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Mueller declares there is no real need for the proposed new measure, that existing laws are adequate for the purposes of full justice and that the history of the California courts shows the power of injunction has not been misused in reference to labor matters.

In the first place, says Attorney Mueller, there is no general demand for the proposed law, as shown by San Francisco and Oakland's recent adoption of anti-picketing ordinances and by the existing Los Angeles statute of the same nature. None of these, it is pointed out, had been fought by the referendum because "it would seem that the labor leaders are cognisant of the fact that a referendum vote of that kind would fail."

"We have therefore," the opinion continues, "the sentiment expressed by the three largest cities in California. No doubt it will be conceded by the representatives of organized labor that the smaller communities would be even more opposed to picketing than the large municipalities. It is therefore safe to say that a majority of the electors of California are opposed to picketing."

Coming to an analysis of the act now before the Governor, Mr. Mueller declares section 1, providing it shall not be unlawful for working people to form labor unions, is useless, as every Appellate Court in the United States which has considered the matter has upheld this right.

"Section 2," says Mr. Mueller,

Members of the City Council, what they thought about billboards on March 25 and what they think about them now.

...two months ago The Times polled the Council on the billboard question, secured their own sentiments in their own handwriting, signed by themselves, and on March 25 published these pictures with reproductions of the sentiments thereunder. Indictments?

LICENSING SCANDAL MAY GO TO THE GRAND JURY.

THE massage parlor investigation now being conducted by the Police Commission may lead to grand jury indictments, according to developments at yesterday's hearing in Chief Butler's office.

Witnesses yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin de Kahn, Mrs. Mary Collier, Mrs. Effie Abrams and Mrs. Florence Savage. Mr. and Mrs. De Kahn, who conducted a massage parlor on Mercantile Place, told the commission yesterday that Ed Schwartz, a local electrical appliance salesman, said to be interested in several parlors about the city, told them that he stood "ace high." Just whom he held this standing with he did not say, according to the De Kahns.

In testimony given by Mrs. Effie Abrams, with whom Schwartz conducted the Waco Baths, Olive street, the commission was told that she paid Mr. Schwartz nearly $600 to have her license renewed, and that even then she didn't get the renewal. When she threatened him with exposure, she said, he returned $200.

According to Mrs. Abrams's testimony, Mr. Schwartz never invested anything in the Waco Baths, but, because he had been instrumental in securing her license, insisted that she give him half of her net profits. This division, she told the commission, was made each month before she paid her bills. She told the commission that he would call other massage parlors and ask the people who answered how business was. Then, she alleged, he would give orders, as though he had an interest in the shops.

Mrs. Abrams also told the commission that Mr. Schwartz sold a considerable amount of jewelry to girls in her shop and to employees in other shops. She said that when she asked him where it came from he told her it had been stolen and that he was disposing of it for a friend of his. He admitted, Mrs. Abrams said, that he made a slight profit on all sales.

In testimony given by Mrs. Mary Collier, it was stated that she had paid Mr. Schwartz $125 to secure her license, and that prior to that time she could not open her shop as the Police Commission wouldn't grant her the necessary permit.

The hearing was adjourned until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when a number of other witnesses will be examined. It was strongly intimated that the evidence will be turned over to the grand jury.

SUITS TO FORTIFY EGG ASSOCIATION.

AND PREVENT SALES IN OPEN EGG MARKET.

Poultry Producers of California, an Organization of Chicken Raisers, Alleges Sundry Agreements to Vend Only Through the Central Body Have been Broken.

Suits for an injunction to restrain members of the Poultry Producers of Southern California from selling their eggs in the open market and to compel them to market their produce through the association, were filed yesterday. The defendants are Lowry Bros. F. B. Church, Mrs. F. B. Church and William Sharp. The actions were brought in the name of the association, which was formed at the instigation of Harris Weinstock, State Market Commissioner.

It is alleged that many members agreed to sell the products through the medium of the association until 1920, and that they are not carrying out their agreement, but selling wherever they can get better prices. An accounting is demanded and a judgment asked for, amounting to 5 cents a dozen for all eggs sold outside of the association.

Attorneys Andrews, Toland and Andrews, who prepared the suits, say these are the first of a series of actions against members who have failed to keep the agreement. It is set out that the defendants knew that as soon as the corporation came into opposition with previously existing marketing sources in Southern California, every effort would be made by those engaged in the previous marketing arrangements to create dissatisfaction among the stockholders and to offer them special inducements.

By selling eggs to outsiders all the benefits of the corporation would be destroyed, and this practice would premit evils which it was the idea of the corporation to remedy, the complaint further states.

GOVERNMENT'S TESTIMONY IN.

Prosecution will Rest Today in Neutrality Case.

And Ask Court to Rule Upon Two Important Points.

Attorney, on Witness Stand, has Lapse of Memory.

The government is expected to rest this morning in its case against Balthazar Aviles and five other defendants, charged with violation of the neutrality law. Deputy United States District Attorney O'Connor made the announcement at adjournment yesterday afternoon, after Judge Farrington had sustained an objection to the admission of testimony concerning an alleged occurrence dating several months prior to the alleged commission of any of the offenses charged in the indictment.

Nicholas S. Zook, a convict who is serving a three-year sentence in San Quentin, having been convicted of passing fictitious checks, was on the witness stand when counsel for the defense raised an objection to his testimony. He began the recital of a conversation he said he had had with Gen. Viljoen (now deceased) early in 1914. The government's attorney admitted the alleged conversation had no direct connection with the acts charged in the indictment, and Judge Farrington said he would sustain the objection.

"Unless the government is permitted to introduce such testimony and also testimony relating to the garrison at Tia Juana, we will probably rest tomorrow morning," said Attorney O'Connor. He desired time to cite some authorities, and court was adjourned at 4 o'clock.

MEMORY IS WEAK.

A lapse of memory on the part of Adolph Danziger, called as a witness by the government, was another feature of yesterday's proceedings. Mr. Danziger, who is an attorney, made the declaration that he had met with an accident and was suffering from an impairment of memory.

When asked by Attorney O'Connor if he could identify a certain letter on which the government had relied as material, the witness said he could not. He identified his signature, which was appended to the epistle, but could not remember whether he had written or dictated the letter. Repeated attempts to refresh his memory were unavailing.

This morning the government will ask Judge Farrington to rule upon two important matters, as follows:

Whether testimony by P. M. Badillo concerning a letter he said was given to him on January 24, 1915, by Adolph Danziger is admissable.

Whether Mr. Danziger shall be permitted to refresh his memory by reference to a letter which he admitted on the stand he could not remember having written.

ATTITUDE OF DEFENSE.

The letter spoken of by Mr. Badillo referred to a purchase of the garrison at Tia Juana, Mex. It was contended by attorneys for the defense that such testimony is excluded by the bill of particulars, having no bearing whatever upon the alleged conspiracy to arm and recruit men in this country to enter military service in Mexico.

Mr. Badillo told of a meeting attended by himself, Adolph Danziger and Balthazar Aviles. He said Mr. Aviles told Mr. Danziger, "I am through with you," and stated, "Danziger does not represent me in any way."

Another would-be commissioned officer took the witness stand when Ed Vega, a Mexican, was called. He said he had been promised an appointment as first captain in the event Gov. Cantu was overthrown. His testimony was considered of little or no value.

Jesus Ruelas was the first witness, who said he would have been contented as a private. He was not offered a job which would have permitted him to wear shoulder adornments. He recited nothing material.

PRANK, NOT MALICE.

Court Decides Against a Schoolgirl Who Asked Damages from a Playmate for Jumping Upon Shoulders — Defendant Meant No Harm.

Miss Bernice Price was declared winner in the suit filed by Miss Velma S. Smith, growing out of injuries she received when Bernice jumped upon her shoulders in the Grant school grounds, Pasadena, some time ago. The action was decided yesterday by Judge Hewitt.

Velma asked $25,000 damages, alleging the assault was wanton. She testified she was unconscious of Bernice's presence until she felt the awful impact of her plump little body on her shoulders. She said her shoulder blade was dislocated and she received other fractures.

Bernice claimed she did not intend to injure her playmate. The court decided it was a childish prank with no malicious intent to injure Velma.

Billboards.

contentions, made an effort to reconcile her favorable stand to the billboard interests with her past opposition to them. She threatened to reveal the "machinations of the newspapers" from every platform in the country if she is defeated in her effort to be re-elected.

Councilman Conwell, in opening his argument for the elimination of billboards from the residence sections where the property owners do not want them, stated that the present is merely the continuation of a fifteen-year fight.

Calling attention to the billboard figures of Mr. Wheeler, he stated that these were correct as far as only one side of the street was concerned, but that the nuisances were not confined to any single side. His figures showed the great discrepancy of Mr. Wheeler and the City Engineer, who gave them. He then discussed the ordinance which he had submitted, and which would be really regulatory and a solution to the present problem.

He dissected the original defective plan. His concise statement, backed by logical figures, showed that the radiating street plan would permit of no restriction or regulation in many residence sections, giving the billboard operators right to cover 328 miles of thoroughfare as they pleased. He made it plain that the ordinance, if passed as drafted, would turn the best part of the town over to the billboards.

"The ordinance I proposed follows the original one with the exception that instead of three districts, there should be but two of these, the strictly defined business section and the residence section. In the latter territory no billboards should be installed unless the individual block be impressed with 50 per cent. of business frontage and then only with 51 per cent. consent of the property owners," said Mr. Conwell.

Continuing, he said:

"This rule is fair. It gives the home owners a voice in the important matter of his home environment, whereas, the original ordinance submits him to legalized violation of his wishes and the depreciation of his property, while the billboard has a fair opportunity to be installed if wanted.

"The billboard people, together with proponents of the original ordinance, will not listen to the rule of majority consent, their stated reason being that it will put a premium on blackmail and extortion at their expense. This is not at all complimentary to the realty owners of our city. To charge them with such conduct is to insult them. The billboard interests claim that they pay $75,000 annual rental to realty owners. Grant this, if you please, then estimate the cash depreciation that home owners suffer in order that land owners may receive the billboard rental. This depreciation is many times the rental in cash and is absolutely incalculable from the standpoint of home comfort, appearance and safety.

"It is argued that the radiating streets fully surrendered in the original ordinance should be included as business streets the same as the downtown business zone. These radiating streets are only semi-business. I venture to state that of the 120 miles of frontage which they include, not 33 per cent. is business, the balance being residence or vacant. These streets present only a veneer of business, they all penetrate strictly residence districts, every block of which along these streets contains, at the maximum one block frontage of business to three blocks frontage of residence, and yet the ordinance would make the whole block the unwilling host of billboards on the business side.

"It has been stated that the elimination of billboards will destroy an established industry and throw a large number of workers and craftsmen out of employment. Answering this, it must be remembered that the central zone in which billboards are permitted is a very large and valuable concession, and will always assure the employment of a considerable force. But, even if this were not the case, is there not involved an economic question of incalculable importance to the city. Grant the proposition that billboards should be given free rein for the pay rolls they create, and the logical conclusion and result would be billboards everywhere, including parks, harbor and playgrounds.

"The depreciating influence of billboards in residence districts is conceded. A legitimate industry is co-operative, building up and increasing values in proportion to its activity, but with loosely restricted billboards we find ourselves in the anomalous position of supporting an industry at the expense of depreciation and discomfort and disfiguration far in excess of the pay-roll benefit that the billboards involve. Lastly, the industrial argument would imply that painters, metal workers, carpenters, artists, draymen and laborers are dependent upon billboard channels for employment.

"It has been stated publicly, by Mr. Wheeler that the newspapers of the city have combined to eliminate billboards in order to secure an advertising monopoly and that to accomplish their ends the newspapers have issued orders to the members of this Council, with threats in case of noncompliance. I question the truth of this statement. However, I can speak only for myself, and most emphatically deny the existence of any orders of any kind from any source, or of any threat or intimation of threat.

"My stand in this matter is on principle, not on billboards in particular, but on the general proposition that every home owner of Los Angeles has the inalienable right to a voice in the question of his home surroundings, and that he should not, and cannot, legally, be subjected to the infliction of any act, object or condition to which he objects, without the rights of protest and majority rule."

In concluding his remarks, Councilman Conwell declared that he will again propose the passage of his ordinance today.

The argument for and against billboards resulted in a public jubilation by the billboard proponents after the Council session. That this was not kindly looked upon by some of the other spectators, became evident when Mr. Wheeler stepped outside the City Hall. On the steps he started an argument with William Francis Good, secretary of the East Side Political League.

Before the discussion had gone far, Councilman Wheeler became angry and a physical encounter was prevented by the interference of friends.

When President of the Council Betkouski returned to the city yesterday evening he repudiated the statements made by Mrs. Lindsey about the stand he had taken. She had said that Mr. Betkouski had told her he had not given any newspaper man a statement opposing the billboards. "I did give such interviews, and I have been firm in my stand for a regulatory ordinance and not a subterfuge plan such as that which has been presented," he said.

NIPPON TOASTS UNITED STATES.

East and West Drawn Closer in Friendship Pact.

War Ally Stands for Justice, not for Aggression.

Admiral Toshitake Iwamura, commanding the two Japanese training ships now touching at Los Angeles Harbor, with the graduating class of the Imperial Japanese Naval School on board, was the guest of honor at a banquet tendered to him and fifteen members of his staff at the Alexandria yesterday noon by the Japanese Association of Southern California.

About fifty Americans, prominent in the city, county and State life of this section were present and good will and understanding between the citizens of the two great countries were expressed.

Shortly after the guests were seated, Ujiro Oyama, Consul of Japan in Los Angeles, brought every one to his feet by proposing a toast to the President of the United States. This had no sooner been honored when Lorin A. Handley, representing Mayor Woodman, answered with a toast to the Emperor of Japan. Admiral Iwamura then toasted the American navy, and Capt. W. A. Wiley of the Coast Guard, returned the compliment to the Japanese navy.

Consul Oyama, the first speaker, representing the Japanese Association of Southern California, welcomed Admiral Iwamura and his men, and paid glowing tribute to the Americans present. He declared his countrymen were not hungry for war, and when treated so hospitably as they had been in Los Angeles, desired only to have an opportunity to repay the kindness.

"The Pacific era which has long been predicted is at last coming," he said. "The great development we will witness in this part of the globe for the next few decades will be far more remarkable than those in the past. The East and West, once separated by the great Pacific Ocean, are now drawn closer and closer every day by forces which cannot be resisted. As for Japan we want and need the friendship of America and we have proved it many times by facts in recent years. The story of Japan wanting the Philippines and Hawaii has never originated in my country. If America wants a quarrel you have simply to start it yourself, because Japan does not want it. Admiral Iwamura comes as an ally of America and a brother in arm—to assure you that Japan stands with you in the great struggle which you are making for right and justice."

Collector of Customs Elliott, who represented the United States government at the banquet, spoke. He was followed by Mr. Handley, speaking for Mayor Woodman. E. C. Bellows, former Consul-General of the United States in Japan, and the present president of the Japanese Society of Southern California, delivered an address anent the development of friendly relations between the two countries that evoked great applause. Capt. Wiley paid glowing tribute to the Japanese navy.

Admiral Iwamura was the last speaker. He said in part:

"It is pleasant for us naval men to drop anchor in a friendly port and be welcomed by the officials and the public. We recognize in such demonstration the respect and cordiality which you entertain for our very gracious sovereign, the Emperor of Japan, and his government and his people. It is pleasant to us to see the homes of our countrymen standing among those of the Americans and the Japanese farmers working side by side with the American farmers—very beautiful picture of good will and good accord which represents, though in a smaller scale, the most friendly relation between the United States and Japan.

"The Japanese in California have been the recipient of American friendship, American hospitality and American good will. Gratitude is one of the most important of the Japanese ethical code. I was very glad and indeed felt proud to hear the other day that one-eighth of the Japanese in Southern California had already joined the Red Cross organization of the United States."

Admiral Iwamura will be the host to a small group of representative men of this city at a luncheon today on board his flagship.

HUSBAND CAN'T HAVE ALIMONY.

Judge Finds no Law Granting Temporary Relief for Needy Cripple.

Judge Monroe could find no law yesterday whereby a wife can be compelled to pay her husband temporary alimony.

The case came before him in the application of George J. Arnold. The latter is on crutches, crippled with rheumatism and lumbago. He says his wife has all the community property, which is valued at $1500, and in addition has separate property of her own. He cannot work, while she is able-bodied.

Through Attorney Robert E. Abbey, representing Mrs. Louise M. Arnold, it is understood there was a division of the community property; that Mr. Arnold spent his share while Mrs. Arnold kept hers and that he is trying to get a part of it.

Judge Monroe ordered that the case be tried immediately, to determine the merits of the controversy and to distribute the community property.

ELKS ARE DRILLING.

Local Lodge Forms a Battalion and Band and Members Devote Two or Three Nights a Week to the Job of Getting Ready to Fight, if Need Be.

In accordance with instructions received from the national headquarters of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Los Angeles Lodge No. 99 has enthusiastically answered the call to the colors by forming four companies and a band. This battalion drills energetically two and three times a week on Third street between Grand avenue and Olive street, trying to get into condition as soon as possible so that when the national lodge offers the government the services of 150,000 Elks in all parts of the country, No. 99 will be ready to take its place in the ranks.

C. G. Pyle, Exalted Ruler of No. 99, is major of the battalion. Co. A is commanded by D. J. Jacques. Capt. H. A. Barrows of Co. B has the largest unit of the battalion. Co. C is commanded by Capt. F. E. White, while Co. D, the uniformed rank of the order, is in command of Capt. R. E. Clendenin. The band is led by Frank Marsales.

HE GETS NOTHING.

T. E. Imes was refused reimbursement yesterday of about $12 for damages sustained by his machine when the police ambulance struck it several weeks ago. The report to the City Council, which turned down the bill, was that the accident was largely the fault of Mr. Imes.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Photoville.

There's a good actor at Photoville this week. His name is Uno, and he can troupe if he is a dog. The "great disrobing scene" (penny-arcade style) and the various "Stand-up," "Lie-down," "Turn-around" tricks he performs with the greatest gravity, but when he is allowed to "fetch" something, like any "just dog," his delight is boundless. He finishes with a comedy retiring scene that brought appreciative laughter from the men and "Isn't he cute?" from the women.

The La France trio consists of two slender head-to-head balancers, who are really good, and a strong-arm under-man—or rather lady. Waterall and Winifred, a big husky bass singer, and a little red-cheeked slip of femininity, quite the opposite in voice, supply vocal harmony.

A sporty youngster by the name of Dick Arnold kids the audience and tells a new joke or two. Jack Barton and the two Shubert sisters do a musical comedy turn.

In the picture "High Play" William Russell plays a young bank official who stakes his fortune on a friend, his honor for a girl and his happiness on a bluff. His bluff is called, but he makes it good, which ends the picture and the show.

A fat offering of entertainment for a thin dime is Photoville.

Pantages.

A pianist stopped the show at Pantages last night! And no rag-shredding ivory comber, either. Zelaya can be all to the Chopin when he caresses his little baby grand. When Zelaya plays, you are in a European salon listening to a great master; then you hear the tinkling melody of a nickel-in-the-slot music box; then you hear soft color tones—water rippling and trees waving in the wind; then a dance-hall musician tickles the keys until they shriek with laughter and your feet itch to be on a waxed floor. . . . It took several minutes "plugging" of a near-popular "patriotic" song by the orchestra last night to choke off the applause.

Bob Hall knows not the iambic; the hexameter is Greek to him and nothing more; the only feet he cares for are for walking only—but he can reel off doggerel couplets to popular tunes so that the house shakes with laughter.

There are two bird acts—Victor Niblo and his talking cuckoo and parrot, and "The Fe-Mail Clerks." The show opens with flashing Roman ax juggling by the Tuscano Brothers, and closes with Thalermo's Comedy Circus.

An installment of "The Secret ..." completes the bill.

RIALTO'S BRIGHT DEBUT.

NO DULL MOMENTS ON ORPHEUM BILL THIS WEEK.

By Grace Kingsley.

Not only will Los Angeles have the new plays which Oliver Morosco will stage, but there is a big likelihood theatergoers of this city may be treated to the plays Henry Miller is to bring out in San Francisco before he takes them back to New York. Mr. Miller and his company are at present rehearsing these in the northern city.

Among new plays which Mr. Miller will put on will be "Anthony in Wonderland," by Moncon Toff, which is now the rage in London. His opening attraction will be Clayton Hamilton's "The Rebound." In the cast are Cyril Keightley, Lucile Watson, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, Helen Freeman, Frank Byrne, James Galloway, Peggy Dale Whiffen and Mr. Miller.

Quinn's Rialto.

The opening of a new theater, the premiere of a new play, betting on a famous horse racing on new ground, news of sudden riches—these all belong to the same class of thrilling events.

Quinn's Rialto Theater furnished a combination of two of these thrills yesterday, for the house opened with a premiere showing of the Selig picturization of Robert Hichens's "Garden of Allah."

In size and quality the attendance at both presentations of the film was a tribute to the opening of the beautiful new theater and the colorful production.

"The Garden of Allah" is a story which depends primarily on sustained subjective interest, on atmosphere, on a sense of sinister impending fate, and whereas a stage version is necessarily fragmentary, the screen offers rich and varied opportunity for all these elements. Selig has overlooked not one of these in his finely-impressive photoplay rendering of the great story. Yet the thousand and one wonderful touches which serve to transport one to the Sahara and the Orient never obtrude themselves, but are skillfully woven in as an integral part of the story.

Helen Ware is quite inimitable as the gentle, serious-souled Domini Enfilden, and Thomas Santschi achieves that most difficult thing—envisions to our minds as well as to our eyes the brusque, passionate, sensitive, painfully-inexpressive Boris Androvsky.

Neither Selig nor any other picture producer has done a finer thing.

Orpheum.

There's more entertainment to the square inch at the Orpheum this week than has been offered by that house in a long time.

Not since "The Clod" has there been presented so worth while a dramatic playlet as the keenly ironic "Our Family," the hard brightness of whose satiric edge, however, is relieved by saving and human glints of humor. The text of the story is uttered by "dad," who exclaims in surprise when his son protests against his treatment of "mother"—"Why, mother understands me; she doesn't mind!" "Understanding," it seems, is a large part of mother's job, that and an endless round of petty duties and endurance of small tyrannies from the rest of the family. Jane Courthop gives the most sincerely vivid and delicately sympathetic impersonation of this member of the family, since Emma Dunn appeared in the title role of the play "Mother," though to tell the truth, the playlet is better dramatic material than was the longer play. Corrine Malvern, Charles Forrester and Ross Forrester are seen to excellent advantage in their various roles.

Spellbinders in the first degree are those pleasing vocal artists, Horace Wright and Rene Dietrich, whose soft and harmonious voices are a great relief from the average leather-lunged vaudevillians. They work before a gorgeous back drop representing an aquarium, which rivals the flowers which bloom in the spring both for beauty and for having nothing to do with the case, but it is effectively artistic, so there's no harm done.

A real contribution to vaudeville is made by Cecil Cunningham, whose work has improved incredibly since her last appearance here. She burlesques vaudeville and musical comedy in delicate shades, bringing intelligence and clean-cut distinction to bear on her work. "Class" is what they call it in vaudeville.

A sort of miniature "Experience" is Hermine Shone's offering entitled "Mary Ann," with a good deal of crisp humor and no little satire brought forth from the contrasting speeches of "Poetry" and "Reality." A beautifully decorated facade serves as proscenium arch to a tiny stage.

The Berrens in their musical act include a brilliant pianist, and a violinist who afterward turns out to be a violinist—if you get me. They make a tremendous hit.

Ethel MacDonough has some pleasing new songs, the Chung Hwa Four are Chinese who achieve the impossible by dancing the Highland fling, and the Barry Girls purvey pep and harmony.

The Times excursion to Yosemite is depicted on the screen.

Tally's Broadway.

"Within the Law" is now a sort of dramatic institution with us. Wherefore its authoritative showing on the screen at Tally's Broadway this week cannot but be of great interest to every theatergoer. And whatever one's opinion of the economic and social questions involved in the play, none can gainsay the immensity of its grip and forcefulness; the fact of its hitting the bullseye in its appeal to natural and involuntary sympathy for the "under dog." A balancing of dramatic values as the same reveal themselves on stage and screen leaves not so much in favor of the stage as one might think. The drama lends itself admirably to screening, and oftimes a more absorbed concentration is the result of intriguing the eye alone.

The character of Mary Turney would appear to be susceptible of many interpretations. Alice Joyce has the role in the picture version, and while she has not the forceful ness and imagination of Jane Cowl, or the intelligent inciseiveness of Bertha Mann, she substitutes a very real and inspired understanding of emotionalism, and brings a certain wistfulness and appeal to the role which makes instantly for sympathy, in contrast to those artists who at once give the impression of knowing very well how to take care of themselves.

Alhambra.

In "The Highway of Hope" Willard Mack shows us that one can travel in either direction on that thoroughfare, and come out right in the end.

"Lonely Lou" (Kathlyn Williams,) the only "good" girl in a western mining camp, and Steve (House Peters,) a miner, are married one Saturday night as part of the festivities at the Ace High Amusement Palace. When Steve loses his job they start prospecting "on their own."

It seems that Steve has already come down "the highway" from a seat on 'change, while Lou is stirred to fit herself to be a "lady."

When they meet again Miss Lou owns a couple of mining companies, has a maid, and many admirers, and Steve is receiving twelve per to wear a "soup and fish" and carry a napkin over his arm.

Willard Mach always has a "punch" in his stories. This one is a dandy, full of real, human drama, and you'll enjoy it.

For laughing purposes, you will be furnished with an old style "comic"—the skinny Flora Finch in a burlesque on "The Common Law." The sub-titles are as funny as the situations in this picture—which is going some if you know Flora Finch.

Superba.

"Southern Justice," meted out in the form of tar and feathers, is a messy thing to run up against.

For that reason, in the play of that name at the Superba this week, the spick-and-span young financier, played by Fred Church, who made "$40,000" grow where three barrels of crude oil and some swamp weeds flourished before, declares a dividend the minute he is threatened with it.

There is a clever boy actor—Elwood Bredell—in "Southern Justice." Three cronies—the "judge," the editor of the Norwalk (Ky.) Democrat, and the village shoemaker—give him a start in life, which he repays by "showing up" the crude (oil) graft worked on them.

There is a love story, with Myrtle Gonzalez and Maxfield Stanley involved; a liberal sprinkling of "sub's" and "yo's" in the subtitles; and although the plot has been stretched so tightly over five reels that it's a wonder it doesn't break, "Southern Justice" is a good-natured, entertaining film.

Novel.

MARITIME THRILLS.

SUBMARINE EYE" FURNISHES EXCITING CLIMAX.

By Edwin Schallert.

The first photoplay production in which undersea photographic effects have assumed a place of primary importance in the unfolding of a screen story made its appearance yesterday at Trinity Auditorium. Heretofore the Williamson brothers, famous for their exploits in probing nature's most mysterious province, have either given us a maritime travelogue, or else have supplied some incidental submarine scenes to carry along an ineffectual plot.

In "The Submarine Eye" they have taken affairs in their own hands and furnished a play of the sea and under the sea, that while it does not avoid clap-trap melodrama in spots, has so much of novelty and abandon elsewhere that it is splendidly entertaining and absorbing.

The "Submarine Eye," from which the play gets its name, is a sort of periscope that is submerged instead of being used above the surface of the water. By means of it the inventor locates a safe containing treasure. The history of this safe and the treasure are all told in interesting manner on the screen, in the prologue, and succeeding episodes, that lead up to the actual quest.

The crucial moment of the play comes when the inventor, clad in diving suit, descends to the floor of the sea, and after opening the safe gets his hands caught in the door, and is unable to free himself. There is a Poesque quality to the agony of the hours of waiting, until the man is released by an expert West Indian diver.

After all, the hero doesn't get the treasure, but you're not disappointed.

The play has more thrills and suspense as it approaches its climax than any I have seen for a long time, but like every good melodrama it must be seen to be appreciated.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY EMILY SQUIER.

None of us realized what a portentous thing education is until the candidates for the Board of Education lined up before the City Club yesterday to tell why they should not be defeated in their campaign for office.

It was oratory very different from that heard recently from the candidates for the City Council. There is not enough political difference between the aspirants for places on the Board of Education to make the thing exciting; nobody differed with anybody else, and everyone agreed that the measures advanced by the previous speaker are simply O. K., and to add to the other polite sentiments, they even boosted each other and told what fine neighbors and gentlemen and educators, and everything, the other fellows were. Evidently, educational war is not what Sherman said.

Preceding the Board of Education candidates were two would-be Councilmen who somehow got lost in the shuffle last time, and were on deck yesterday to apprise the clubwomen of the whyness of their candidacy. They were Mr. Farmer and Henry H. Lyon, who promised many laudable things.

Among the Board of Education candidates who spoke was C. C. Pierce, who is a thorough pedagogue, as can be noticed by his Phi Beta Kappa key; any man who has brains enough to attach an emblem like that deserves a show on the Board of Education. J. H. Bean said "amen" to everything said before his speech, and remarked, on his own account, that the pay given to the school teachers is good, but not good enough. (Loud applause from those suspected of being school ma'ams.)

Dr. Alfred J. Downs promised nothing and said little more. D. K. Edwards, who served on the first Board of Public Works, admitted his ignorance of educational procedure, but asked a chance to learn. Charles J. McCormick, who is already a member of the board, has a record of attendance at 178 out of 179 meetings, and suggested a rotation of officers, so that the incoming group might be advised by those remaining in office. C. C. Parker announced that he was a pedagogue once and always, and told of some much-needed changes in the educational system; he thought the teaching of the simple branches must be changed so that arithmetic and spelling could be more thoroughly learned.

Frank Simpson said he did not want the office, but since he was in the hands of his friends, if they thrust it upon him he would give it the same strict attention that he gives to private affairs. Melville Dozier, whose life has been spent in school work and who has been a much-loved instructor in the Normal School, earnestly asked a chance to go on with the work he loves. Miss Bessie Stoddard gave as her idea of education that the schools must educate the body as well as the mind, and vocational training more than ever must be incorporated in the curricula of educational institutions.

Charles E. Seaman said the child is the best asset we have, and as such, is entitled to the best, regardless of expense. Mrs. J. D. Taylor did not entrust her gems of thought to extempore her gems of thought sentiments, which were that she is opposed to any policies which make the teacher fear the authorities that be and so not give her best work to the pupils.

Ebell Club.

The Ebell Club members had a taste yesterday afternoon of a romantic subject, the cathedrals of France, made into a strictly pedantic one. Madame Jules Clerfyet is a charming woman, and has a piquant foreign air which is irresistible, but she is evidently too much of a technical architect to appreciate the wealth of treasured romance that lies in the crypts and shadows of those massive churches of the Old World.

The talk was illustrated with stereoptican slides, that pictured the various types of cathedrals from the ancient Abbe du Vent, built in 1066, and of Norman architecture, through the Gothic and Greek and Roman architectural periods.

Madame Clerfyet is an American woman who married into the nobility of Belgium, and has had a most interesting career abroad.

Makes Target.

of the work in his own parish, where the boys meet with the rector on Friday evening for instruction, and then go for "hikes" on Saturdays, where the instructions are put into practical use.

Then followed the bombshell of Rector Murphy.

"I haven't the physical strength to meet with the boys on a Friday evening and then go tramping with them on Saturdays and then prepare myself for the Sunday services," he declared, in connection with his denunciation of the movement as being of any benefit to the church or Sunday-school.

Rector Gary replied:

"I consider the sermon I preach one of the smallest parts of my ministry. I'd rather put a lay reader in charge of the service, if it was necessary, than to forego being right on hand at the Sunday-school and mingling with the boys in their personal interest and keeping in personal touch with their individual lives," he declared.

The meeting of the Board of Christian Education was the principal event of yesterday in the twenty-second annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles. It was attended by Episcopalians from all parts of Southern California.

The session opened with communion at 9 o'clock; organization for business in the parish hall, and then presentation of subjects pertaining to Sunday-school work by Rev. Robert B. Gooden, Dr. L. E. Learned and Rev. A. G. H. Bode of Long Beach, dean of the convocation of Los Angeles.

BIG PROGRAMME.

The general results of the Board of Christian Education session were the determination to form a regular Sunday-school association among the Episcopal parishes; the establishment of a summer school or conference, to be held this year in July, the time and place to be left to the board; to provide for practical training of Sunday-school teachers by the rectors of each parish; to carry on a campaign for increasing of enrollment in the Sunday-schools, and to prepare for meetings in the various parishes by Rev. B. T. Kemerer, rector of St. George's Church, St. Louis, who is being sent out by the General Board of Christian Education, and who, it is expected, will remain here to participate in the summer school.

The convention workers to the number of more than fifty had a luncheon yesterday noon at the Pin Ton, followed by several short addresses. The general convention session will continue until Friday night. The business session will be held in the parish hall this forenoon, and the special features for today will be the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, with holy communion at 9:30, and a general meeting thereafter in the parish hall, and in the evening the quarterly meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew District Assembly.

The programme for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Wednesday—Annual meeting of convention, St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. Holy communion, 7:30 a.m.; holy communion, 10 a.m.; organization of convention; delivery of annual address; business meeting in parish hall; annual convention dinner, place to be announced.

Thursday—Holy communion, 7:30 a.m.; morning prayer, 9 a.m.; business meeting of convention in parish hall; 8 p.m. meeting under auspices of Social Service Commission, St. Paul's parish hall.

Friday—Annual meeting of the Daughters of the King, St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral; holy communion, 7 a.m. and 9 a.m.; conference of delegates and workers, 10 a.m., in parish hall; business meeting, 2 p.m., with address by bishop; supper, 6:30 p.m.; evening meeting at 7:45, with Brotherhood of St. Andrew and Girls' Friendly Society.

TO HEAD LIST OF DISLOYAL.

Los Angeles Woman Asks, in Red Ink, for that Doubtful Distinction.

Mrs. Edith Catterson, No. 3643 Normandie avenue, Los Angeles, asks in red ink to have her name put at the top of the list of "disloyal Americans" which United States District Attorney John W. Preston of San Francisco gave warning some time ago would be made public. This list was to have been of persons investigated by the government but against whom not enough evidence was secured to warrant an arrest.

In her letter Mrs. Catterson told Dist.-Atty. Preston she is against American participation in the war and said that President Wilson is acting "in the interests of Wall street." Mr. Preston will send the letter to the local Federal authorities for investigation.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Trade advices of highly-favorable character continued to exert a most beneficial effect upon the New York stock market and as a result industrial issues, especially in the iron and the steel groups, were active. Short-covering and growing public participation in trading were accelerating factors. Bonds were firm, a condition to which an enlarged inquiry for internationals contributed to a notable extent. Cheerful crop news and reports of increased western tonnage made rails in demand.

LIFE'S IRONY.

A once prosperous contractor of San Francisco died penniless just as the city was preparing to pay him $60,000, said to have been owed him for thirty-five years. "We all owe God a death," said Shakespeare, and while at times life seems ironical, death brings only peace, liquidating all debts between debtors and creditors, leveling all accounts.

FREE SPEECH, BUT——

An unfortunate remark made by a German physician at a luncheon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club caused his hearers to leave the place in anger. An American audience always stands for the square deal and courtesy is a characteristic common to the people of the Southland, but there is a limit to free speech beyond which a speaker cannot go and still command the respect of those who compliment him by their attention.

GOOD WILL.

The Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, declaring that China may not be able to aid the United States in a military or financial way, but that that country is desirous of assisting the world war for democracy, has informed the Council of National Defense that the association is ready to bring 500,000 coolies to this country to assist in the production of foodstuffs, the Chinese to be deported when the need for their services has expired. The proposition may not be accepted by the government, but it proves the good will of China and shows the trend of world sentiment against the tyranny of Prussianism.

ALWAYS BUILDING.

A new and beautiful theater is to be dedicated in Los Angeles on May 21 by the premier exhibition of one of the biggest feature pictures ever filmed by a Southern California company. Los Angeles is the home of the motion-picture industry. Seldom does a week pass in which a new company is not incorporated for the purpose of producing silent drama. As the population of this city increases by thousands every year and as the public is becoming increasingly enthusiastic about good pictures, it is very probable that the next five years will see the erection of quite a number of de luxe picture theaters in Los Angeles.

COSTLY CRUELTY.

When the steamer Thracia was sunk by a German submarine, the destroyer approached the capsized boat, the stern of which had been blown off, and the submarine commander sighted an English officer clinging to a portion of the wrecked vessel. That officer's name is Douglas Duff, who, under oath, declares that the commander first threatened to shoot him, and then changed his mind, saying that "he wouldn't waste good powder on an Englishman who was destined to die by drowning anyway." Duff, however, was later rescued by a French fisherman. It might have paid the German commander to have used a little powder and silenced the Englishman, for the repetition of this story will not have a tendency to make any friends for Germany and Germany is sadly in need of friends just now.

SEND 'EM TO CANADA!

The press reports are to the effect that plans have been practically completed by the British mission with officials of this government for the United States to act as the prison for the Entente Allies. The plan contemplates the transportation to this country of all prisoners of war captured by the Entente, including those now held, as well as those captured in the future.

The reason assigned for making Uncle Sam the jailer of about 1,000,000 German prisoners of war is that there is a shortage of food supplies in Europe and that to send the prisoners here will relieve the Entente Allies of the burden of their support. It is suggested that the ships that bring them could be loaded with munitions and supplies for the return voyage, and that some of those German prisoners could then be impressed as members of the crew. The assumption is that German submarines would not sink without notice ships going either way on which there were a number of Germans.

As The Times sees it, there is nothing in the career of William Hohenzollern to justify the assumption that he would not murder his own countrymen as ruthlessly as he has murdered his antagonists and, if the plan of feeding prisoners elsewhere than in Europe is to be pursued, why not give Canada a chance to act as a cheap boarding-house? Food is plentiful there, and the climate is genial—in midsummer. Of course we will furnish our Allies liberally with money, munitions, men and supplies, but to require us, in addition to this, to provide board, lodging and clothing for all German prisoners of war—well, really, isn't it crowding the mourners?

WHY MAKE THE BAKER THE SCAPEGOAT?

Three years ago wheat was selling in the Chicago market for 80 cents a bushel and a pound loaf of bread sold at retail for 5 cents. Wheat is now selling for $2.40 a bushel in the same market; what is an equitable price for a pound loaf of bread?

It is for the purpose of solving this problem that the Federal government has set a corps of experts to work and that grand juries in different counties are sending out gum-shoe men to trail the bakers for the purpose of discovering whether they enter into a combine to raise the price of bread.

Some of the bakers are protesting. They assert that it costs them a fraction more than 11 cents to produce the loaf which is the cause of their being threatened with criminal prosecution if they do not sell it for 10 cents. In support of this contention they have produced their books in court.

Curiously enough, there has been little protest from the public about the price of wheat; that is a matter between the miller and the grower. Nor has there been any marked protest against the rise in the price of flour; that is largely a question for arbitration between the miller and the baker. But when it comes to the price of bread—that is a different story. Nine families out of every ten in the cities buy their bread, and the increased price starts almost a unanimous howl.

It is not clear, however, that the baker is at fault. The price of flour follows the price of wheat, just as the thread follows the needle. Grand juries and Federal commissions may force the bakers to close their ovens, but they cannot force them to continue to sell for 10 cents a loaf which costs them 11 cents to produce.

The baker seems to have been singled out as the goat. Last week the grocers of Los Angeles were selling sacks of flour weighing twenty-four and one-half pounds for $1.91. This is at the rate of nearly 8 cents a pound. If the wheat used to produce that flour cost $2.40 a bushel, or 4 cents a pound, the margin of profit is still wide, even for war times. But no such profit appears for the baker. The wholesale price of the flour which goes into that 10-cent loaf, at the rates quoted here last week, was a little more than 9 cents.

Food pirates may be abroad in the land; but why single out the baker and make him the scapegoat for the sins of the rest? If we are going to have a probe of war prices it should pierce every inflated product. Is there any reason why the grocer, the butcher, the clothier and the shoe merchant should be immune?

A DREAM TOO VAST.

Information received at Washington discloses the fact that one of the primary aims of Germany in the present conflict was the consolidation of an impregnable military and economic unit stretching from the North Sea to the Mediterranean, cutting Europe in half, controlling the Dardanelles, the Aegean and the Baltic and forming the backbone of a Prussian world empire. It has been shown that Germany's so-called peace moves are in reality only war measures and that, if peace should be made now on the promise of Germany to renounce all territory on the east and west, it would only bring about a brief respite, giving the Kaiser's troops an opportunity for rest prior to a further prosecution of hostilities on the part of Prussian militarism in order to give Germany a firmer strangle-hold on Europe. The ambitious William chose war as the only means of establishing this broad pathway to the southeast, essential to the realization of the dream of German world power. It is a dream too vast. It can never come true. "All the world conspires against the spy," and all the free nations of earth are joining forces in opposition to this tyrannical scheme of a vampiric monarchy. Other governments have attempted such schemes before and fallen into obscurity because they were blinded by the very fires of their unreasonable ambitions, weakened by the weight of their responsibilities, drowned in the blood that they shed. "Satan himself fell from heaven by the power of gravitation." His ambition was a weight that dragged him down. He assumed more power than he could command. In making a bid for the adoration of the angels he lost the support of the deity, and he fell. And so must fall all earthly governments and all would-be conquerors of this earth which was created for the free habitation of all men and not for the rulership of kaisers and kings.

THE CROSS ABOVE THE CRESCENT.

For centuries Russia has coveted Constantinople. "At the time of the final crusade," says the author of Savage and Civilized Russia, "there was a prophecy that in the last days the Russians should possess Constantinople.' This belongs to that order of political prophecies whose tendency is to fulfill themselves. From the immeasurable steppes of the north, the womb and hive of nations, there always pressed downwards toward the south a superincumbent mass of humanity. By a natural affinity the northern barbarian always desires the rich plains, the cultivated slopes, the wealthy cities, the expansive seaboards of the south. This has been the course of the Huns, of the Calmucks, of Tamerlane, of Genghis Khan. The Russ obeys the law which first brought the Turk into Europe."

Gibbon asked, toward the close of the eighteenth century, whence were to come the barbarians who should overrun the world as they once had destroyed the Roman Empire. The answer was that in the Far North, the vast laboratory of the nations, the same agencies were at work, the irresistible impulse southward, the movement of vast hardy multitudes from the forest and the steppes. Allowing for the altered conditions of modern life, for the changed development of unaltered instincts, Russia now represents the force and terrors of the old northern hordes. The possession of European Turkey would give her all for which she craves. It would give her the development of her resources, the increase of her population, the establishment of marts and havens.

Above all, as Napoleon said, the possession of Constantinople means the empire of the world. In the later Ottoman history, it was not the Venetian, not the Hungarian, not the Austrian, but it was Russia who was the persistent foe, the embodied threat of Turkey. Twice her army stormed the passes of the Balkans and came within a few marches of Constantinople. Once and again her fleet sailed through the Pillars of Hercules and gave victorious battle to that Ottoman navy which, in its days of insolent strength, had once swept all the Mediterranean shores. But it seemed written in the fates that although Russia might win the frontier lands and even pierce to the heart of the empire, it was not destined to attain the coveted possession. As Montesquieu pointed out, "when ever Russia attained a certain point in the satisfaction of her ambition the western maritime powers would be sure to interfere. A war between Turkey and Russia always passed into the higher regions of the supreme interests of society."

Whether as enemy or as neutral or even as ally, the diplomacy of Great Britain was always potentially exercised against Russian acquisition of Constantinople. Now for the first time in the history of modern Europe Great Britain is openly and honorably committed to aid Russia in acquiring Constantinople, and there is no doubt that if this war shall end with the defeat of Germany the Turk will be compelled to retire from Europe and Russia will possess the Golden Horn.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THE AGE.

The dwellers in Los Angeles live in the best city of the best State in the best nation in all the world. The daily life of an unskilled laborer in this city is more luxurious than that of a monarch of the Middle Ages. There is not a typewriter girl in Los Angeles who would consent to occupy so badly-lighted and ventilated and drained an apartment as the bedroom in Holyrood palace used by Mary Queen of Scots. A street worker knocked down by a jitney would obtain in a Los Angeles hospital better care and better medical skill than could have been commanded by Frederick the Great. When Julius Caesar desired to take a sea bath he was hostled to the Mediterranean in a springless chariot. While the poorest laborer in Los Angeles may, with an hour's earnings, ride in a luxurious and swift car from the center of the city to where he may be rocked in the emerald cradle of the sea. Socrates never saw a movie and Cleopatra never tasted a sand-dab.

The superiority of the American workman is not inherent; it is the result of conditions. Man is as much a fruit of culture as an apple. The uses of adversity are not sweet, Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding. "Ye cannot gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles." The possession of wealth brings to the average man a mental and moral as well as a material gain. The American workingman is a more intelligent and desirable citizen than his European brother, mainly because he is better fed, better housed and better clothed. He lives a better life because he earns higher wages, and he earns higher wages because of the policy of protection. "There is no great loss without some small gain," and one of the gains of the war will be the restoration of protection to the high tariff.

NIL DESPERANDUM.

Those who study the past take the most cheerful views of the present and are the most hopeful prophets of the future. The human race increases and flourishes despite the convulsion of earthquakes, the sweep of tornadoes, the ravages of fire and flood and famine and pestilence.

Said Frances Willard, the temperance and suffrage advocate: "Rulers around whom cluster new forms of civilization pass away; but greater men succeed them. Nations are rooted up; great hopes seem blighted; revolutions rise and rivers run with the blood of patriots; the globe itself seems headed toward the abyss; new patriots are born; higher hopes bloom out like stars; humanity emerges from the dark ages vastly ahead of what it was on entering the cave of gloom, and ever the right comes uppermost."

What though seven million dead and thirty-five million disabled and fifty billions of treasure wasted and debt incurred are the toll which Europe pays for the mad ambitions of William Hohenzollern? There will surely come a day of peace and prosperity. Only those who have not studied history lose heart in great reforms; only those unread in the biography of genius imagine themselves to be original. Except in the realm of material invention there is nothing new under the sun. There is no reform which some great soul has not dreamed of centuries ago; there is not a doctrine that some father of the church did not set forth. The Greek philosophers and early Christian fathers boxed the compass once for all; we may take our choice of what they had left on record. Let us then learn a wise humility, but at the same time a humble wisdom, as we remember that there are two classes of men—one which declares that our times are the worst the world has seen, and another which claims our times as best—and he who claims this last, all revelation, all science, all history witnesses is right and will be right forevermore!

The most normal and the most perfect human being is the one who most thoroughly addresses himself to the activity of his best powers, gives himself most thoroughly to the world around him, flings himself out into the midst of humanity, and is so preoccupied by his own beneficent reaction on the world that he is practically unconscious of a separate existence. Introspection and retrospection were good for the cloister; but the uplook, the outlook and the onlook are alone worthy the modern man.

EXPLOITING THE HOME GUARD.

When that loyal and patriotic contingent of the Santa Monica home guard, made up of the best local business men, professional men and sportsmen, "formed fours" on Tuesday evening under the impression they were about to march for their drill, they were dismayed to find they were being marched to the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club House for a compulsory meeting at which three orators were to hold forth on Y.M.C.A. work and social evil. Three speakers and a bevy of club women occupied the platform and that home guard contingent formed the best part of the audience, to their utter disgust. They were admonished, advised, exhorted and generally instructed by more or less suitable uplifters—and they did not like it a bit.

They felt, very naturally, that they were being exploited for the personal satisfaction of the promoters of the meeting, who wished to stand forth as earnest uplift patriots at the expense of the men who were giving up their precious evenings to learn how to defend the country with efficiency. The very fact that these men were among the first to form a home guard contingent and have been loyally disciplining themselves for the country's service was sufficient evidence that they were not urgently in need of any uplift.

Their attendance at that meeting was not even optional. They were marched there under military orders, without any information beforehand. And anyone of them could have made a better speech than they had to sit through. A very mediocre performance was crowded in, with amateur music, the sort of thing that none of them would have voluntarily given up an evening to hear, the while the personages on the platform beamed amiable self-satisfaction and rectitude. These men were ready and willing to give up an evening to drill after their professional duties during the day, but is there any justification for exploiting them for the benefit of the vanity and self-righteousness of local politicians?

VOICES I HAVE HEARD.

BY TOM FITCH.

No more graphic word picture of the progress and greatness of our country was ever painted than that limned by the oratorical artist, George William Curtis, when he said: "Our population doubled every fifteen years and our wealth every ten years. Every little stream among the hills turned a mill; and the great inland seas, bound by the genius of Clinton to the ocean, became the highway of boundless commerce, the path of unprecedented empire. Our farms were the granary of other lands. Our cotton fields made England rich. Still we chased the whale in the Pacific Ocean and took fish in the tumbling seas of Labrador. We hung our friendly lights along thousands of miles of coast to tempt the trade of every clime; and wherever, on the dim rim of the globe there was a harbor, it was white with American sails. Labor was fully employed; capital was secured; enterprise was pushing through the Alleghanies, grasping and settling the El Dorado of the prairies and still braving the wilderness reached out toward the Rocky Mountains and, reversing the voyages of Columbus, rediscovered the Old World from the New. America was the Benjamin of nations, the best beloved of heaven, and the starry flag of the United States flashed a line of celestial light around the world, the harbinger of freedom, peace and prosperity."

Short and stocky of stature, stern of features and sonorous of voice Stephen A. Douglas looms before my mental vision as he did at Freeport in 1858, where the Milwaukee Free Democrat sent me to report his reply to Lincoln. He said:

"It is idle to tell me that we have territory enough. Our fathers supposed that we had enough when our territory extended to the Mississippi River, but a few years' growth and expansion satisfied them that we needed more, and the Louisiana territory, from the west branch of the Mississippi to the British possessions, was acquired. Then we acquired Oregon, then California and New Mexico. We have enough now for the present, but this is a young and a growing nation. It swarms as often as a hive of bees; and as new swarms are turned out each year, there must be hives in which they can gather and make their honey. Increase and multiply and expand is the law of this nation's existence. You cannot limit this great republic by mere boundary lines, saying: 'Thus far shalt thou go and no further.'"

California has given to the world many orators — Baker, Baldwin, Baines, Booth, Briggs, Curtis, Dinneller, Field, Howard, Igams, Kewen, Starr King, Latham, Pixley, Platt, Scott, Shafter, Swift, Tilford, Tompkins, Wheeler, Winans and others. It has been my fortune to hear them all, but the space allotted to these voices compels me to limit my quotations to one for each letter of the alphabet, and, as chief among the F's I select John B. Felton. Defending belief in an after life from the assaults of infidelity Mr. Felton said:

"In the darkness of the night, from his vessel's prow, Columbus saw waving lights in front of him, which the dawn of morn showed him to come from regions new and undiscovered, but which had been so near him in the night that he had scented the perfume of the trees and flowers. And so I doubt not the eager searcher for truth, the Columbus of science, has often seen in the darkness of this life glimmering lights from the other world—lights which the morning of immortality has revealed to him as coming from regions which had been so near to him in the night of life that even then a little more light, a little more range of organs, would have discovered them. It has often seemed to me that the great scientific man, after death, must have started to find how near he was when in this world to the discovery of the whole secret of being. Often I have imagined such a one saying to himself: 'Why, this great truth was hidden in facts long familiar to me in my studies on earth. This great mechanism, every spring of which I now comprehend, simple as is all the mechanism of God, needed but one more generalization, one more syllogism, one more bold effort of the reason, and I had found it out, even with the dull organs of mortality.'"

In manner of public speech Horace Greeley was childlike and bland, but few men could excel him in the use of bitter and biting adjectives. The Broadway Tabernacle in New York City—long since succeeded by a skyscraper—was an immense auditorium on the ground floor. Here were held the meetings of the Anti-Slavery Society. One night in May about sixty years ago Greeley was delivering an anti-slavery address there in which he commented sarcastically on some recent action of several evangelical conferences in failing to denounce slavery, "and these societies," said he, "all pretend to preach the religion of the Savior of Mankind."

At this juncture Capt. Isaiah Rynders, a Democratic slum leader from the Sixth Ward, sprang to his feet and shouted, "You kin have free speech, Mr. Greeley, to a certain extent; but blankety blank your soul, don't you say anything agin the religion of Jesus Christ."

Instantly there was a turmoil. Rynders had come to the meeting unattended by his gang and he was in danger from Greeley's followers. A posse of abolitionists surrounded Rynders and seized him. "What shall we do with him, Mr. Greeley?" they said. "Put him out!" yelled the crowd. "I fear we cannot get him to the door through this crowd," said the leader of the posse surrounding Rynders. "I am not," said Horace mildly, "under the circumstances, personally solicitous about the safety of Capt. Rynders. But I am anxious to resume my speech. This hall is on the ground floor, and there is a nearby window which, as a means of exit, is equally available with the front door."

And through the window Rynders went.

DIET LESSON OF THE WAR.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

BY J. MADISON TAYLOR, M.D.,

Professor of Applied Therapeutics, Medical Department, Temple University.

EXCEPT for some among us whose dyspepsias, indigestions, misbehaving livers and kindred troubles have succeeded in making them take to heart the duty of sensible diet, the American people as a whole have now the opportunity of acquiring a lesson we have needed all our lives. It may be called, very properly, Diet Lesson No. 2 of the war, and it may be summed up in a phrase—to eat in accordance with the dietary needs of the individual.

In the national necessity for food conservation the responsibility of the citizen is being emphasized as an individual responsibility for economy in the quantity of food consumed and for reduction of food wastes to the minimum. Before we see the end of the conflict we may find ourselves facing a variety of deficiencies, other than mere bulk, in our supplies. It may even come to the pass where certain limitations may be set as to the amounts apportioned to every family. The chances are that any such regulations will apply especially to the staples, including meats, cereals, fats and sugars. It will not do to forget for a moment that provision for our Allies is as essential as provision for ourselves—that the war cannot be carried to successful conclusion unless we refrain from the instinctive selfishness which will consent to the feeding of our Allies only after we shall have reserved ample supplies for our own people. The partnership in which we have engaged is one of life and death; and it is an equal partnership in the essentials of food supply, with national defeat and ruin as the inevitable penalty for selfish reservations of resources by any one of the partners.

From the dietetic standpoint, no food allotment instituted under a plan of universal application can satisfactorily apply to all the individuals it concerns. In every family there is one—and there may be more—who need certain forms of nourishment in volume greater than that required by the others. It is gravely true that one man's meat is another man's poison. What we should bear in mind is that, however extensive may be the demands of our Allies overseas and however adverse seasonal conditions for food production, there is no likelihood that here, at any time, it will be impossible for the average American household to keep close watch on the individual members' needs while adapting the table supplies to the varying opportunities for satisfying them.

Already we are at the stage of limitation in food supply where the ruling prices affect appreciably the market basket—the initial stage of food restriction at which economic laws automatically tend to the conservation of foods by the consumer. Every housewife finds that she must turn and skimp and save in order to provide, within her accustomed appropriation of "table money," mere volume of food. The immediate result noticeable throughout the United States, and especially in the large cities, has been to stimulate endeavors to procure, at no greater outlay of cash, a large amount of nourishment—of those staples and viands which, for the least expenditure, furnish the greatest volume of energy-producing foods. There has been, for example, a very marked increase in the retail price of rice, suddenly and widely employed as a substitute for potatoes because of the extensively-published statement—which, incidentally, is correct—that, dollar for dollar, one gets far more real nourishment in the form of rice than in the form of potatoes.

Now it may be that the majority of consumers do require energy-producing foods in large quantities; but it is also the fact that we have many millions among us whose health, strength, endurance, nerves and mental acumen will gain by a reduction of their intake of calories, the index of energy production in food. Yet nearly all of these people are prone to follow the crowd, not merely because of sweeping popular beliefs in the matter of diet, but because it is an instinctive tendency, in the face of what impresses us as an abnormal restriction upon our food supply, to procure and to eat as much so-called nourishing food as our purse will procure, not as our individual organisms really require.

It is typical of dietetic irresponsibles that those who indulge their appetites or cravings are profoundly convinced that what they feel is legitimate hunger. By reason of this extensive self-deception very wide departures from intelligent food selection prevail at present in households located in all sections of the United States.

From every one of these self-deluded people, and from their families, we are certain in the near future to hear raucous outcries of protest and alarm, coupled with solemn adjurations that the war is starving the American people and that it is our duty to take care of ourselves first. Not the least among the patriotic services to be rendered by those who shall be serving our flag at home will be the discouraging, in their own circles, of pernicious activity on the part of those whose practice it is to make gods of their bellies.

Early Lesson Applied.

[Ladies' Home Journal:] "Ethel," said her mother, "have you been at my preserves again?"

Ethel at once became very busy arranging her doll's hair. "Mother," she replied, "when you were a little girl didn't grandma teach you, same's you have me, not to be 'quisitive?"

The Limit of Jayhawker Patience.

[Topeka Capital:] Joshua Pringle, whose wife went away a year ago last October to stay till Saturday and who has not yet returned, has sued for divorce. Joshua says a woman is always late in keeping an appointment, but if she doesn't show up in a year there's no use waiting for her.

There is a lot to be said on both sides of the proposition to send Colonel Roosevelt with an untrained army to France, and you can take either one. We don't care to settle it.

Senator Borah of Idaho says he will retire at the close of his present term. Possibly Bill is seeing the voters of that State first. He always did have a good eye.

Why not give Luther Burbank a chance? The wizard of Santa Rosa might be able to make an abundance of agricultural products out of nothing. Give Luther room according to his strength.

The new army and navy supply deficiency bill carries an appropriation of $3,390,000,000, and it will be pushed through Congress. That ain't going to be any core to the German apple when we get through.

Gen. Petain has been placed in supreme command of the French armies. Petain is the man who won Verdun against the German hordes, all of which means that the man who is a winner has things handed to him.

It is said that the late Czar misses his gardens in Petrograd. Why not take him over to Santa Catalina and allow him to gaze on the submarine gardens, not from the bottom of a glass-bottomed boat, but from the dark caverns of the deep?

Conservation item: Set fifteen hens on fifteen eggs each at the same date; when they come off give all of the chicks to one hen and let her set the others; in twenty-one days give the chicks to the second hen and discourage the third, which will be very easy. It can be done.

It will not be necessary to put up the golf links or the baseball parks in order to raise additions to the supply of garden products. Just take an automobile spin around this park and see the hundreds of square feet of good ground that bear nothing but tin cans, weeds and bill-boards.

Professional baseball has come to the pass when it is a battle of wits between two high-salaried managers. Patrons of the sport there do not want to see swift-moving conflicts of skill, dexterity and strength. They want home runs, three-base hits, base running and thrilling catches. Why reduce the game to measured cadences or play it by rote?

The myriad of individuals who are careless in addressing their mail is the cause of the establishment in San Francisco of a branch dead-letter office. If every person were to act there would be no necessity for a dead-letter office anywhere. As it is every year millions of letters are misdirected and missent, all due to the carelessness of those who do not read the envelopes.

Senator Hitchcock proposes a "free advertising campaign" for the sale of war bonds. Why free? Any newspaper has but two things to sell—circulation and advertising space. Skillful advertising can market the bonds at 3 per cent. and the saving in interest charges will be $30,000,000 a year. To expect newspapers to give their property for nothing is akin to asking the big gun makers to make munitions of war for nothing. Bonar Law spent $2,500,000 to advertise one bond issue recently and saved the country $50,000,000 a year in interest charges. Jay Cooke swamped the newspapers with advertising when he was selling the Civil War bonds, but he sold the bonds.

A SNEAK OF A MAN.

Somebody poisoned my dog today,
Though he never did anyone ill,
And so he is through with his capers and play
And his waggiety tail is still.
No more shall I walk in the fields with him
Along at my side to jog,
And I don't care if my eyes are dim—
Somebody poisoned my dog!

He was homely, I know, as a dog could be,
And only a mongrel, too;
But I loved the old fellow and he loved me.
As people and dogs may do.
Nothing on earth could disturb his trust
Or his love and his faith betray,
And now he lies here at my feet in the dust—
Somebody poisoned my dog!

He crawled to my side and licked my hand,
And then with a gasp he died.
And—though some people can't understand—
I patted his head—and cried!
For it isn't funny to lose a friend
From off of this earthly cog,
And he was loyal unto the end—
Somebody poisoned my dog!

I wonder how anyone could have done
This poor little fellow harm;
But here he lies—his race is run—
Though his body's still quite warm.
My life is lived on a peaceful plan,
My pace is a quiet jog,
But—I wish I could find the man
Of a man
Who poisoned my little dog.

Union Bill Exposed.

"prohibits the issuance of a restraining order and injunction, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or to a property right of the party making the application. Why should property rights only be protected? Are they any more sacred than the rights relating to one's person? There are personal rights, such as the right to be unmolested or not interfered with in securing employment, even though the applicant does not belong to a union. There is also the right of employers to have their employees free from threats, insults and intimidations of others. Why should the employer be debarred from seeking an injunction to enforce these rights?"

Section 3 of the act would legalize picketing, by forbidding a restraining order against it, even if pickets act "in concert." Mr. Mueller points out that this would give large bodies of persons the right to congregate before a place of business and thereby intimidate patrons and employees, even though no violence was used.

Citing court opinions showing that intimidation is inevitable when picketing is done "in concert," Mr. Mueller adds: "There is a third party to all labor disputes, and that is the innocent public, that is not concerned with the differences of employer and employee. Some consideration should be given to the views of those who suffer by the troubles growing out of the relations of capital and labor," and then he cites a famous Federal Court decision that says:

"There is and can be no such thing as peaceful picketing any more than there can be chaste vulgarity or peaceful mobbing or lawful lynching. When men want to converse or persuade, they do not organize a picket line."

Of the necessity, or lack of it, for such a law as is contemplated, Mr. Mueller asks: "Where have injunctions been issued since the establishment of courts in California and the rights of laboring men been obstructed? A search of the authorities in California shows that but very few injunctions have been granted in labor cases. But four of them have reached the Supreme Court of California, and they were all flagrant cases."

He goes on to show that in three of the cases, picketing, with intimidation, was involved, and the court held against such procedure. In the fourth case, boycotting was the issue and the right to boycott "without violence, threats or intimidation" was upheld by the court.

Furthermore, Mr. Mueller shows that but two injunctions involved in such labor troubles have been issued in the history of the Los Angeles county courts. One was issued in 1906 and the other last summer, both to restrain members of the Longshoremen's Union from acts of violence at the harbor. The earlier of the two was violated by one man, the other by nobody, so far as the record of punishment shows.

NO RIGHT ABRIDGED.

"It will therefore," says Mr. Mueller, "be seen from the foregoing that there was no necessity for the passing of this act by the Legislature. The history of labor disputes in California does not show any so-called 'government by injunction.' It does not indicate that the right of a single person, as a free American citizen, has been interfered with."

The provision of the act requiring jury trial in contempt cases related to labor-dispute injunctions, is criticised as tending to so weaken the power of the judge that he would become a target for ridicule and disrespect.

In forwarding this opinion to the Governor, Mr. Judah comments:

"Our association is composed of nearly 1000 business firms and the foregoing voices our sentiments."

Aftermath.

LAWYER FILES LIBEL CHARGE.

Says an Attempt was Made to Block His Graduation.

Asks Heavy Damages from Chemical Corporation.

Letter Said to Reflect Upon His Moral Character.

Gregory M. Creutz, a younger member of the bar, filed suit against the National Chemical Company and Gideon P. Holman, the company's auditor, yesterday, for $20,000 damages. Back of the action is a claim of deep mortification and humiliation growing out of an alleged attempt to prevent Mr. Creutz's graduation from the University of California as a lawyer. He sets up that his professional career has been injured by an attempt to stop his admission to the bar.

A letter and a petition form the basis of the action. This letter was written by Mr. Holman, the complaint states, to Dean Porter of the university, May 22, 1916. The petition was filed with the Appellate Court June 12, 1916, when Mr. Creutz's application for admission to practice was pending. The allegations are false and malicious, Mr. Creutz says, and the documents were written to humiliate him and force him to pay a bill contracted for chemicals, amounting to $26.07.

After setting up various alleged facts, the letter concludes that the writer is forced to the conclusion that Mr. Creutz "does not possess the moral character which is required or expected of an applicant for admission to practice law."

The letter also contained the statement that when Mr. Creutz was asked to pay the bill, he told the company to go to ——; to go ahead and sue as he needed the practice in the justice's court.

The petition to the Appellate Court stated that Mr. Creutz ought not to be admitted to practice because of the deception and false practice he is alleged to have employed.

BRIDEGROOM DIES.

Old Injury to the Ear Received in a Football Game Proves Fatal to One-time Noted College Athlete as His Honeymoon Trip Ends.

The honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sidney Johnson, No. 2151 West Twenty-first street, came to a sad end day before yesterday by the death of Mr. Johnson, who lacked a few weeks of being 24 years old.

Mr. Johnson was a noted football player. He played with the Belmont school team and for two years at the University of California. In one game he received a violent blow on the ear, that caused an abcess and later what is termed a "cauliflower" ear, but aside from some disfigurement, he appeared to have recovered.

A few months ago he helped organize the Neptune Sea Food Company of San Diego and owned a half interest in it.

He was married to Miss Winifred Howland April 20, last, and the young couple went East on their honeymoon trip. They returned last Tuesday and that night Mr. Johnson began to be troubled with his old injury. He became worse rapidly and succumbed day before yesterday.

He leaves, besides the widow, a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Johnson, and a sister, Eleanor, all of whom reside at No. 2151 West Twenty-first street. Mr. Johnson had many friends in college and elsewhere and was a member of Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

The funeral will be conducted at the family residence today.

BUSCH HEIRS WAIT.

California Estate of Late Wealthy Brewer Valued at Over Million. Petition for Distribution to Various Heirs Submitted to Probate Court.

The California property of the late Adolphus Busch, millionaire brewer of St. Louis, is apppraised at $1,184,676.78. This includes the Pasadena residence, the Busch gardens, a ranch in Orange county and other holdings.

Yesterday the final account and distribution of the California property was filed in the Probate Court. Judge Rives took under submission the question of ordering the distribution in accordance with the petition.

The largest beneficaries under the will are the widow, Lily Busch and Augustus A. Busch, a son, of St. Louis. Mrs. Busch will receive as her share $125,350.43. The inheritance tax on this will be $2424.01. The son's share will be $477,954.43 and the inheritance tax $19,547.72.

BUSY WITH SCHOOL CAMPAIGN.

Headquarters of Independent Ticket are in Stimson Building.

Campaign headquarters of the independent ticket for the Board of Education are at 509 Stimson Building, and meetings are held there daily to plan precinct work before the final election on June 5.

The headquarters of the ticket, which is composed of J. H. Bean, Mrs. Cora B. Taylor, Charles J. McCormick, Melville Dozier, E. E. Cates, Dr. Alfred Downs and C. C. Pierce, are not in the Builders' Exchange, and have no connection with the rooms occupied by the latter, but have private quarters rented from the Stimson Building.

The independent ticket has not been indorsed by the Builders' Exchange, although Mr. Bean, a candidate for re-election after serving six years, is president of that body.

ACCUSED BY A GIRL.

Vernie Pontious was arrested yesterday on a statutory charge preferred by Miss Letha Householder, 17 years old. The young man was arraigned before Justice Hanby yesterday and his preliminary examination set for today. His bail is fixed at $2500.

MORE GOOD TRADE NEWS SPEEDS UP WALL STREET.

Industrials, Notably Steel and Iron Issues, Rule Active, but Relatively Restricted Market — Extensive Short Covering and Growing Public Participation in Trading are Accelerating Factors—Bonds Firm.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Industrials, notably the steel and iron stocks, ruled today active but relatively restricted market to an extraordinary degree. Inquiry for those issues seemed to be prompted by additional trade advices of a highly favorable tenor. Extensive short covering and growing public participation were accelerating factors.

United States Steel occupied its customary commanding position and contributed almost 23 per cent. to the total of 950,900 shares. At its extreme rise of 3½ points, to 125¾, the stock came within 4 points of its record, made in the latter part of 1916.

Visible improvement was manifested by utilities, all the local tractions rallying 2½ to 2¾ points from recent levels, while Ohio Gas, a foremost stock of its class, made a gross gain of 4¾ points at 135¾.

Rails were intermittently prominent but failed to register more than moderate gains, despite cheerful crop news and reports of increased western tonnage.

Automobile stocks and subsidiaries were conspicuous for their consistent heaviness, some of that group selling under recent low levels, but making partial recoveries in the renewed strength of the final dealings.

Bonds were firm, a condition to which an enlarged inquiry for internationals contributed appreciably. Total sales, par value, $3,075,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call, but the coupon 4s fell ¾ per cent on a sale.

GERMANS WILL BE ADMITTED.

Expect Federal Judge to Make Momentous Decision.

Citizenship Classification for "Alien Enemies."

Those Who Filed Declaration Alone not to Get In.

United States District Judge Trippet is expected to decide at the session of the naturalization court Friday that all alien enemies who filed petitions to become American citizens previous to April 6, the date of the proclamation of President Wilson declaring this country to be in a state of war with Germany, are entitled to have naturalization papers issued to them.

The court, it is stated, reached the conclusion that they are so entitled following the decision of a United State Circuit Court of Appeals in one of the New York districts, where a similar question was fought out. This view of the case will not affect at this time those alien enemies who filed declarations of intention to become citizens before the Executive proclamation was issued, but only those who filed the regular petitions praying that they may be admitted.

There are about fifty applicants who will be affected by the ruling. At the last session of the naturalization court their cases were indefinitely postponed.

The naturalization class to be heard Friday will break all records in the number of applications to be disposed of. There are 206 on the calendar, and this does not include the two witnesses that must appear in behalf of every applicant. It is understood that Judge Trippet will return in time to hear the cases from Carson City, where he is holding court for Judge Edward Farrington. The entire day will be occupied in the examination of witnesses and principals.

Adjudicated.

WIDOW WINS FIGHT.

Land Was Misrepresented, Supreme Court Finds, in Sustaining Decision of Lower Court in Case Involving Money Swallowed Up.

Holding that the plaintiff's widow had been imposed on, the Supreme Court handed down a decision yesterday affirming the judgment of the Los Angeles Superior Court in the case of A. I. Tracey versus W. M. Smith and D. A. Misener. The case concerned a contract to purchase a five-acre tract of land, planted to one-year-old citrus trees.

It was alleged, and the court found, that the defendants had fraudulently represented the land as being in a frostless belt, and that water for irrigation purposes was furnished by the Orchard Dale Water Company. The return of the $1500 paid down, which was an inheritance from a deceased brother, was demanded.

In the case of John A. Payne against Rose M. Cunningham, administratrix of the estate of C. B. Cunningham, the Supreme Court reversed the judgment of the lower court in favor of Payne for $4000, alleged to be due on the ground that he had failed to complete alterations on a building. The Supreme Court finds for the defendant, on her cross-complaint, in $740 in one cause of action, and $421.47 on a second cause of action.

BUDGET TASK WORRIES.

Supervisors Besieged by Requests for Generous Increases in the Appropriations for County Charities, Especially Outdoor Relief.

In preparing the budget for the next fiscal year, the Board of Supervisors is being met with requests for substantial increases, especially for the county charities.

Yesterday the State Council of Defense and the State department of charities and corrections filed an appeal with the board asking for better appropriations for charity work.

In order to prevent further demoralization of the outdoor relief department, Supt. N. R. Martin asked that the workers be placed on full time again. Four of the best assistants, by the system of economy due to the financial deficit, have gone elsewhere to find employment.

At the Bar.

SAVED FROM ARREST.

Officials of Big Baking Companies Accused of Trust Methods will Voluntarily Appear Today in Court for Arraignment. Stiff Fight Coming.

Officials of the baking companies indicted by the county grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to restrict competition in trade, will be present in Superior Judge McCormick's court this afternoon at 2 o'clock for arraignment. The date for trial will then be set.

At a conference between legal representatives of the bakeries and agents of the District Attorney's office agreement was reached not to arrest the defendants on bench warrants as each one promised to be present.

Attorneys for the defense said yesterday an effort to attack the validity of the indictment would be made in the District Court of Appeal.

HIT AT MONOPOLY.

Establishment of slaughter-houses in the annexed districts of Los Angeles was recommended yesterday by the City Council, which asked the voters to vote "yes" on the proposed amendment of the present restrictive ordinance. The stand of the Council is based on the possibility that restriction will mean a monopoly of the business by concerns controlling available property in the present abattoir district.

SAFETY FIRST IS MOTTO NOW.

Supervisor Declines to Approve a Small Payment Without Legal Advice.

A lease for a tabulating machine for the County Auditor's office, representing an expenditure of $77.50, was authorized by four members of the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Norton declined to vote until he had received a written opinion from the County Counsel. He declared he would not commit himself on any more public business without legal advice. In other words, his motto will be: "Be sure you're right before you go ahead."

Field Exercises.

STUDENT SOLDIERS TO GO INTO CAMP.

UNIVERSITY BATTALION WILD HAVE WEEK'S OUTING.

Tents are to be Pitched in Some Mountain Canyon and All the Motions of War will be Gone Through, Beginning with Next Saturday.

The student soldiers of the University of Southern California are to have a week's encampment in the San Bernardino Mountains, by way of finishing off their term's drilling in real military style.

Under command of Capt. James Irvine and Capt. Ralph la Porte, both of the University of Southern California faculty, the members of the student battalion will leave next Saturday for the mountains.

Full equipment of tents, bedding and cooking apparatus has been secured, and rifles are being arranged for. The regular routine of a military camp will be undergone, including patrol, guard and sentry work, digging and manning trenches, rifle practice and other features.

Prof. La Porte has extended an invitation to men from other universities to join the camp through payment of a small fee. The camp is to be supported entirely by the university. While the site is not yet finally selected, it will be either near the city's summer camp at Seeley Flats, or in some near-by canyon.

Fatality.

CAR KILLS MOTORIST.

Realty Man of Laurel Canyon Meets Death on a Grade Crossing as Brakes, Locked Fifty Feet from Tracks, Fail to Stop His Machine.

Edward Du Bose, realty man, with offices at No. 335 South Hill street and a home in Laurel Canyon, was killed yesterday morning when his automobile was struck by an outbound Pacific Electric car at Sadler Station, near Van Nuys. The Coroner will conduct an inquest at the mortuary of W. A. Brown today.

Mr. Du Bose was on his way to his ranch at Mint Canyon when the accident occurred. From signs upon the roadway, it was judged yesterday that he had locked his brakes fifty feet before he struck the tracks.

The trolley car was in charge of Motorman Cosner and Conductor King.

Mr. Du Bose leaves a widow, Mrs. Edward Du Bose of Laurel Canyon. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the W. A. Brown mortuary. Rev. C. C. Selecman will officiate. The body will be shipped to Hemet.

Greetings.

OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY.

Neat Sum is Realized for Home Garden Movement at Inaugural of Quinn's Rialto, with "The Garden of Allah" as Initial Attraction.

With the entire proceeds going into the treasury of the Home Garden Committee, the new Rialto Theater was formally opened last night, with J. A. Quinn at the helm.

A large audience was on hand to witness the initial presentation of Selig's multiple-reel masterpiece, "The Garden of Allah," based on Robert Hichens's noteworthy novel, and starring Helen Ware and Thomas Santschi. Many floral offerings lined the lobby. The Davis sisters clad in "Peggy Jean" overalls trumpeted the martial airs as the spotlight was turned on the Rialto's unusual novelty, "the flag of jewels." This was an American pennant made entirely of the same kind of stones that made famous the Tower of Jewels at the San Francisco exposition. Patricia O'Connor, Arthur Brick and other notable vocalists contributed their services, while the Quinn Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Joseph Carl Briel, played numerous selections, in addition to the formal score of "The Garden of Allah." To carry out the oriental atmosphere, the "usherettes" were attired in harem costumes of baggy bloomers and brilliant beads.

The Home Garden Committee announced last night that a substantial sum had been raised from the benefit, but at that time its members were unable to estimate the entire gross receipts.

OVERLOOKED HIM?

County Employee who Enlisted Writes that he Hasn't Got Pay.

An ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors provided that employees enlisting should receive their salaries or at least a portion of it while they are serving the government. Yesterday the board received a letter from Carl L. May, a deputy county probation officer, now at Mare Island, stating that his government pay is $15 a month, and that as he had not received his salary from the county, he does not know how his wife is going to support herself, or pay his life insurance premiums.

WANT MONEY FOR DOGS.

The Humane Animal Commission asked the City Council yesterday for an appropriation of $440. This sum is to be used in providing license tags for dogs.

Forecast.

CONTROL BOARD YET IN DOUBT.

City may Name its Two Power Arbiters Today.

Engineers Mentioned may not Consent to Serve.

Strange Sidelight Thrown on Solicitors' Tactics.

Two men are prominently mentioned for places on the advisory committee that is to control power distribution under the temporary contract between the city and the Southern California Edison and Pacific Light and Power corporations. The Board of Public Service Commissioners will perhaps appoint today the two men to represent the municipality on the board. Mentioned for the appointments are Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood and Consulting Engineer W. F. Durand of Stanford University. Other names have also been heard, however, and it is quite possible that one or the other of the two engineers most prominently mentioned will not be willing to serve.

The two electric companies are each to appoint a man, and the fifth member of the committee is to be chosen by the first four.

In furtherance of the campaign for the proposed $2,000,000 bond issue, Mayor Woodman will this morning entertain representatives from all the civic organizations. He will endeavor to show there is absolute necessity of continuing the work on the municipal electric generation plant at this time.

An illuminating side light on the methods that solicitors for the power department of the Board of Public Service Commissioners are using to secure business for the city was thrown yesterday when a contract for lighting the home of Peter Weidner, father of Perry W. Weidner, of No. 1078 West Sixth street, was repudiated by Perry Weidner. The contract was signed by the house maid during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Weidner, who were in the East with their son.

The solicitor for the city persuaded the house maid to sign Peter Weidner's name. The contract is a peculiar document, in that it compels the signer to use "city light and power in any house in which he may reside." This proved such a puzzling arrangement that when Mr. Weidner returned he showed his son the document which the house maid had signed, and in a stiff letter to the city officials, Perry Weidner told them to cancel the contract.

"My father is 80 years old, and my mother is a few years younger," said Perry Weidner yesterday. "While I am not averse to telling the facts in this case, I am loath to get my parents into any tangle, as I do not intend to let those city solicitors go out and bother father and mother as I know they will do unless they understand that I mean business.

"While I am opposed to municipal ownership, I have no objection to city solicitors using safe and sane methods, but when they come the strongarm act and secure a contract that would bind us to do something we positively do not intend to perform, it is time for me to take a hand. No, I do not intend to purchase light or power from the city."

Land Valued at Nearly Million Dollars Involved by Withdrawal Action of Government. Twentieth Suit of Kind Now Pending Here.

Land alleged to be worth $800,000 is involved by a "withdrawal" suit filed by the government yesterday in the local United States District Court. This makes the twentieth action of the kind now pending in the Federal Court, all covering land located in Kern county and claimed to have been withdrawn from all forms of entry under the proclamation of President Taft, September 27, 1909. The land involved by the action filed yesterday is described as the northwest and northeast quarters of section No. 18, township 32, south, range 24, east.

The defendants in the cases filed yesterday are the Standard Oil Company, E. E. Jones, John and James Connelly, G. E. and Effie M. Squires, A. C. Ruschaupt, A. D. Smith and Matthew S. Klatz.

It is alleged in the bill that the land is oil bearing; that under the Executive proclamation referred to, it is not subject to exploitation for oil or anything else; that the defendants went on the land subsequent to the orders of President Taft, and that the discovery of oil was since the date of the proclamation.

The prayer of the complaint is that the court find that the land is the property of the government; that the defendants be restrained from any further prospecting or operating for oil; that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the machinery, rigging, pipes, etc., on the ground, and that an accounting be had of the sales of oil taken from the land in question.

WEST COAST PORTS.

Steamer to Leave Here with Big Cargo of Los Angeles-made Goods

With over 300 tons of Los Angeles-made products aboard, the steamer George W. Elder of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will leave Wednesday for Mexican and Central American ports. The consignment from here will include ready-to-wear garments, windmills, drugs and chemicals and machinery. According to Agent McLaurin of the company, the Pacific Mail is planning to have two or three sailings a month from this port for the West Coast.

FOR RED CROSS NURSES.

Realizing the need of linguistic ability on the part of nurses detailed to European service, Lionel Mathews, a teacher of languages, yesterday offered to give free French and German lessons to such persons as the Los Angeles chapter of the Red Cross may designate. "I usually find five weeks sufficient for the ordinary person to obtain a working knowledge of either language," said Mr. Mathews.

GOVERNMENT TO PAY STUDENT OFFICERS.

COUNCIL GETS WORD FROM H. Z. OSBORNE.

Men in Training Camp will Receive Fair Recompense in Addition to Sustenance, Uniforms, Transportation and Other Necessities Through Washington.

As a result of word received by the City Council yesterday, the local ordinance paying officer students in training at the Presidio may soon be revoked. Congressman Osborne wired the local authorities that the measure to pay these men not to exceed $100 a month has been confirmed at Washington. The city recently adopted an ordinance to this same effect owing to the fact that the men were not originally supposed to receive government remuneration until after they had passed examinations following their three months training course.

In addition to the salaries, the men are to receive their transportation; required uniforms, camp subsistance and other necessaries until they have completed their studies and are accepted. The matter of repealing the local ordinance as soon as the government measure goes into effect will be passed on by the Finance Committee before it is finally taken up by the entire Council.

TO LEAVE TOWN.
ONLY IN GREAT NEED.

The Fire Commission reported to the City Council that local fire apparatus is to leave the city only in greatest need and when there is danger of flames spreading to within the corporate limits. This report was made as result of an inquiry from a property owner outside the corporation who wanted to know whether he could depend on the fire department protecting his home, particularly if he was willing to install fire plugs in the vicinity.

WIFE LOSER OF LOST LOVE SUIT.

HUSBAND KISSED ANOTHER; SHE KISSED HIM, 'TIS SAID.

But Salutations do not Appear to Have been Secret and He Says Married Life has been Round of Quarrels—Style of Action was Tharp Versus Good.

Mrs. Zula M. Good emerged smiling from Judge Taft's court yesterday. She had won a victory. Mrs. Dora M. Tharp, wife of Omar Tharp, a music teacher, did not smile, for she had lost a legal battle.

The cause of it all was the alleged liking of Mr. Tharp for Mrs. Good. Mrs. Tharp testified that her husband kissed Mrs. Good. This episode was supposed to have occurred at the rabbit hutch. Another witness testified she saw Mrs. Good kiss Mr. Tharp at his studio. But there was nothing secret in this salutation, it seemed. There was also the incident of the pet rabbit which had the run of the studio, and was alleged to have brought on a quarrel between Mrs. Tharp and her husband.

Mr. Tharp in rebuttal declared that their married life was a continuous round of quarrels. He alleged that his wife, to his knowledge, had had 500 fits of hysteria. Mrs. Tharp asked $75,000 damages for the loss of affection of her husband, but Judge Taft gave judgment for Mrs. Good.

COURT GRIST.
WHAT'S DOING AND WHERE.

HE IS OBDURATE. John Lawson is in the County Jail for contempt of court. He was cited for alleged failure to pay Christinia Lawson, who obtained a divorce from him last July, and disobeying an order to keep away from her. She alleged he had entered her home several times since and threatened her. He told Judge Taft yesterday he never would obey the order of the court. The court thinks he will listen to reason by next Thursday.

LIENS UNAFFECTED.

Judge York Holds Land Mortgages Not Affected by Torrens Law.

In upholding the constitutionality of the Torrens Land Act, Judge York yesterday ruled that the latter does not diminish the value of land securities.

The decision was reached in the demurrer, filed by M. L. Williams of Pasadena, who holds a mortgage of $18,000 on land owned by Charles A. Billings at Arcadia. Attorney W. J. Morin, acting for Mr. Williams, declared that if the land was registered under the Torrens system the value of the mortgage would be diminished. The court allowed Attorney Morin ten days in which to file an amended demurrer.

WILL LOSE LICENSES.

Mayor Declares He will Rid City of Fake Massage and Bath Parlors.

When the Police Commission meets today, the matter of revocation of a number of massage and bath parlor licenses will probably be taken up. Mayor Woodman declared yesterday that the city must be rid of the places that have been run for purposes other than for which they are intended.

ON SPECIAL INQUIRY.

Special Agent Walsh of the United States Treasury Department returned to this city yesterday after spending three weeks in a special inquiry relating to the case of J. J. Scott, former Collector of Internal Revenue in the San Francisco district, who is under indictment of the Federal Court. It is alleged that the discoveries of Capt. Walsh were most important, and that when the trial of Scott comes on he will be one of the leading government witnesses.

GIVES RIGHT OF WAY.

Griffith J. Griffith yesterday presented the city with a deed to certain land to be used as a right of way for the opening of Brand boulevard, north of Woodstock avenue. The property was thankfully accepted by the City Council.

GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES

A Clinic in TIRE Anatomy

STRIPPING back the thick, tough Black Safety Tread of this Goodrich Silvertown Cord Tire, we here lay its rubberized, cable-cord body. Note the size of the cable-cord, cross-wrapped into two layers, and but two. Under the hide there are but three tires:

FABRIC, swathed in five to seven plies;

THREAD WEB, a five to seven ply MASS OF STRINGS;

CABLE-CORD, the unique two-ply, rubber saturated, patent-protected tire body, found ONLY in Silvertown, the original cord tire.

Tires wear out inside, not outside. They are burned out by fever, rubbed up between the plies of the tire.

As every extra ply in a tire means extra tire fever, extra wearing out, Silvertowns with but two plies outlive many-ply tires with their multiplied heat.

Though they cost more than ordinary tires, you can not afford to deny yourself their smarter appearance, smoother riding comfort and gasoline saving economy. Order through your dealer.

Wilson will Lend to Berlin.

Only Stipulation is that the Kaiser's Subjects Establish a Democracy.

"No Special Grievance Against Germany," Explained by the President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DENVER, May 22.—"The United States stands ready to lend as much money to Germany as she lent to Russia, whenever Germany is willing to be reasonable, quit fighting and attempts to establish a democracy such as Russia is trying to establish."

When Secretary McAdoo said these words at the banquet tendered him by the bankers of Denver at the Country Club tonight, 250 lusty Americans applauded the statement.

"We have nothing against the German people," the Secretary continued, "and although in their misguided state of mind they might at this time resent our interference, our only object is to help the cause of the Central Powers to do the thing we have done for them in America. That is, create a real democracy with peace and brotherhood as the outcome."

Fervid words, emphasized by blows on the speaker's table, the hand controls the money of the greatest republic, said the secretary, that this war was worth all it
